(b) A temporary appointment may be made by the chairperson of the Committee on Committees for only one day when requested by a chairperson of a standing committee which lacks a quorum. Executive sessions shall be open to members of the news media who may report on action taken and on all discussions in executive session.

(b) All other meetings of a committee shall be public unless the committee, by majority vote of all of its members, determines that a meeting should not be open to the public, including members of the news media, in a particular instance, due to rare and extraordinary circumstances. The meeting shall be reconvened in open session before any formal action may be taken.

Sec. 15. Report of Bill to Legislature. (c) No bill shall be reported by the committee to be placed on General File unless the amendments, if any, are approved as to form and draftsmanship by the bill drafter.

Sec. 16. Indefinitely Postponed Bills. If the committee report on a bill be to postpone indefinitely, the bill shall stand indefinitely postponed; except that such bill may be placed on General File or referred back to the committee by a three-fifths vote of the elected members upon motion made within three legislative days after the committee makes its report to the Legislature, or by a two-thirds vote of the elected members upon motion made more than three legislative days after such committee report. Not more than one bill shall be raised from committee on any one motion. A motion to raise cannot be amended to include any other bill or subject matter. A motion to raise must be disposed of by the Legislature within five legislative days after the motion is available for consideration or it shall be deemed defeated.

Sec. 17. Committee Statement. (a) The chairperson of each committee with the assistance of the legislative staff shall, when reporting a bill, submit with such bill a committee statement which shall contain, but need not be limited to, the following information:

Sec. 18. Request from Committee, Bills Held. (a) Except for the general appropriation bills necessary for the support of the state government for the biennium, the Legislature may, by vote of a majority of the elected members, request a status report from any committee at any time after said committee shall have been in possession of a bill or resolution for twenty legislative days.

(b) Any senator may move that a bill be placed on General File twenty calendar days or more after the committee hearing, if the committee has not taken final action on the bill, and by a vote of a majority of the elected members, said bill shall be placed on General File. If at the expiration of eight calendar days from the date final action was taken the chairperson has not reported the bill, any senator may file with the Speaker a motion that the chairperson be compelled to submit a report. After determining that final action on the bill has been taken at least eight calendar days prior to the date the motion was submitted, the Speaker shall accept the motion and compel the chairperson to file the committee's report on the matter.

(c) Any time any member attempts to take a bill from committee to be placed on General File, the bill shall stand indefinitely postponed and shall not be subject to reconsideration if the motion fails to receive a majority vote of the members elected to the Legislature. The introducer bill must concur with any motion offered under this rule.

Sec. 19. Subpoena Procedure. It is within the inherent power of any legislative committee to gather information pursuant to its regular functions, and to conduct investigations of matters within its subject-matter jurisdiction.

A committee's power of subpoena should not be exercised unless the committee has determined that no other method of securing the desired information would be successful or practicable, and that the matter is of primary importance to the welfare of the State of Nebraska.

A committee of the Legislature conducting an investigation and gathering information, whether pursuant to Legislative direction or pursuant to its regular functions of oversight and bill preparation, shall observe the following procedures in addition to regular committee procedures whenever subpoenas are issued:

RULE 3

(A) Issuance of Subpoenas.

(i) A committee may by majority vote of all of its members, taken at a meeting properly called, issue a subpoena requiring a person to appear before the committee and be examined in reference to any matter within the scope of the inquiry or investigation being conducted by the committee, but only when the committee has received prior approval by a majority vote of the executive board to issue subpoenas in connection with the specific inquiry or investigation in question.

(ii) The committee may in the same manner issue a subpoena or subpoena duces tecum requiring any person to appear before the committee and bring with him or her any books, papers, or other documents pertinent thereto.

(iii) While the Legislature is in session, a committee deciding to issue subpoenas must promptly report each issuance to the Legislature. A record shall be made in the Journal reflecting the date the subpoena was issued, to whom it was issued, for what purpose it was issued, and the date on which testimony or production of documents is to take place. Under extraordinary circumstances the identity of the person subpoenaed may be withheld from publication if necessary to protect the safety of an individual or the confidentiality of the matters to be heard.

(iv) A person subpoenaed to attend a hearing of a committee shall receive the same fees and allowances as a person subpoenaed to give testimony in an action pending in a court of record.

(B) Notice to Witnesses.

(i) Service of a subpoena requiring the attendance of a person at a hearing of a committee shall be made in the manner provided by law for the service of subpoenaed in civil actions at least seven days prior to the date of the hearing unless a shorter period of time is authorized by majority vote of all of the members of the committee in a particular instance when, in their opinion, the giving of seven days notice is not practicable; but if a shorter period of time is authorized, the person subpoenaed shall be given reasonable notice of the hearing, consistent with the particular circumstances involved.

(ii) Any person who is served with a subpoena to attend a hearing of a committee shall also be served with a copy of the act defining the purpose of the committee, a copy of the rules under which the committee functions, a general statement informing him or her of the subject matter of the committee's investigation or inquiry and a notice that he or she may be accompanied at the hearing by counsel of his or her own choosing.

(C) Conduct of the Hearing.

(i) No committee which has issued a subpoena directing a witness to appear at a hearing shall question the witness unless a quorum is present throughout the questioning.

(ii) The hearing shall be public unless the committee, by majority vote of all of its members, determines that a hearing should not be open to the public in a particular instance, due to rare and extraordinary circumstances consistent with Legislative Rule 3, section 14(b) regarding closed meetings.

(iii) The chairperson of the committee shall preside at all hearings and shall conduct the examination of witnesses himself or herself or supervise the examination by other members of the committee. The committee may by majority vote of all its members authorize the questioning of a witness by the committee's counsel or by special counsel.

(D) Right to Counsel and Submission of Questions.

(i) Every witness at the hearing may be accompanied by counsel of his or her own choosing, who may advise the witness of his or her rights, subject to reasonable limitations which the committee may prescribe to prevent obstruction of or interference with the orderly conduct of the hearing.

(ii) Any witness at the hearing, or a witness' counsel, may submit to the committee proposed questions to be asked of the witness or any other witness relevant to the matters upon which there has been any questioning or submission of evidence, and the committee shall ask such of the questions as it deems appropriate and relevant to the subject matter of the hearing.

(E) Testimony.

(i) The committee shall cause a verbatim record to be made of all proceedings in testimony or other evidence is demanded or offered, which record shall include rulings of the chair, questions of the committee and its counsel, the testimony or responses of witnesses, sworn written statements submitted to the committee and read into the record, and such other matters as the committee or its chair may direct.

(ii) All testimony given or offered at the hearing shall be under oath or affirmation if the witness has been subpoenaed, and in other cases if a majority of the committee members present at the hearing so decide.

(iii) The presiding member at the hearing may direct a witness to answer any relevant question or furnish any relevant book, paper or other document, the production of which has been required by subpoena duces tecum. Unless the direction is overruled by a majority vote of the committee members present, disobedience shall constitute a contempt.

(iv) A witness at the hearing or his or her counsel, with the consent of a majority of the committee's members present at the hearing, may file with the committee for incorporation into the record of the hearing sworn written statements relevant to the purpose, subject matter and scope of the committee's investigation or inquiry.

(v) Testimony and other evidence given or offered at a hearing closed to the public shall not be made public unless authorized by majority vote of all of the members of the committee, which authorization shall also specify the form and manner in which the testimony or other evidence may be released.

(vi) A witness at a closed hearing, upon request and at his or her own expense, shall be furnished a transcript of his or her testimony at the hearing.

(F) Interested Persons.

(i) Any person whose name is mentioned or who is otherwise identified during the hearing and who, in the opinion of the committee, may be adversely affected thereby, may, upon his or her request or upon the request of any member of the committee, appear personally before the committee and testify in his or her own behalf, or, with the committee's consent, may file a sworn written statement of facts or other documentary evidence for incorporation into the record thereof.

(ii) Upon the consent of a majority of its members a committee may invite any other person to appear at a hearing or submit a sworn written statement of facts or other documentary evidence for incorporation into the record thereof. No invitation to appear, and no request to appear, appearance, or submission of evidence shall limit in any way the committee's power of subpoena.

(iii) Any person who appears before a committee pursuant to this section shall have all the rights, privileges and responsibilities of a witness provided to all other witnesses.

(G) Contempt.

A person shall be in contempt if he or she:

(i) Fails or refuses to appear in compliance with a subpoena or, having appeared, fails or refuses to testify under oath or affirmation.

(ii) Fails or refuses to answer any relevant question or fails or refuses to furnish any relevant book, paper or other document subpoenaed by or on behalf of a committee, or

(iii) Commits any other act or offense against a committee which, if committed against the Legislature would constitute a contempt.

The chairperson of a committee may apply to the Legislature or, during the interim, to the District Court of any county to compel obedience by proceedings for contempt.

(H) Penalties.

(i) A person guilty of contempt under the provision of these rules shall be subject to punishment pursuant to R.R.S. 50-105 and 50-106 during the session, or to R.R.S. 50-407 when the Legislature is not in session.

(ii) If a committee fails in any material respect to comply with the requirements of these rules, any person subject to a subpoena or a subpoena duces tecum who is injured by such failure shall be relieved of any requirement to attend the hearing for which the subpoena was issued or, if present, to testify or produce evidence therein; and such failure shall be a complete defense in any proceeding against such person for contempt or other punishment.

(iii) Any member or employee of the Legislature other than the witness concerned or his or her counsel who knowingly violates subsections of these rules concerning the publication of testimony taken at a closed hearing shall be in contempt of the Legislature or, if a member of the Legislature, shall be subject to sanction or suspension according to the statutes governing the Legislature. The speaker on his or her own motion or on the application of any person claiming to have been injured or prejudiced by an unauthorized disclosure may institute proceedings for the determination of the issue and for the imposition of penalties provided herein. Nothing in this subsection shall limit any power which the Legislature may have to discipline a member or employee or to impose a penalty in the absence of action by a prosecuting officer or court.

(I) Limitation of Rules.

Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to limit or prohibit the acquisition of evidence or information by any committee by any lawful means not provided for herein.

No bills or major amendments shall be introduced or considered unless the same has been approved as to form and draftsmanship by the bill drafter. In order to shorten the length of sections, the bill drafter shall, in the drafting of new sections, make each paragraph a separate section except when to do so would be contrary to sound bill drafting practice. The bill drafter shall make available a continuing compilation of sections to which amendments are proposed so as to reduce unnecessary duplication of bills. This section index of bills drafted shall be available to all senators, newly elected senators, and other persons entitled to have bills drafted. After January 1 of each year no bill shall be drafted by the bill drafter unless requested or authorized by a member of the Legislature.

(b) A bill may be introduced at the request of the Governor at any time. A standing committee or special committee may introduce a bill for any purpose including at the request of another senator provided said bill receives the endorsement of a majority of the committee members, whose names shall be on the bill. After the tenth legislative day, any motion by a standing committee or a special committee to introduce a bill must receive a vote of three-fifths of the elected members of the Legislature for such bill to be introduced.

(c) A copy of intent of a bill recommended for introduction by a committee must be placed on each member's desk before such introduction of bill is voted upon.

(d) Individual members shall not be limited as to bill introduction. Each committee shall be limited to 8 bills each session. (e) For each bill introduced, following the name of the introducer and the district number, there shall appear the following language: "This bill introduced on behalf of ________". The blank space shall be completed by adding the name of the special interest group, if any, encouraging the legislation; if no special interest group was responsible for the legislation, then the Senator shall insert his or her own name.

Sec. 6. Scheduling of Bills, Priority Bills. (a) Each senator may designate one bill as a priority bill. Such priority bill need not be the designator's bill, but the principal introducer must concur with the designation as a priority bill and with the withdrawal of the designation once made.

(b) Each standing committee chairperson may designate two of the committee's bills as priority bills.

(c) The Speaker may designate any additional number of priority bills.

(d) Priority bill designations may be made at any time prior to the annual designation deadline which shall be set each year by the Speaker. The designation deadline shall be prior to the 45th legislative day in the ninety day session and prior to the 30th legislative day in the sixty day session.

(f) All committees shall schedule priority bills for public hearing ahead of all unscheduled, nonpriority bills unless the person or committee making the priority designation shall otherwise agree.

(g) All bills not designated as priority bills shall be heard on general file in the order in which they are reported to the floor by the committees, unless the introducer of the bill and the Speaker agree to delay the hearing of a particular bill. This provision shall not be construed to prevent the Speaker from placing bills reported out of committee with two or less dissenting votes on a Consent Calendar. Any bill placed on Consent Calendar shall be removed at the written request of three or more senators.

(h) Priority bills shall generally be considered ahead of all other bills at each stage of debate, except that priority bills requiring the expenditure of appropriated funds may be held on final reading until such time as the annual appropriations bills have been passed. The Speaker shall structure the agenda of the Legislature so that all priority bills are given an opportunity to be voted upon for final passage prior to the end of the annual session.

(i) No priority bill designated under this rule shall have priority over appropriations bills.

Sec. 7. Fiscal Analyst. (a) A copy of every bill introduced shall be transmitted by the Clerk to the Legislative Fiscal Analyst. The Legislative Fiscal Analyst shall review each bill and make an estimate of the anticipated change in state, county, or municipal expenditures or revenue under the provisions of the bill. The Legislative Fiscal Analyst shall prepare a statement to be known as a fiscal note to be attached to each bill prior to its public hearing by a committee, or its first consideration on General File if the bill is referred directly to General File. The fiscal note shall set forth the fiscal impact of the bill and the governmental subdivision affected by the fiscal impact as determined by the Legislative Fiscal Analyst. No bill which has a fiscal impact of more than five thousand dollars shall be heard by a committee or considered on General File unless the fiscal note is attached.

(b) In determining the fiscal impact of any bill, the Legislative Fiscal Analyst shall request the appropriate department or other entity of state government or subdivision thereof, or appropriate association which will be affected by the bill to prepare the fiscal note within five calendar days.

(c) The Legislative Fiscal Analyst shall review the fiscal note so prepared and shall also request a review of such fiscal note by the Budget Division of the Department of Administrative Services. The statement by the Budget Division of the Department of Administrative Services shall be attached to and become a part of the fiscal note. The Legislative Fiscal Analyst shall include in the fiscal note any exceptions to the conclusions of the department or other entity and of the Budget Division of the Department of Administrative Services.

(d) The fiscal note shall be delivered by the Legislative Fiscal Analyst to the Clerk within ten calendar days of receipt of a copy of the bill for analysis. The Clerk shall attach the fiscal note to the bill and to all copies prepared for members.

(e) When amendments to a bill are adopted by a committee or the Legislature and such amendments would change the fiscal impact of the bill, the appropriate changes shall be made in the fiscal note.

(f) When the Legislative Fiscal Analyst determines that the fiscal impact of a bill will be less than five thousand dollars, it shall not be necessary to prepare a detailed fiscal note, and the fiscal note may merely state this fact.

(g) When any bill proposes adoption of a new program or change of an existing program either of which would require an appropriation of $50,000 or more to implement in the ensuing fiscal year an appropriation bill for the purposes of funding the provisions of such bill shall be prepared from the information contained in the fiscal note. Such appropriation bill shall be prepared at the direction of the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee. Such bill shall be placed on General File and considered as introduced by the introducer of the original bill or by the committee which offered the amendments creating the expenditure, and shall bear the number of the original bill with the letter "A" added, and shall accompany the original bill through all stages of the legislative process. All bills for which an "A" bill is prepared shall be bracketed on Final Reading until the "A" bill is advanced to Final Reading.

(h) The authorization bill shall first be considered and if it should be passed on Final Reading then the "A" bill shall be read and voted on for final passage.

(i) The note shall be factual in nature, as brief and concise as may be, and shall if possible provide a reliable estimate in dollars and, in addition, it shall include both the immediate effect and, if determinable or reasonably foreseeable, the long range effect of the measure. If, after investigation, it is determined that no dollar estimate is possible, the note shall contain a statement to that effect, setting forth the reasons why no dollar estimate can be given.

(j) No comment or opinion shall be included in the fiscal note with regard to the merits of the measure for which the note is prepared, however, technical or mechanical defects may be noted.

(k) The subject matter of bills submitted to boards, commissions, departments, agencies, or other entities of the state by the Fiscal Analyst shall be kept in strict confidence by said agencies and by the office of Fiscal Analyst together with the content of the fiscal note itself and no information relating thereto shall be divulged by any official or employee prior to its introduction in the Legislature.

(l) To implement the provisions of and assure compliance with Art. III, Sec. 22, of the Nebraska Constitution (deficiency appropriations), and Art. IV, Sec. 7 of the Nebraska Constitution (appropriations in excess of Governor's request), the Appropriations Committee shall advise the Legislature of the number of votes required to assure passage of the same.

Bills introduced in regular sessions in even-numbered years shall start with the number following the number of the last bill introduced in the preceding regular session of an odd-numbered year, (bills introduced in any special session shall start with the number 1) and shall be numbered consecutively as read by the Clerk. After introduction the Clerk shall deliver bills requiring reference to the Reference Committee.

Sec. 2. Objection to Reference of Bills. (a) Any member may object to the reference of any bill or other proposition, and correction in case of error in reference may be made by the Legislature by unanimous consent, or by the vote of a majority of the elected members.

(b) Those bills and resolutions placed on General File by the reference committee will be bracketed for five calendar days, and if one senator requests a public hearing on one or more of these matters, they will then be referred to a committee. Bills on General File for which public hearings have not been requested will be handled as all bills on General File.

Sec. 3. General File. (a) The Clerk of the Legislature shall read the number and the title of the bill and the name of the principal introducer as it comes up for consideration on General File. A bill will not be read section by section unless requested by a member of the Legislature.

(b) Each section shall be open to amendment. The amendments, if any, recommended by standing committees, shall first be considered. The introducer's amendments, if any, shall next be considered, after which he may move to advance and explain the bill. Other amendments and motions permitted by these rules may then be offered and shall be considered after the introducer has explained the bill in the order in which they are filed with the Clerk, subject to the provisions of Rule 7, Sec. 3.

(c) Bills shall be listed and considered on General File in the order in which they shall be reported from the standing committees, except as modified by the Speaker; Provided, that any bill that comes up for debate for a second time, with the introducer present, shall be placed by the Clerk at the bottom of General File if said introducer asked for further time, unless otherwise directed by the Speaker.

Speaker determine order of bills. Rule 1, Sec. 16.

(d) During consideration of bills on either General or Select File, any member may move that the bill be passed over once and if the motion is carried by a majority of those voting, the bill shall be passed over and shall retain its place on the file.

(e) At any stage of consideration of a bill, a motion to bracket or to bracket to a day certain or to unbracket shall, if made by the primary introducer of the bill, require a majority of those voting. If made by other than the primary introducer, there shall then be required a majority vote of the elected membership. In any event such motions shall alternatively be passed by unanimous consent of the body.

(f) In the event a motion to indefinitely postpone a bill is made before the bill is read on General File, such motion shall require the affirmative vote of a majority of the elected members.

(g) In the event a bill has become substantially a new and different bill by reason of amendments having been adopted, the Speaker may refer said bill to the Reference Committee who must refer the said bill to a proper committee for a public hearing; Provided, that a majority of the elected members may overrule the decision of the Speaker.

(h) If in the opinion of the Speaker, the bill is in such form that it should properly be referred back to committee for further action he may by order direct the same; Provided, that a majority of the elected members may overrule the decision of the Speaker. Any rule to the contrary notwithstanding any motion to amend a bill shall require a majority vote of the elected members. Any motion to amend an appropriation bill or a motion to amend an amendment to an appropriation bill shall require a majority vote of the elected members.

(i) Any bill failing to receive 25 votes to be advanced to E & R Initial after three attempts shall be indefinitely postponed.

The following votes shall be required to adopt the following motions affecting bills on General File:

UC—Unanimous Consent; MEM—Majority of Elected Members; MTV—Majority of those voting.

(c) To recommit the bill to Select File for specific amendment, which amendment may be adopted by a vote of a majority of the elected members; Provided, however, if the proposed amendment be to add the emergency clause, it may only be adopted by a vote of two-thirds of the elected members.

(d) Any bill returned to Select File for a specific amendment, may if the amendment is rejected, be readvanced to Final Reading without going through Enrollment & Review. A motion to so advance shall require the concurrence of a majority of the elected members.

Sec. 9. Question on Final Reading. Sec. 10. Emergency Clause, Votes Requested. Const. Art. III, Sec. 27.

Sec. 11. Governor's Veto. Further Legislative Action. Upon the day of receipt of a message from the Governor announcing his or her veto of a bill, or on any of the next five legislative days in the same annual session, any member may move that the bill so vetoed be taken up for passage in the form presented to the Governor. Whereupon, the question shall be, "Shall the bill pass, notwithstanding the objection of the Governor?" No bill vetoed by the Governor shall be taken up by the legislature for any purpose other than passage of the bill notwithstanding the objection of the Governor or for override of a line-item veto.

RRS 84-503.

Sec. 13. Certificates. Whenever the Legislature shall override a line item veto, on any bill as provided for in Article 10, Section 15, the Clerk of the Legislature shall cause to be placed on such bill a certificate in content and form as provided for in RRS 84-503 and shall list the items so overriden by section, page, and line.

In addition to such certificate the Clerk of the Legislature shall note on each line, when the legislature votes to override, a stamp reading "line item veto overriden" and place thereon the date and his initials.

Sec. 14. (a) Whenever the Governor shall have vetoed more than one item in an appropriation bill, the Appropriations Committee shall review said veto and the chairman of the Appropriations Committee shall report within one legislative day to the Legislature on it's fiscal implications, and affect on operations. If the Appropriations Committee by majority vote decides to recommend to the Legislature an override of the veto on any portion of such an appropriation bill, the chairman of the Appropriations Committee or his/her designee shall first be permitted an opportunity to move that the entire bill become law notwithstanding the line item veto therein.

(b) If such motion fails or is not offered the chairman of the Appropriations Committee or his/her designee shall then introduce motions to override selected portions of the vetoed bill.

(c) Any member of the Legislature may then offer a motion to override the veto of the bill or any portion thereof if the Appropriations Committee by majority action decides not to recommend overriding the veto of the bill or the veto of that portion of the bill.

(d) It shall require 30 votes of the elected members to amend a veto override motion that includes another line item veto.

Sec. 15. When a proposed constitutional amendment does not receive the required four-fifths constitutional majority necessary to submit such proposed amendment to the electors at a special election, then the special election language of the bill shall be stricken, and the bill shall be pending on Final Reading, and the question shall be, "Shall the bill pass providing for the submission of such proposition at the next general election?'."

RULE 7—PROCEEDINGS AND MOTIONS

(A) Order of Business

Section 1. Meeting Time, Restrictions. (a) The Legislature shall meet annually at 10:00 a.m. on the first Wednesday after the first Monday in January of each year and thereafter on each legislative day at 9:00 a.m., and adjourn not later than 1:00 p.m., unless otherwise ordered by a majority vote of its members present and voting thereon. The Legislature shall in odd-numbered years, after the period allowed for the introduction of bills, recess for five (5) calendar days. During such recess committees shall prepare, for public distribution, a calendar of hearing dates. No committee hearings shall be held during the recess provided for in this section. The Legislature shall remain in session until it shall adjourn sine die, but in no event shall it remain in session for longer than ninety (90) legislative days in odd-numbered years or sixty (60) legislative days in even-numbered years. This limitation may be suspended by a four-fifths vote of the elected senators.

Const. Art. III, Sec. 10.

Each day the Legislature convenes shall be considered a legislative day.

(b) The order of business of the Legislature shall be as follows; except as otherwise provided by the Speaker.

a. Prayer by the Chaplain
b. Roll call
c. Call for correction of the Journal
d. Petitions and memorials
e. Notice of committee hearings and reports
f. Bills on Final Reading
g. Resolutions
h. Introduction of bills and reading by title
i. Consideration of bills on Select File
j. Motions to reconsider
k. Motions to advance bills from committee
l. Other pending motions
m. Unfinished business, including messages on President's desk
n. Consideration of bills on General File
o. Miscellaneous business

(c) Messages from the Governor may be received at any stage of the proceedings.

(d) When a bill shall have been made a special order for a definite time and an adjournment shall intervene for a time beyond the time fixed for such special order, then in that event the bill so made a special order shall be placed in its order on General File. The unfinished business in which the Legislature was engaged at the adjournment of the last preceding sitting shall have preference in the special order of the day.

(e) Upon call for the introduction of bills, any member or any standing committee to which bills are referred for consideration may introduce one or more bills.

Introduction of bills. Rule 6, Sec. 1.

(B) Voting Machine

Sec. 2. Voting, Electric Roll Call. (a) All votes shall be taken viva voca unless otherwise provided for herein. Questions shall be distinctly put in this form, to wit: ''Those who are in favor of the question say 'aye'; those who are opposed to the question say 'nay'.''

(b) If a machine vote is called for or if the presiding officer is in doubt, he shall cause the result to be obtained by means of the electric roll call system, and in such event shall accept only machine tallied votes except that voice votes shall be accepted on a motion before the House while the House is under Call. The presiding officer may vote by voice. Only the totals shall be printed in the Journal. Once having voted aye or nay, senators may call in a change to not voting prior to the locking of the voting board.

(c) Upon the final passage of a bill, or of a resolution if the same required the same consideration as a bill, the vote shall be by yeas and nays, and the electric roll call system shall be used. Voice votes shall be accepted on Final Reading.

(d) Whenever the ''ayes'' and ''nays'' are taken by machine vote no member shall be permitted to vote after the decision is announced by the presiding officer or the Clerk. Votes not registered on the electric roll call system shall not be counted for or against a proposition. In announcing such vote the Clerk shall announce the ayes, the nays, those present and not voting, those absent and not voting, and those excused and not voting, and on any action to advance or amend bills, these totals shall be set forth in the Journal. Voice votes shall be accepted on roll call or record votes.

(C) Motions

Sec. 3. Motion, in Writing, Withdrawal. (a) A motion shall be either stated by the presiding officer or read by the Clerk before a vote is taken. All motions shall be submitted in writing if requested by the presiding officer or any senator.

Once motions are stated they may be withdrawn or modified by the mover before a decision, amendment, or ordering of a vote has been made. A motion to reconsider may be withdrawn only with unanimous consent or a majority vote of the elected members.

When a question is under debate no motion shall be considered except one of the following, which motions shall take precedence in the order stated.

a. To adjourn
b. For the previous question
c. To postpone to a time certain
d. To recommit to a committee
e. To amend
f. To postpone indefinitely

Such motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are arranged, except that motions to postpone indefinitely and amend do not yield to each other.

When any of the following motions shall be made, any action on such motion shall be delayed at least one legislative day and the motion shall be printed in the Legislative Journal:

a. Motion to postpone indefinitely on Select File
b. Motion to advance bills from committee
c. Motion to place bills on General File, notwithstanding the action of a standing committee

(b) When a motion or other proposition is under consideration, a motion to amend and a motion to amend that amendment shall be in order.

(c) Amendments to the title shall be made by the Enrollment and Review Committee.

(d) No motion, proposition, or subject, different from that under consideration, shall be admitted under color of amendment.

(e) Any member may call for the division of a question, which shall be divided if it comprehends propositions in substance so distinct that, one being taken away, a substantive proposition shall remain for the decision of the Legislature. A motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed indivisible, but a motion to strike out being lost, shall not preclude an amendment or a motion to strike out or insert.

(f) When motions are made for reference of the same subject to a select committee and to a standing committee, the question on reference to the standing committee shall be considered first.

Sec. 4. Shall the Debate Cease. The previous question shall be in this form, "Shall the debate now close?"

The previous question shall be made only in the normal course of speaking order and shall be in order when demanded by five or more members, and must be sustained by the vote of a majority of the elected members, and until decided shall, except as provided in this section of this rule, preclude further debate and all amendments and motions, except one motion to adjourn. The presiding officer may rule the previous question out of order if in the presiding officer's opinion a full and fair debate has not been afforded, due to the complexity of the subject matter. The ruling of the presiding officer shall be subject to overrule in accordance with Rule 1, Sec. 12 of these Rules.

On a previous question there shall be no debate. All incidental questions of order, arising after a motion is made for a previous question, and pending such motion, shall be decided, whether on appeal or otherwise, without debate.

When the previous question shall have been ordered on a proposition under debate, the mover, proponent, or introducer of such proposition shall be given the right to close the debate thereon.

Sec. 5. Call of the Legislature. A Call of the Legislature may be made by any member in the manner following: "I move for a Call of the Legislature." The presiding officer shall direct that the board be cleared and the members shall then vote on placing themselves under Call. If a majority of the senators present and voting vote in favor of such a motion then the Legislature shall be deemed to be under Call. Each member present shall indicate his presence upon the electric roll call system and shall remain in his seat during the Call. After the Clerk shall note the names of the absentees, proceedings under the Call may be suspended at any time by a majority vote of the members then present, and when so suspended shall not again be ordered on the proposition pending, except by a majority vote of the members elected. If all absentees were to vote on one side of the question, and if their combined vote would be insufficient to change the result of the vote, the President shall declare the Call raised.

Lieutenant Governor votes only when Legislature equally divided. Rule 1, Sec. 14.
Voice vote while House under Call. Rule 7, Sec. 2b.

Sec. 6. Postpone to Time Certain. No motion to postpone to a time certain, to commit, or to postpone indefinitely being decided, shall again be allowed on the same day at the same stage of the bill or proposition.

Sec. 7. Reconsideration. (a) When a question has been decided, it shall be in order for any member voting with the prevailing side, or not voting, to move for a reconsideration thereof. A motion to reconsider must be made on the same day the original question was decided or on the next legislative day, except when it be to reconsider the vote on a bill which lacked the constitutional majority on a Final Reading. In such case, it must be made on the same day the original question was decided or on one of the next three legislative days. A motion to reconsider must be disposed of by the Legislature within five legislative days after making the same or it shall be deemed defeated. If the Legislature shall refuse to reconsider, or upon reconsideration shall affirm its first decision, no further motion to reconsider shall be in order unless by unanimous consent.

Motion to reconsider cannot be withdrawn without leave. Rule 7, Sec. 3.

(b) Every motion to reconsider shall take preference over all other questions, except a motion to adjourn.

(c) For its adoption, a motion to reconsider shall require the vote of a majority of the elected members, except:

- i Where such motion be to reconsider the vote on a bill which lacked the constitutional majority on a Final Reading, then a three-fifths vote shall be required for adoption.
- ii Where such motion be to reconsider the vote on a bill which lacked the constitutional majority on a Final Reading with the emergency clause attached, but which received the constitutional majority with the emergency clause stricken and the purpose of the motion is to again add the emergency clause, then a two-thirds vote of the elected members shall be required for adoption.

Sec. 8. Strike the Enacting Clause. A motion to strike the enacting clause if adopted, is equivalent to rejection of the bill. It shall not have precedence over a motion to amend nor a motion to indefinitely postpone.

Sec. 9. Motion to Adjourn. A motion to adjourn shall be in order, except:

- a. While a member is speaking.
- b. When a motion to adjourn has just been defeated.
- c. After the Final Reading of a bill and during roll call thereon.

A motion to adjourn to a time certain shall have precedence over a motion to adjourn. A motion to recess shall take precedence over either of such motions.

When a motion to adjourn has been made, the Speaker shall be privileged to speak to the motion prior to any vote on such motion, otherwise a motion to adjourn is not debatable.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 150
November 6, 1981

Dear Senator Beutler:

You have asked for a legal opinion as to whether Neb.Rev.Stat. §24-516 (Reissue 1979) may constitutionally be amended to provide that the Chief Justice may assign a county judge from a different district or a municipal court judge to temporarily perform duties in a county court when in his opinion such assignment would be beneficial to the administration of justice.

As you know, the statute now provides for the assignment of a county judge from a different district and the change about which you ask would be the addition as to a municipal court judge.

We are writing this answer on the assumption that you are requesting this information in connection with proposed legislation to be reviewed by the Legislature.

Article V, Section 1 of the Constitution of Nebraska provides, in part, that "The judicial power of the state shall be vested in a Supreme Court, district courts, county courts, in and for each county, with one or more judges for each county, or with one judge for two or more counties, as the Legislature shall provide, and such other courts inferior to the Supreme Court as may be created by law."

Article V, Section 19 of the Constitution of Nebraska provides, "The organization, jurisdiction, powers, proceedings, and practice of all courts of the same class or grade, so far as requlated by law and the force and effect of the proceedings, judgments, and decrees of such courts, severally, shall be uniform."

While we have not been able to find a case containing the same circumstances as the question here involved, the Supreme Court of Nebraska has construed Article V, Section 9, in connection with the substitution of municipal courts in Douglas County for justice of the peace courts under a former constitutional provision. As to the question of uniformity, the court stated, "If a law is general and uniform throughout the state, operating alike upon all persons and localities of a class, or who are brought within the relations and circumstances provided for, it is not objectionable as wanting uniformity of operation." State v. Berka, 20 Neb. 375." State ex rel. Bunce v. Kubat, 110 Neb. 362 at 366.

If Neb.Rev.Stat. §24-516 (Reissue 1979) mentioned above, is amended by an insertion "a municipal court judge" as indicated by your letter, the statute, in our opinion, would have uniform application as to all county courts and would therefore not violate Article V, Section 19, quoted above.

It is further our opinion that such amendment would be authorized under the authority granted by the portion of Article V, Section 1, also quoted above.

It could be possible that there may be other conflicting statutes relating to county judges and municipal judges, but this would probably not be a constitutional problem. In this connection, we note that the qualifications for county judges contained in Neb.Rev.Stat. §24-505.01 (Reissue 1979), are identical to the qualifications for municipal court judges contained in Neb.Rev.Stat. §26-103 (Reissue 1979).

If we can be of further assistance to you, please contact us.

Respectfully submitted,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

Opinion No. 151
November 3, 1981

Dear Senator Kahle:

This letter is in response to your correspondence regarding the authority of the State Electrical Division over property leased from the federal government. Specifically, you wish to know whether inspectors from the State Electrical Division may inspect buildings on property such as a "marina or campsite . . . operated by a private individual [on] land . . . owned by the federal government and leased to the individual by the Corps of Engineers."

Neb.Rev.Stat. §81-594 (Reissue 1976) sets out the types of installations subject to inspections by the State Electrical Division. These include [a]ll electrical installations in commercial or industrial buildings, including installations both inside and outside of the buildings, buildings designated for public use, and any installations at the request of the owner . . ." "Commercial installations" are defined by regulation to include, among other things, "(1) installations intended for commerce, . . . (4) recreational vehicle parks." State Electrical Division, Rule No. 15.

A marina or campsite would come within the definition of "commercial installations" and would be subject to inspection by the State Electrical Division. At issue here is whether the fact that such a marina or campsite is owned by the federal government and leased to private individuals would remove it from state jurisdiction.

The Property Clause of the United States Constitution provides that "Congress shall have Power to dispose of and make all needful Rules and Regulations respecting the Territory or other Property belonging to the United States." Article IV, Section 3, Clause 2. The United States Supreme Court has held that the Property Clause, "in broad terms, gives Congress the power to determine what are "needful rules "respecting" the public lands. . . . '[t]he power over the public land thus entrusted to Congress is without limitations.'" Kleppe v. New Mexico, 426 U.S. 529, 539 (1976), rehearing denied, 429 U.S. 873 (1976).

> The Federal Government does not assert exclusive jurisdiction over the public lands in New Mexico, and the State is free to enforce its criminal and civil laws on those lands. But where those state laws conflict with the Wild Free-Roaming Horses and Burros Act, or with other legislation passed pursuant to the Property Clause, the law is clear: the state laws must recede.

The court in Texas Oil and Gas Corp. v. Phillips Petroleum Co., 277 F. Supp. 366 (W.D. Okla. 1967), aff'd 406 F.2d 1303 (10th Cir. 1969), cert denied 396 U.S. 829 (1969), held, "State law and the State police power [extend] over the federal public domain unless and until Congress has determined to deal exclusively with the subject." 277 F.Supp. at 369.

State ex rel. Andrus v. Click, 97 Idaho 791, 554 P.2d 969 (1976), held that "[w]here Congress has exercised its legislative prerogative, conflicting state laws must fall by reason of the Supremacy Clause. . . . Absent congressional action, however, the state retains jurisdiction over federal lands within its territory.'' 554 P.2d at 973. In other words, ''[t]he police power of the state extends over federal Congress on the subject.'' Id. That decision also set out key factors to determine if Congress has preempted state regulations in a certain field.

It is our opinion that the State Electrical Division would have authority to inspect electrical installations in commercial, industrial and public use buildings located on land leased from the federal government in the absence of any federal legislation which would directly address the same situation and thus supercede the state law.

The federal statute dealing with public park and recreation facilities at Corps of Engineers water resource development projects is 16 U.S.C. §460 d. It states, in part,

> The Chief of Engineers, under the supervision of the Secretary of the Army, is authorized to construct, maintain, and operate public park and recreational facilities at water resource development projects under the control of the Department of the Army, to permit the construction of such facilities by local interests (particularly those to be operated and maintained by such interests), and to permit the maintenance and operation of such facilities by local interests. The Secretary of the Army is also authorized to grant leases of lands, including structures or facilities thereon, at water resource development projects for such periods, and upon such terms and for such purposes as he may deem reasonable in the public interest.

There is no language in the statute which forbids state electrical inspections of such facilities leased out by the Corps of Engineers.

Based on this statute, we are of the opinion that legislation is not necessary to grant the State Electrical Division authority to make the inspections to which you refer. However, you would need to examine any regulations promulgated by the Corps of Engineers pursuant to this statute to determine whether the federal government has preempted this area.

Sincerely yours,

Opinion No. 154
December 1, 1981

Dear Senator H. Peterson:

You have requested the opinion of this office regarding the constitutionality of REQ 1050, legislation which you are considering introducing next legislative session. You have indicated that this proposed legislation is based upon law in the State of Missouri and you have referred us to the case of King v. Priest, 357 Mo. 68, 206 S.W. 547, appeal dismissed 68 S.Ct. 736, 333 U.S. 852, 92 L.Ed. 1133, rehearing denied 68 S.Ct. 901, 333 U.S. 878, 92 L.Ed. 1154 (1947).

We have reviewed this proposed legislation, as well as the legal authorities to which you refer. This legislation would amend the act creating the Commission of Industrial Relations, Neb.Rev.Stat. §§48-801, et seq. (Reissue 1978) as amended, in several respects.

Section 2 of the proposed legislation would amend Neb.Rev.Stat. §48-837 in pertinent part as follows:

> Public employees, except police, firefighters, deputy sheriffs, Nebraska State Highway Patrol, Nebraska National Guard, and all teachers of all Nebraska schools, colleges, technical community colleges, and universities, shall have the right to form, join, and participate in, or to refrain from forming, joining, or participating in, any employee organization of their own choosing. . . . (Amendment proposed)

The title of this proposed bill indicates that, in part, it would prohibit certain public employees from joining unions.

Article XV, Section 13 of the Constitution of the State of Nebraska provides in pertinent part as follows:

> No person shall be denied employment because of membership in or affiliation with, or resignation or explusion from a labor organization or because of refusal to join or affiliate with a labor organization; . . .

Section 14 of said article further provides:

> The term "labor organization" means any organization of any kind, or any agency or employee representation committee or plan, which exists for the purpose, in who or in part, of dealing with employers concerning grievances, labor disputes, wages, rates of pay, hours of employment, or conditions of work.

Pursuant to Section 15 of said article, the above-stated provisions are self-executing.

In our opinion, if the above-stated constitutional provisions apply to public employees, the proposed legislative amendment to Neb.Rev.Stat. §48-837 appears to be inconsistent with such provisions. The legislative amendment ostensibly purports to deny to certain public employees the right to join or refrain from joining an employee organization. While there is no statutory enforcement provision, we assume that a public employer could or would impose disciplinary or corrective action upon employees for violating a statutory prohibition. Thus, in our opinion, if Article XV, Section 13 of the Nebraska Constitution applies to public employees, the proposed legislation may be found to abridge that constitutional provision.

Article XV, Section 13, on its face, appears to encompass the denial of employment to any person based on union affiliation or lack thereof. It is well established in this jurisdiction that provisions of the state Constitution must be taken in their ordinary and common acceptation in such manner as to express the intent of the framers of the Constitution. American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO v. Department of Public Institutions State Hospitals, 195 Neb. 253, 237 N.W.2d 841 (1976).

We are aware of no case in which the Nebraska Supreme Court has specifically held that the provisions of Article XV, Section 13, are applicable to public and private employees alike. However, several cases decided by the Nebraska Supreme Court have apparently assumed that said constitutional provision is in fact applicable to public employees. AFSCME, Local No. 2088 v. County of Douglas, 208 Neb. 511, 525, ___ N.W.2d ___ (1981); Nebraska Department of Roads Employees Assoc. v. Department of Roads, 189 Neb. 754, 205 N.W. 2d 110 (1973); Mid-Plains Education Assoc. v. Mid-Plains Nebraska Technical College, 189 Neb. 37, 199 N.W.2d 747 (1972). In American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees v. Woodward, 406 F. 2d 137 (8th Cir. 1969), the federal court concluded that the public policy inherent in Article XV, Section 13 of the Nebraska Constitution, that employment not be denied on the basis of union membership, includes public as well as private employment. In our opinion, these prior decisions indicate that if this precise issue were presented to the Nebraska Supreme Court, it would probably conclude that the constitutional provision at issue applies to both public and private employees alike.

In Potts v. Hay, 229 Ark. 830, 318 S.W.2d 826 (1958), the Supreme Court of Arkansas considered the applicability of a similar state constitutional provision to public employees. The statutory provision challenged in that case involved an act which required that persons be denied employment as policemen because of membership in a labor union. The court concluded that the constitutional provision must be given the effect that its plain words demanded, therefore the provision applied to public employees as well as private employees and the act at issue was unconstitutional.

In our opinion, the proposed legislation, insofar as it would amend Neb.Rev.Stat. §48-837 to exclude certain public employees from exercising the right to join or refrain from joining an employee organization, probably abridges Article XV, Section 13 of the Nebraska Constitution. Because of this conclusion, we deem it unnecessary to address additional constitutional challenges which might exist, such as those embodied in the First Amendment or in the Due Process and the Equal Protection Clauses of the Fourteenth Amendment. To the extent that the court's analysis in King v. Priest, supra, is based on the latter analysis in a jurisdiction which does not have the provision set forth in Article XV, Section 13 of the Nebraska Constitution, we do not find the legal authority from the State of Missouri to be persuasive.

Additionally, this proposed legislation would amend Neb.Rev.Stat. §48-810, to the extent that persons subject to the provisions of the Nebraska Teachers Professional Negotiations Act, would no longer be required to exhaust the provisions of that act prior to invoking the jurisdiction of the Commission of Industrial Relations and section 4 of that proposed legislation would repeal the provisions of the act, Neb.Rev.Stat. §§79-1287 to 79-1295. At first blush, we perceive no constitutional deficiencies with these portions of the proposed legislation. However, it is our understanding, that such amendments are intrinsically related to the amendment proposed regarding Neb.Rev.Stat. §48-837, heretofore discussed

Finally, Section 3 of this proposed legislation prohibits the use of public funds to pay public employees who apear before a legislative committee or negotiate terms of employment. Generally speaking, the compensation allowed public employees is a legislative determination. 67 C.J.S., Officers §§223, 226, p. 714, 724-725. On its face, we perceive no constitutional deficiencies in this provision.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Dear Senator Schmit:

This is in reply to your inquiry concerning the authority of the Nebraska Corn Development, Utilization and Marketing Board to make grants to public or private bodies. In responding we assume that your inquiry is made for the purpose of determining whether or not any changes should be made in the Act.

In arriving at our conclusion we point out that Neb.Rev.Stat. §2-3602 (Supp. 1980) of the Nebraska Corn Resources Act, provides that it is in the interest of the public welfare that "the producers of corn be permitted and encouraged to develop, carry out, and participate in programs or research, education, market development, and promotion. . . ." and to authorize and prescribe "the necessary procedures whereby corn producers in this state may finance programs to achieve the activities expressed in (the act)."

We also point out that the duties of the Board, as set forth in Neb.Rev.Stat. §2-3622 (Supp. 1980) includes authority "to develop and direct the corn commodity program" and "to authorize the expenditure of funds and contracting of expenditures to conduct proper activities of the program;" and that under the provisions of Neb.Rev.Stat. §2-3634 (Supp. 1980) the Board is not "authorized to set up research or development units or agencies of its own, but shall limit its activity to cooperation and contracts with the institute of agriculture and natural resources of the University of Nebraska and other proper local, state, or national organizations, public or private, in carrying out the purpose of (the act)."

It is to be noted that the above provisions refer to what is "proper" and that is, of course, the essence of your question.

In response to another inquiry concerning the authority of the Board we did not find any suggestion that the Legislature intended that the Board be authorized to do anything beyond that which was specifically provided in the Act and for that reason it could not contract for the construction and/or acquisition of alcohol plants.

Since the act did not specifically mention grants, in determining the nature of a grant we find that a New York court has pointed out that in Webster's new International Dictionary the term "grant" is defined as "to bestow or confer, with or without compensation," and "a gift or bestowal by one having control or authority over it, as of land, money, etc." This definition has also been accepted by a Texas court.

Considering this definition we examined the legislative history of the act in an effort to determine whether or not the Legislature had at any time considered authorizing the corn marketing board to bestow, confer, or make a gift of money under its authority or control to any private or public body. We did not find that such was ever considered at any state of the legislative process.

It is therefore our conclusion that the right to make grants to public or private bodies is not within the authority granted to the Nebraska Corn Development, Utilization and Marketing Board by the Legislature.

Very truly yours,

Opinion No. 156
December 14, 1981

Dear Senator V. Johnson:

You have called our attention to LB 522, and have asked us whether there would be any conflict between its provisions and those of Article VII, Section 1A of the Nebraska Constitution. We conclude that there would not.

Article VIII, Section 2 provides: "The state shall be prohibited from levying a property tax for state purposes." To find a violation of this section of the Constitution we would need to find first, that a state function or purpose was involved, and second, that the bill provided for a property tax levy to support it. There is a complete absence of the second requirement.

The committee summary of the purpose of the bill and the changes it effects is: "LB 522 proposes that all functions and authority of county welfare offices will be assumed by the State Department of Public Welfare. Currently, Nebraska has a state supervised, county administered welfare system. Under the proposed system, welfare would be state administered." Without reaching any final conclusions on the question, let us assume for the purpose of this discussion that under the present law the operation of the welfare system is not a state purpose, but that LB 522 will convert it into a state purpose.

Section 36 of the bill would amend Neb.Rev.Stat. §68-1022 (Supp. 1980), but we point out that this section was amended in 1981 by LB

39, and is therefore found in the 1981 supplement. Section 68-1022 provides that commencing July 1, 1981, the county of "legal settlement" of an eligible recipient shall pay fourteen percent of the cost of medical assistance for such recipient. If the recipient has no county legal settlement, medical assistance is paid from state funds and such funds as may be allocated by the federal government. LB 522 would reduce the county percentage by two percent per year until July 1, 1988, at which time all such assistance would be paid by state and federal funds.

You are concerned about whether this county contribution would violate Article VIII, Section 1A. You ask alternative questions about whether a violation would occur if the counties retain their general assistance functions, or if they do not retain them, and the welfare programs are completely state administered. We will not discuss these questions separately, as we see no violations under either alternative.

The only case in which a violation of Article VIII, Section 1A has been found was State ex rel. Nebraska Technical Community College Area v. Tallon, 192 Neb. 201, 219 N.W.2d 454 (1974). In that case the court found that the operation of the colleges had become a state function, and that the statute, in effect, mandated a one mill property tax levy for the support of the colleges.

The crucial difference is that LB 522 does not mandate, or even authorize, a separate mill levy to provide the funds for the counties to make the contributions required by §68-1022. These contributions are to be made out of general county funds.

In Kovarik v. County of Banner, 192 Neb. 816, 224 N.W.2d 761 (1975) the court noted this distinction between the case under consideration and Talon, saying:

> We also note in passing that under the facts of the foregoing case the state required the county to levy a property tax to support the technical college, which is not true in the instant case. We properly held under the facts of that case that a "state purpose" rather than a "local purpose" was involved. We also wish to point out that counties are not supported solely by property taxes. There are other sources of revenue available to the counties other than property taxes, such, for example, as inheritance taxes. In fact, it is clear from a reading of sections 77-2032 and 77-2033, R.R.S. 1943, that inheritance taxes may be credited by the county board to the county general fund, to be used "for the relief of worthy, incapacitated or indigent persons * * *." (Emphasis supplied.) There is no requirement whatsoever that any county levy a property tax to pay the fees for appointed counsel.

In general, it can be said that the Legislature has complete control over the revenues of a county, and may direct the application of such revenues as it sees fit, so long as that application is for the benefit of the public in the county where the revenues were raised. For a discussion of this principle, see State ex rel. City of Omaha v. Board of County Commissioners, 109 Neb. 35, 189 N.W. 639 (1922), and Omaha Parking Authority v. City of Omaha, 163 Neb. 97, 77 N.W.2d 863 (1956). Article VIII, Section 1A was not intended to affect this fundamental relationship between the state and its political subdivisions.

The payments required of a county by §68-1022 are for the benefit of recipients having legal settlement in the county. This local connection is sufficient to authorize the Legislature to require the county to contribute to their medical assistance. There is no separate mill levy authorized to raise the funds necesasry to make such payments, and sources of revenue available to the county lose their identities when mingled in the county general fund. So, even though the county may raise most of its funds by property taxes, we certainly cannot say that the state has levied a property tax for state purposes. We therefore conclude that LB 522 is not subject to such an attack.

Dear Senator Carsten:

You have called our attention to the fact that in State ex rel. Douglas v. Herrington, 206 Neb. 516, 294 N.W.2d 330 (1980), the court, after ruling that Neb.Rev.Stat. §77-1350(1) (Supp. 1978) was unconstitutionally vague and uncertain, it said, "It requires little argument to see that §77-1350(1) is not severable and that the whole act must fail." You point out that our attack in that action was on §§77-1349 to 77-1354, which were passed in 1977 as Sections 1 to 6 of LB 131, but that LB 131 also had Sections 7 and 8, which became §§77-1355 and 77-1356. §77-1355 was repealed in 1979, but §77-1356 was amended, and now appears as §77-3431 (Supp. 1980). Your question is whether the language of the court had the effect of invalidating Sections 7 and 8 of LB 131, and whether §77-3431 is now a valid part of the statutes. You ask this question because, if §77-3431 is invalid, corrective action may need to be considered by the Legislature.

While you raise a troublesome question, we have concluded that §77-3431 has not been invalidated. In the first place, we are absolutely confident that if squarely faced with the question the Supreme Court, in spite of the language used, would say that Sections 7 and 8 of LB 131 were clearly severable from Sections 1 to 6. Sections 1 to 6 involved an attempt by the Legislature to force implementation of revaluation plans by the various counties, and to impose sanctions for failure to do so.

Section 7 of the bill imposed a ceiling on budgets of political subdivisions, and Section 8 provided for hearings on proposals to exceed that ceiling. We find almost no connection between the provisions of Sections 1 to 6 and those of Sections 8 to 9, except they all dealt, directly or indirectly, with taxation. They are, in our opinion, clearly severable.

How, then, did the court happen to say what it did? The answer, we believe, lies in the fact that there was no discussion whatever of Sections 7 and 8 of LB 131, and the court may not have been aware of them. In our petition we alleged that the Legislature had passed LB 131 in 1977, and that Sections 1 to 6 of that bill became §§77-1349 to 77-1354. Our entire attack was directed at those sections. However, references in briefs and oral argument were made to LB 131, and the court may well have thought that the bill contained only those six sections. What the court intended to say, we are sure, is that §§77-1349 to 77-1354, i.e. Sections 1 to 6 of LB 131, were not severable, and that all must fall. To go beyond that would have been to go beyond the prayer of the petition.

Furthermore, State ex rel. Douglas v. Herrington, was an appeal from the District Court for Lancaster County. When the Supreme Court reversed the decision of that court, the case was remanded for entry of judgment in conformity with the opinion. The district court, in obedience to that remand, entered an order on July 24, 1980, finding that §§77-1349 to 77-1354 were unconstitutionally vague and uncertain. No appeal, of course, was taken from that order, and, perhaps, that order can be considered to be the final order entered in the case. The district court, at least, did not construe the Supreme Court order as affecting any sections except those mentioned in the petition.

It may, perhaps, be considered presumptuous of us to say that the Supreme Court did not mean precisely what it said, but surely that is the result that the court will come to, if the question is ever presented to it. We therefore conclude that §77-3431 was not affected by the decision in State ex rel. Douglas v. Herrington.

Very truly yours,

Opinion No. 158

Dear Senator Hefner:

You have asked several questions relative to abandonment of county roads pursuant to your consideration of the possibility of introducing legislation at the next session to clarify some issues related thereto. Your first question was: "Does a county have a right to sell a road that has been established by prescription and which has been vacated?"

The rule as to the nature of ownership of a prescriptive road is stated in Dunnick v. Stockgrowers Bank of Marmouth, 191 Neb. 370, 215 N.W.2d 93 (1974), and is: "The title and ownership of land acquired by adverse possession and prescriptive use by the public as a road or street is the same as it would have been if the land had been dedicated as a street or highway and accepted by the appropriated governmental entity." It is true that the extent or width of the road is a factual question to be determined on the basis of the extent and nature of the use made of the property during the prescriptive period. Smith v. Bixby, 196 Neb. 235, 242 N.W.2d 115 (1976). It was stated in Barrett v. Hand, 158 Neb. 273, 63 N.W.2d 185 (1954) that a public highway, while being used as such, can only be vacated by the county board in the manner prescribed by law. Of course, the statutory procedure has changed since that case was decided, but there can be no doubt that a county road can only be vacated by strictly following the statutes relating thereto.

Neb.Rev.Stat. §§39-1722, 1723, 1724 (Supp. 1980) provide for petitions, resolutions by the county board, and notice. Neb.Rev.Stat. §39-1725 (Supp. 1980) provides that the county board may or may not order vacation after the preliminary requisites have been met, and that if it chooses to vacate or abandon, the resolution shall state upon what conditions, if any, the vacation or abandonment shall be qualified, including sale of title of right-of-way, reversion, or continuing public ownership. Only in the event the board fails to specify as above, and if there is ten years nonuse, can there be reverter to abutters, one-half to each side, unless the board specifies reversion.

Dell v. City of Lincoln, 170 Neb. 176, 102 N.W.2d 62 (1960), holds in effect, that municipalities are creatures of statute and have only such powers as are given them by the legislature. The same rule holds for counties. The Dell case goes on to say that disposition of land is covered by the vacation and abandonment statutes relative thereto, and that such acts will not be permitted to operate retrospectively, unless they were specifically made so by the legislature. This being true, it is necessary to advert to the statutes in effect at the time a public road became such, to determine how it is or may be disposed of, when the road ceases to be used as such. Dunnick v. Stockgrowers Bank of Marmouth, 191 Neb. 370, 215 N.W.2d 93 (1974), holds that a prescriptive right amounts to a fee title held by the municipality for the benefit of the public. It is true that in the concurring opinion, it is stated, that by way of obiter dictum that such fee title is only a fee simple determinable, which ends at the time the road is no longer used as a road. Despite this dictum, however, we believe that the method by which such a road is disposed of at the end of its use, is determined by the wording of the vacation or abandonment statute in effect at the time the road was acquired. See Hiddleston v. Nebraska Jewish Federation Soc., 186 Neb. 786, 186 N.W.2d 904 (1971).

Your second question is whether the Thurston County officials had authority to sell land that the county road had occupied in a specific reference which you made. It would appear that the answer to this question would be found in the vacation and abandonment statutes relating to counties, in existence at the time the prescriptive right ripened on behalf of the public.

Your third question asks whether previous landowners can recover legal costs to defend themselves. If it should be determined that the land should have reverted to abutting owners, and if further it were found that failure to allow such reversion constituted a taking or damaging of property for public purposes under the constitution, then, conceivably under some circumstances, attorneys fees authorized in condemnation cases might be appropriate. In the case stated, however, it is difficult to find a public use, and we feel that a court would probably hold that the proper remedy would be found in equity, and not at law, in which case there would be no basis for the recovery of legal costs.

Your last question inquires whether problems would be encountered if the legislature provided that a county could only sell land with issuance of a warranty deed, rather than a quit claim deed, and if it required such sale to be by public auction rather than sealed bidding. As to the part relative to the type of deed, we can see no legal problems, but do believe there may be a practical problem. When large or expensive pieces of property are conveyed, it is almost always by warranty deed, since most buyers will not expend large sums of money unless they receive the warranty in return. But most sales of public land are of small bits and pieces. In many of such cases, the sale is made merely to get property back on the tax rolls, and then only because it has been found that there is a ready buyer. If the county were required to obtain an abstract for such property, the expense would probably exceed the amount to be realized, and therefore, one might expect that not many such sales would be made. The second part of the question, concerning public auction or sealed bidding again, is within the power of the legislature. As you are probably aware, there are advantages and disadvantages to both types of sale, and we know of no criteria which would assist in balancing the equities.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 160

Dear Senator Landis:

This letter is in response to your correspondence of September 11, 1981, in which you asked, "Are the state civil rights' enabling statutes sufficient legislative authority for a home rule charter city to enact anti-discrimination protections for classifications not specifically mentioned in state law?" Your concern was whether you would need to reevaluate existing state statutes on this issue and perhaps introduce new legislation.

The powers of Nebraska municipalities are set out in Jacobs v. City of Omaha, 181 Neb. 101, 147 N.W.2d 160 (1966):

> Our law is well settled: "* * * that a municipal corporation 'possesses, and can exercise, the following powers, and no others: First, those granted in express words; second, those necessarily or fairly implied in or incident to the powers expressly granted; third, those essential to the declared objects and purposes of the corporation—not simply convenient, but indispensable.'"

181 Neb. at 104.

The authority of municipalities to adopt civil rights ordinances is found in several places in the Nebraska statutes.

Neb.Rev.Stat. §18-1724 (Cum.Supp. 1980) provides in part:

> Notwithstanding any other law or laws heretofore enacted, all cities and villages in this state shall have the power by ordinance to define, regulate, suppress and prevent discrimination on the basis of race, color, creed, religion, ancestry, sex, marital status, national origin, age, or disability in employment, public accommodation, and housing, and may provide for the enforcement of such ordinances by providing appropriate penalties for the violation thereof.

Neb.Rev.Stat. §20-113 (Cum.Supp. 1980) states:

> Any incorporated city may enact ordinances, and any county may adopt resolutions, which are substantially equivalent to sections 20-105 to 20-143, 48-1001 to 48-1009, 48-1102 to 48-1125, and 48-1210 to 48-1227, or which are more comprehensive than such rights. . . . Such ordinance or resolution may include authority for such local agency to seek an award of damages or other equitable relief on behalf of the complainant by the filing of a petition in the district court in the county with appropriate jurisdiction. The local agency shall have within its authority jurisdiction substantially equivalent to or more comprehensive than the Equal Opportunity Commission or other enforcement agencies provided under sections 20-105 to 20-143, 48-1001 to 48-1009, 48-1102 to 48-1125, and 48-1210 to 48-1227, and authority to order back pay and other equitable relief, or to enforce such orders or relief in the district court with appropriate jurisdiction.

Neb.Rev.Stat. §20-113.01 (Cum.Supp. 1980) states:

> In order to declare the intent of the present Legislature and to effect the original intent of sections 18-1724 and 20-113, the Legislature finds that civil rights are a local as well as state concern and the Legislature desires to provide for the local enforcement and enactment of civil rights legislation concurrent with the authority of the State of Nebraska.

A determination whether or not Neb.Rev.Stat. §20-113 delegates authority to a city to enact ordinances which would protect classifications of individuals not specifically mentioned in the state laws depends on the interpretation of the language "more comprehensive than."

Because the meaning of "more comprehensive than" is not clear on its face, one must turn to the legislative history of §20-113. PPG Industries Canada Ltd. v. Kreuscher, 204 Neb. 220, 281 N.W.2d 762 (1979).

When §20-113 originally was enacted in 1969, it provided:

> Any incorporated city may enact ordinances, and any county may adopt resolutions, which are substantially equivalent to this act. . . . When the commission determines that any such city or county has enacted an ordinance or adopted a resolution that is substantially equivalent to this act and has established an agency to administer such ordinance or resolution, the commission shall thereafter refer all complaints arising in such city or county to the appropriate local agency.

Laws 1969, c. 120, §9, p. 544, LB 718. "This act", referred to in §20-113, was the open housing act, Neb.Rev.Stat. §20-105 to §20-125, §48-1102, and §48-1116.

The purpose of section 9 was to allow cities and counties to enact ordinances or resolutions which would allow them to handle fair housing complaints on a local basis, provided that the local ordinances and resolutions were "substantially equivalent" to the state statute. Comments of Senator Elrod, Floor Debate on LB 718 (1969), May 28, 1969, p. 1812.

Neb.Rev.Stat. §20-113 was amended in 1974 and 1979. The 1974 amendment added the language "more comprehensive than" to the statute.

> Any incorporated city may enact ordinances, and any county may adopt resolutions, which are substantially equivalent to sections 20-105 to 20-143, 48-1102, and 48-1116, or which are more comprehensive than such sections in the protection of civil rights. . . . When the commission determines that any such city or county has enacted an ordinance or adopted a resolution that is substantially equivalent to sections 20-105 to 20-143, 48-1102, and 48-1116, or is more comprehensive than such sections in the protection of civil rights, and has established an agency to administer such ordinance or resolution, the commission shall thereafter refer all complaints arising in such city or county to the appropriate local agency; . . .

Laws 1974, LB 681, §1. The enumerated sections were expanded to include not only the open housing act, but also the public accommodations act, Neb.Rev.Stat. §§20-132 to 20-143.

The introducer's statement of purpose stated that LB 681 "allows cities to enact civil rights ordinances more comprehensive than state law." Senator H. Simpson, January 22, 1974.

Testimony at the committee hearing by a City of Lincoln attorney indicated that the "substantially equivalent" limitation could lead to situations where a local government would not be able to enforce its local ordinance on a matter not included in the state law. Testimony by James Faimon, Committee on Urban Affairs, hearings, February 13, 1974, p. 11.

At the hearing, Senator Simpson stated that LB 681 "covers all of these sections, that the incorporated city may enact ordinances, . . . If you read down it will cover all of the sections, within these sections, the incorporated city may enact ordinances." p. 28. The senator stressed, "[T]his only adds onto [the "substantially equivalent" language] that the locals may, within these sections, be more comprehensive and then so would be able to enforce them at the local level." p. 28.

The purpose of the 1979 amendment, (LB 438), was to provide enabling legislation for cities which want to enact local anti-discrimination laws. LB 438 amended §20-113 and added §20-113.01. It was the direct result of a Nebraska Supreme Court decision which held that the Legislature had not delegated to cities the power to legislate on fair employment practices and civil rights. City of Omaha Human Relations Dept. v. City Wide Rock & Excavating Co., 201 Neb. 405, 268 N.W.2d 98 (1978).

Furthermore, in LB 438, the enumerated sections of state law were expanded to cover all the civil rights provisions under the jurisdiction of the NEOC. Thus, LB 438 retained §§20-105 to 20-143, which include open housing and public accommodations, and added §§48-1001 to 48-1009, forbidding age discrimination in employment, §§48-1219 to 48-1227, the equal pay act, and §§48-1101 to 48-1125, the fair employment practices act.

The introducer's statement of intent for LB 438 (1979) stated that the purpose of the bill was:

> [T]o provide additional language to that currently contained in Section 20-133 of Nebraska R.R.S. 1943 which will establish a clear grant of authority to municipalities and counties allowing those political subdivisions to adopt ordinances providing for the protection of individuals in their pursuit of equal employment opportunities, public accommodations and open housing.

It is our opinion that although the "more comprehensive than" language could provide incorporated cities and counties with the authority to enact ordinances or resolutions protecting classifications of persons not specifically set out in the state anti-discrimination statutes, a contrary interpretation also is feasible. In order to eliminate any doubts in this matter, one might wish to introduce clarifying legislation. We are also of the opinion that, given the subject matter of the state anti-discrimination statutes, the protection of individuals by cities and counties is limited to the areas of employment, public accommodations, and housing.

Finally, it should be noted that §§20-113 and 20-113.01 apply to all incorporated cities in the state and are not limited to home rule charter cities. As a result, we feel that a consideration of home rule powers per se is not necessary at this time.

Sincerely,

Opinion No. 161

Dear Senator Haberman:

In your letter of December 9, 1981, you say that you intend to introduce a bill during the next session of the Legislature that would increase the cigarette tax imposed by Neb.Rev.Stat. §77-2616 (Supp. 1981) by two cents. You ask whether there would be constitutional problems if the Legislature were required by statute to appropriate each year from the general fund to the Department of Correctional Services the estimated revenue derived from the two cent increase, to be used for the administration, staffing, and building of minimum security facilities. We conclude that no valid provision of this sort could be enacted.

An appropriation bill is legislation. Legislation is a discretionary action taken by the Legislature. By what possible right could the 1982 Legislature, in the exercise of its discretionary legislative power, limit the discretionary legislative power of the 1985 Legislature? To permit it would be a denial of the democratic form of government, by which the voters from time to time elect representatives to accomplish the purposes desired by the people, as reflected by their votes.

Obviously, future Legislatures could always repeal such a provision, but we do not believe that is necessary. A repeal might be met with a veto which could not be overridden. It is our conclusion that the Legislature simply lacks the power to require future Legislatures to legislate in this way.

We believe such a statute, if regarded as a continuing appropriation, would be in violation of Article III, Section 22 of the Nebraska Constitution, which provides in part: "Each Legislature shall make appropriations for the expenses of the Government." In effect, such a statute would amount to the 1982 Legislature's exercising future Legislatures' appropriation power. Article III, Section 22 formerly provided that all appropriations should end at the expiration of the first fiscal quarter after the adjournment of the next regular session of the Legislature. This provision was eliminated in 1972, but we believe the remaining portion, quoted above, still reserves to "each Legislature" the right to make current appropriations, and prevents one Legislature from usurping the function as to future Legislatures.

While the court in Rein v. Johnson, 149 Neb. 67, 30 N.W.2d 548 (1947) was interpreting the old version of Article III, Section 22, we believe its reasoning is still applicable. The court said:

> The object and purpose of such a constitutional provision was to render all departments of the state government dependent upon the will of the people as expressed by their duly elected representatives, and to require such departments of government, except as otherwise provided in the Constitution, to return to that source at regular stated intervals for the necessary means of existence, because the people have learned and will continue to learn that the very preservation of their liberty depends largely upon control of the purse by their periodically elected representatives. State ex rel. Norfolk Beet-Sugar Co. v. Moore, supra.

In an opinion of this office dated June 28, 1978, Report of the Attorney General 1977-78, page 397, we discussed a bill which would have imposed a five percent limit on state budget increases. We quoted the first sentence of Article III, Section 22, and said:

> This particular piece of legislation is an attempt by this Legislature to limit the constitutional power of the next Legislature to make appropriation for the expenses of government. While the subsequent Legislature could voluntarily honor such an intention to limit expenditures expressed in a bill such as LB 4, it would have no constitutionally binding effect on the subsequent Legislature.

We believe a requirement that a future Legislature make specific appropriation is at least as constitutionally offensive as a limitation upon the future Legislature's power to appropriate. We therefore conclude that a provision such as you suggest would be difficult or impossible to defend or enforce.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 163

Dear Senator DeCamp:

This is in response to your letter of December 10, 1981, requesting our comments on a proposed legislative bill which contains a more restrictive eligibility section of the Federal Community Service Block Grant.

You made specific reference to paragraph (2) of section 2 of the proposed bill which reads:

> Any funds received by the department under the Community Services Block Grant Act after October 1, 1982, shall be allocated to any nonprofit community based organization which meets the requirements of the Community Services Block Grant Act. Except that 5% of these funds received may be used for the Department's Administrator.

Section 673(1) of the Federal Act defines "eligible entity" as any organization which was officially designated as a community action agency under the provisions of section 210 of the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964 for fiscal 1981. This definition would include the nine existing community action agencies in Nebraska if they have not lost their designation. Thus, the proposed bill would limit the choice of grant recipients to existing agencies and, newly formed ones that meet the standards of the 1964 Federal Act. (See Section 675(c) (2)A and (3) which sets out the requirements of the board of directors).

The restrictions of the proposed bill must be considered in terms of Section 675(c) (2) (A)i which for fiscal year 1982 provides for grants to community action programs or to migrant and seasonal farm worker organizations. Thus, for 1982 the proposed legislative bill eliminates the possibility of a migrant or seasonal farm worker organization being considered for a grant.

The next paragraph in the Federal Act Section 657(c) (2)A(ii) addresses the funding for fiscal year 1983 and each subsequent fiscal year. It provides funds to the state to make grants to political subdivisions, or to nonprofit community based organizations, or to migrant and seasonal farm worker organizations. Thus for 1983 and subsequent years the proposed bill eliminates the possibility of a political subdivision obtaining a grant as well as a migrant or seasonal farm worker organization.

It should be noted that Section 675(c) (4) provides that the state give special consideration in the designation of local community action agencies under this subtitle to any community action agency which is receiving funds under any federal antipoverty program on the date of the enactment of this act. Thus, the director is to give special consideration to existing action agencies.

However, the federal act clearly states that for 1983 and subsequent years political subdivisions or migrant/seasonal farm worker organizations are possible recipients of grants, as well as nonprofit private community organizations.

As the federal act is written the director is to keep the option to provide grants to political subdivisions and migrant/seasonal worker organizations. We can visualize the maintaining of such options as desirable in the event that a community action agency would not meet the standards or service in a given area which could be better provided for by a political subdivision or migrant/seasonal farm worker organizations.

Where the federal act specifies potential grantees it is questionable whether the state can properly eliminate certain ones by a more restrictive act. We cannot predict how federal authorities would respond to the restriction, but conceivably it could jeopardize the grant. Further, if the program were challenged by possible grant recipients the state would have a problem in showing that it was in substantial compliance with the federal act.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 164

Dear Senator Warner:

You have asked whether legislation is needed to clarify the role of dental hygienists who, "under the supervision of a licensed dentist, may perform the scaling and polishing of teeth in the oral prophylaxis procedure and such additional procedures as are prescribed in accordance with rules and regulations adopted by the Department of Health." Neb.Rev.Stat. §71-193.09 (Reissue 1976). We have concluded that the statute as written requires the easy availability or physical presence of the licensed dentist to direct and inspect the work of the dental hygienist in scaling and polishing teeth in the oral prophylaxis procedure. Legislation is needed only if you wish to give "supervision" a different meaning or if you wish to designate other acts which a dental hygienist may do.

A statute is not to be read as if open to construction as a matter of course. Where the words of a statute are plain, direct, and unambiguous, no interpretation is needed to ascertain the meaning. In the absence of anything to indicate the contrary, words must be given their ordinary meaning. Ragland v. Norris Public Power Dist., 208 Neb. 492 (1981).

There is nothing in Neb.Rev.Stat. §71-193.09 itself or in the statutes pertaining to dental hygienists that would indicate "supervision" is to be given other than its ordinary meaning. That meaning, according to The American Heritage Dictionary of the English Language, is: "To direct and inspect the performance of (workers or work); oversee; superintend." (Emphasis added.) That definition supports an inference that the licensed dentist must be available to check the work of the dental hygienist.

If the meaning of Neb.Rev.Stat. §71-193.09 were open to statutory construction, we could look at statutes in pari materia and at the legislative history of the act to find the intent of the Legislature. See, SID No. 1 v. County of Adams, 209 Neb. 108 (1981) and Pettigrew v. Home Insurance Co., 191 Neb. 312 (1974). For example, the statutes regulating physician's assistants which, like the statutes regulating dental hygienists, are part of the Uniform Licensing Law, do define "supervision" of physician's assistants in Neb.Rev.Stat. §71-1,107.16(5) (Reissue 1976):

> Supervision shall mean responsible supervision and control where the licensed physician assumes legal liability for the services that the physician's assistant renders. Except in cases of emergency, supervision shall require the easy availability or physical presence of the licensed physician for consultation and direction of the actions of the physician's assistant.

Prior to 1971, Neb.Rev.Stat. §71-193.09 required "direct" supervision by a licensed dentist of enumerated acts by a licensed dental hygienist. Two bills to amend that statute were introduced in 1971. LB 587 proposed to allow a licensed dental hygienist to "perform such duties as are prescribed by a licensed dentist and performed under the direct supervision of a licensed dentist." LB 616 enumerated clinical procedures a dental hygienist could do and proposed to allow such person also to perform "other procedures delegated by the dentist in accord with the rules and regulations of the State Board of Dentistry." No supervision was specified.

The compromise bill was LB 587, amended to provide that dental hygienists, "under supervision by a licensed dentist," could do scaling and polishing of teeth in the oral prophylaxis procedure and "such duties as are prescribed in accordance with rules and regulations adopted by the Department of Health." The Committee Statement reported that "[a] joint meeting of the dentists, dental hygienists, and dental association members resulted in a thorough discussion of the proposed amendments, and the amendments were agreed on by all parties involved, so that the objections to LB 587 would be eliminated and actually LB 616 would be included in LB 587." That was not the case. LB 587 still required "supervision," although not "direct supervision." It stated only one act instead of many that a dental hygienist could do and delegated to the Department of Health, not to the licensed dentist, the authority to specify other acts a dental hygienist could do.

We might infer that the proponents of the two bills thought that by their compromise they had changed the nature of the supervision required. However, we cannot ignore the plain meaning of "direct," that is, without intervening persons, conditions or agencies. See, The American Heritage Dictionary of the English Language. (That qualification may have been redundant, given the continuing requirement that the supervision be by a licensed dentist.) However, such a discussion is merely academic here where the plain meaning of the statute requires a licensed dentist to direct and inspect the work of a dental hygienist. It is reasonable to assume this requires the easy availability or physical presence of such dentist when the dental hygienist is at work.

The Legislature has barred the general public from the practice of dentistry but has allowed dental hygienists who meet certain qualifications to scale and polish teeth in the oral prophylaxis procedure. It is for the Legislature, not an administrative agency, to specify what other acts constituting the practice of dentistry a dental hygienist with specified qualifications can do that the general public cannot do. That is a legislative function. Such a function cannot be delegated. State v. Cutright, 193 Neb. 303 (1975).

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 165

Dear Senator Clark:

This is in reply to your inquiry, in which you state you are considering legislation, concerning an apparent conflict between Neb.Rev.Stat. §16-202 (Reissue 1977) and Neb.Rev.Stat. §18-1615 (Reissue 1977). The first section provides that a city of the first class may only convey real estate by ordinance, while the second section authorizes each city and county of the state which has required industrial development projects to sell and convey any real or personal property so acquired; nothing is mentioned as to the requirements of an ordinance in the latter statute.

Neb.Rev.Stat. 18-1615 (Reissue 1977) specifically provides, however,: In addition to any other powers which it may now have, each municipality and each county shall have without any other authority the following powers: . . ." The section then goes on to set forth the authority, mentioned above, to sell and convey real estate required for industrial development projects.

The above-quoted portion of said section, §18-1615 (Reissue 1977) is clear and unequivocal in its statement that no other authority is necessary. In addition, it is a general rule of statutory construction that a specific statute governs over a general statute. Under this rule, this statute relating to conveyances of property for this specific purpose would govern over the requirement of an ordinance to convey real estate generally.

This interpretation is further strengthened by the original action in Supreme Court of Nebraska interpreting the Industrial Development Act--the case of State ex rel. Meyer v. County of Lancaster, 173 Neb. 195, 113 N.W.2d 63 (1962). In that case, a similar point was raised in regard to counties because of a conflict with another section of the statutes which provided that counties could not convey real estate costing more than $3,000.00 without approval of the electors. To this the Supreme Court stated:

> The applicable rule is that where a legislative act is complete in itself but is repugnant to or in conflict with a prior law which is not referred to nor in express terms repealed by the latter, the earlier statute is repealed by implication as to the latter act, but only to the extent of the repugnancy or conflict. In re Estate of Grblny, 147 Neb. 117, 22 N.W.2d 488.

We believe the foregoing statement is applicable to the present situation and that Neb.Rev.Stat. §18-1615 governs as to this specific purpose.

Re: County Zoning

Dear Senator Haberman:

We are responding to your letter in which you state you are considering legislation pertaining to Nebraska's groundwater and would like us to advise you "if the statutes presently give the counties, through zoning laws, the authority to control underground water use.

Neb.Rev.Stat. §23-114 (Reissue 1977) authorizes a county board to create a planning commission with the powers and duties set forth in that act, to make amend and implement a comprehensive county zoning development plan then to adopt a zoning resolution having the force and effect of law. This zoning resolution may regulate "the uses of land for agriculture, forestry, recreation, residence, industry, and trade, after considering factors relating to soil conservation, water supply conservation, surface water drainage and removal, or other uses in the unincorporated area of the county." The use of this zoning power has been approved by our Nebraska Supreme Court in Crane v. Board of County Commissioners of Sarpy County, 175 Neb. 568, 122 N.W.2d 520 (1963) and City of Grand Island v. Ehlers, 180 Neb. 331, 142 N.W.2d 770 (1966).

Neb.Rev.Stat. §46-209 (Supp. 1981) gives jurisdiction to the Department of Water Resources "over all matters pertaining to water rights for irrigation, power, or other useful purposes. . . ." In Article VI of Chapter 46 of the Nebraska Statutes the Department of Water Resources is given jurisdiction over the state regulatory scheme for the extraction and use of underground water. Neb.Rev.Stat. §46-656, et seq. (Reissue 1978) have now been designated by the Legislature as the Nebraska Groundwater Management and Protection Act. Neb.Rev.Stat. §46-674 (Supp. 1981). This Act provides for specific regulation of control areas designated by the Director of the Water Resources when he determines that conditions require it according to statute.

It is our conclusion that Neb.Rev.Stat. §23-114 (Reissue 1978) gives each county the authority to regulate and restrict the use of land within its county and in doing so to consider water supply conservation and surface water drainage and removal. It does not authorize a county to control underground water use. This power to control the use of underground water is specifically granted to the Nebraska Department of Water Resources and to the respective natural resource districts, pursuant to Neb.Rev.Stat. §2-3229, et seq. (Reissue 1977) and Neb.Rev.Stat. §46-663 (Supp. 1980) and 46-666 (Supp. 1981).

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 167
January 5, 1982

Dear Senator DeCamp:

In your letter of December 30, 1981, you ask our opinion as to whether LB 376, 1981 Legislative Session, which was the subject of recent litigation in the case of Center Bank v. Department of Banking & Finance, No. 44421, Nebraska Supreme Court (December 18, 1981), is now subject to a motion for reconsideration.

The court ruled that LB 376 failed on final passage because it did not receive a sufficient number of votes from elected members of the Legislature as required by the Nebraska Constitution. The court further held that the action of the Governor in returning the bill to the Legislature with his objections was tantamount to a veto and "would have prevented the bill from becoming law unless it was reconsidered by the Legislature and passed as provided in the Constitution."

Thus, since LB 376 failed on final passage, it appears that it is in a similar position to any other bill which has failed to achieve the required number of votes on final passage. The legislative rules, however, indicate that LB 376 is not now eligible for a motion for reconsideration. Therefore, unless these rules were to be suspended, LB 376 is dead.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 168
January 5, 1982

Dear Senator Wesely:

By letter dated December 2, 1981, you have requested the opinion of this office as to whether Neb.Rev.Stat. §59-1617 (Supp. 1981), a section of the Nebraska Consumer Protection Act which exempts from the coverage of the act certain regulated actions or transactions, would result in the Consumer Protection Act, Neb.Rev.Stat. §§59-1601 et seq. (Reissue 1978) having limited applicability to the activities of loan brokers in light of the passage of LB 154 providing for regulation of loan brokers by the Department of Banking and Finance.

The answer to your question is yes.

Neb.Rev.Stat. §45-192 (Supp. 1981) gives the Department of Banking and Finance the power to investigate the activities of any loan broker and the power to order the loan broker to cease and desist whenever the broker has collected an advance fee, as defined by statute, or has willfully misrepresented the terms of his service contract or the contract of a lender.

The Nebraska Consumer Protection Act, among other things, prohibits certain unfair or deceptive acts or practices in the conduct of any trade or commerce (Neb.Rev.Stat. §59-1602 (Reissue 1978)). The act's applicability is limited, however, by Neb.Rev.Stat. §59-1617 (Supp. 1981) which exempts "actions or transactions otherwise permitted, prohibited, or regulated under laws administered by the Director of Insurance, the Public Service Commission, the federal power commission, or any other regulatory body or officer acting under statutory authority of this state." (Emphasis supplied.)

In Kuntzelman v. Avco Financial Services of Nebraska Inc., 206 Neb. 130, 291 N.W.2d 705 (1980), it was held that regulation of installment loan companies by the Department of Banking and Finance activated the aforementioned exemption section of the Consumer Protection Act and there is little question that regulation of loan brokers by the Department of Banking and Finance would do so as well.

The main question, then, will become one of what activities are regulated and which are still subject to the Consumer Protection Act. Kuntzelman, Id., involved an action by a private party against Avco under the Consumer Protection Act. It was alleged that Avco had violated the act by having the plaintiff reaffirm a debt which had previously been discharged in bankruptcy in the course of negotiating a new loan. Avco claimed that its activities were exempt from the Consumer Protection Act as the company was regulated by the Department of Banking and Finance pursuant to the Installment Loan Act, Neb.Rev.Stat. §§45-114 et seq. (Reissue 1978). The Installment Loan Act required Avco to have a license, gave authority to the Department of Banking and Finance to inspect company records, permitted the Department to enact regulations governing the area, gave the Department power to order companies in violation of the act or Department regulations to cease and desist and prohibited false or misleading advertising by regulated companies as to rates, terms or conditions for the lending of money. At that time, however, nothing in the Act specifically prohibited Avco from causing a debtor to reaffirm a debt discharged in bankruptcy and the Department of Banking and Finance had apparently adopted no regulations in the area as the record was silent on this subject.

The court indicated in its opinion that just because a business was regulated generally, the Consumer Protection Act may still apply if the unfair or deceptive act or practice is not regulated. Nevertheless, the court proceeded to hold that the case fell within the exemption section of the Consumer Protection Act, primarily relying upon the power given to the Department of Banking and Finance to inspect business records, to order the company to cease and desist from conduct violative of the Installment Loan Act and the act's prohibition of false and misleading advertising concerning rates, terms or conditions for lending. It should be noted that even had an inspection of the company books and records revealed that the conduct which was the subject of the complaint had occurred, the Installment Loan Act at that time did not prohibit the conduct. Assuming there was no validly enacted regulation of the Department of Banking and Finance governing this conduct and assuming the absence of any advertising by Avoc on the subject, it would appear that the Department of Banking would have been on less than solid ground in ordering the company to cease and desist from the activity.

Therefore, in light of the Kuntzelman holding, it is conceivable that not only does the Nebraska Consumer Protection Act have limited applicability to loan brokers due to the passage of LB 154, the loan broker bill, an area may exist where both the Consumer Protection Act and the act regulating loan brokers have questionable applicability.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Speaker Marvel announced because the Legislative rules were changed during the 1981 Session to allow for members to introduce an unlimited number of bills, it becomes necessary to institute some restrictions as to the timing of bill requests to be submitted to the Bill Drafter. This is done so as to ensure that requests by both members and committees can be processed through the drafting office and, hopefully eliminate the situation whereby a large number of bill requests would be submitted to that office right before the cut-off date for bill introductions (10th Legislative Day). In consultation with the Bill Drafter, it has been decided the following procedure will be necessary:

An unlimited number of requests both for members and committees will be honored prior to the end of the fourth (4th) Legislative Day. During the fifth (5th) through the eighth (8th) Legislative Day, each senator and each committee would be entitled to submit one (1) additional bill request to the Bill Drafting Office. All bill requests must be submitted no later than the end of business on the eighth (8th) Legislative Day.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 169
January 6, 1982

Re: Mandatory Jail Sentences

Dear Senator Haberman:

You have requested several opinions from this office concerning various questions you have with reference to legislation which would impose mandatory jail sentences for conviction of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. Specifically, you have asked the following:

1. Are there any constitutional difficulties with mandatory jail sentences for a conviction of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor?
2. Under Neb.Rev.Stat. §39-669.07 (1980 Supp.), which mandates a one year revocation of an individual's operator's license for second and third offense, if the court grants probation, will the revocation be put into effect?
3. If a mandatory jail sentence is imposed, may a judge place an individual on probation once the mandatory jail sentence has been served?

In response to question 1, it is clear that the Legislature is vested with the power to define crimes and to affix penalties for those crimes within constitutional limits. We do not perceive any constitutional infirmities with imposing a mandatory jail sentence for the offense of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, with the caveat that the sentence imposed should not be cruel and unusual. "It has been held that while a constitutional provision prohibiting 'cruel and unusual punishment' was intended to prohibit torture and agonizing punishment, it was never intended to abridge the selection by the lawmaking power of such kind of punishment as it deemed most effective in the suppression of crime." State v. Tucker, 183 Neb. 577, 162 N.W.2d 774 (1968).

Questions 2 and 3 are related in that both deal with the situation in which a court suspends a sentence and places an individual on probation. It is important to note that in the event a person is placed on probation, that individual is then subject to the terms and conditions of §29-2262 (Reissue 1979), which sets out the various conditions of probation, it is clear that the court may impose a period of confinement in the county jail not to exceed 90 days. Further, under the broad provisions of subsection 1 of §29-2262, the court may impose "such reasonable conditions as it deems necessary or likely to insure that the offender will lead a law abiding life." This would necessarily include a condition of probation that an individual would be prohibited from operating a motor vehicle during his period of probation.

The ability of a court to impose, as a condition of probation, the restriction that an individual be prohibited from operating a motor vehicle is to be distinguished from a period of "revocation" ordered by a court as part of a sentence. Neb.Rev.Stat. §60-421 (Reissue 1979) provides in part that:

> Whenever any person is convicted of any offense for which this act or Chapter 39, article 7 authorizes the revocation or suspension of the motor vehicle operator's license, the court in which such conviction is had, shall, if revocation or suspension is adjudged, require the surrender to it of all operator's licenses then held by the person so convicted. The court shall thereupon forward the same together with the action and findings of the court, . . . to the director.

Therefore, in response to question 2, if a court places an individual on probation for a second or third offense, the one year period of revocation to which you refer will not necessarily by imposed. Rather, the court can place whatever restrictions it deems appropriate on the offender. That may include a restriction of the individual's operating privileges, but that decision rests in the discretion of the court. Question 3 is somewhat contradictory. The court may impose period of confinement not to exceed 90 days as a condition of probation. However, if a mandatory jail sentence is imposed as the judgment of conviction, then the court no longer retains the ability to place that individual on probation.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 170
January 7, 1982

Dear Senator Beutler:

This is in reply to your inquiry concerning the authority of a city attorney to collect attorney's fees on civil actions initiated on behalf of city libraries, under the provisions of Neb.Rev.Stat. §25-1801, or any other statute.

In view of the fact that there are specific statutes (Article 2 of Chapter 51) which spell out the method of establishing public libraries, and their powers, it is doubtful that a library could recover attorney's fees under the provisions of a general statute such as §25-1801. Any right to recover such fees would have to be included within the provisions of Article 2, Chapter 51 of the statutes.

With regard to the authority to recover attorney's fees in actions on behalf of library boards we call attention to some well established rules stated by our Supreme Court in Metropolitan Utilities District v. City of Omaha, 171 Neb. 609, that:

> Municipal corporations are purely entities of legislative creation. They do not exist independent of some action of the legislative department of government bringing them into being. All the powers which they can possess are derived from the creator. Unlike natural persons they can exercise no power except such as has been expressly delegated to them, or such as may be inferred from some express delegated power essential to give effect to that power.

That:

> A municipal corporation may exercise only such powers as are expressly granted, those necessarily or fairly implied in or incidental to powers expressly granted and those essential to the declared objects and purposes of a municipality.

And that:

> [L]egislative charters wherein cities are empowered to perform certain acts or functions are construed with a greater degree of strictness than ordinary civil statutes, and the rule in Nebraska is that they shall be strictly construed.

It is quite apparent that libraries are also purely entities of legislative creation and as such possess only those powers which are derived from the Legislature.

In Article 2 of Chapter 51 of the Nebraska statutes the Legislature has granted to cities the power to establish public libraries, and in §51-205 has granted to the library boards the power "to make and adopt such bylaws, rules and regulations" for the government of the library. In §51-214 the Legislature has also granted libraries the power to recover in civil actions in county court "penalties imposed or accruing by any bylaw or regulation of the library boards." Nowhere in Article 2 is there any provision for the recovery of attorney's fees in civil actions brought on a library's behalf.

Since, in Article 2 of Chapter 51, the Legislature has very carefully spelled out the method of creation of public libraries and the authority they shall have, and in doing so has not authorized the recovery of attorney's fees in civil actions initiated on its behalf, it is our conclusion that such fees cannot at this time be recovered.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

MOTION - Escort Governor

Speaker Marvel moved that a committee of 5 be appointed to escort the Governor to the Chamber to deliver his State of the State and Budget Message.

The motion prevailed.

The Chair appointed Messrs. Carsten, Newell, Barrett, L. Johnson, and Remmers to serve on said committee.

The committee returned and escorted Governor Charles Thone to the Rostrum where he delivered the following State of the State and Budget address.

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Members of the 87th Nebraska Legislature, and distinguished guests:

Three years have passed since I stood in this chamber to take the oath as Nebraska's 32nd Governor. They have been eventful years.

On the world scene, the President of Egypt--a peacemaker--was slain by assassins' bullets. Attempts were made on the lives of Pope John Paul II and the President of the United States. Soviet troops invaded Afghanistan. Martial law has been recently harshly imposed on the people of Poland. The precarious peace in the Middle East concerns all.

In our own country, we have witnessed the most abrupt and far-reaching change in fiscal and federal programs--the most dramatic change of course since the advent of the New Deal almost half a century ago. This turning point, mandated by the electorate in 1980 and good common sense, has profound implications for the governments and programs of Nebraska and the other 49 states. It means that power which over the past 50 years has been centralized in Washington is being returned to the states. That's where our Founding Fathers intended it should be. It brings new challenges to the states, but it offers, as well, new opportunities.

In Nebraska, with the invaluable help of the men and women in this Legislature and strong support from Nebraskans from Fordyce to McCook, from the Missouri River to Mitchell Pass, we are prepared to meet those challenges and to grasp those opportunities.

Consider just some of the highlights of what we have accomplished together:

* During the past three years, we have cut spending increases in half, compared to the average annual spending increases in the preceding eight years.

* We have reduced individual income tax rates from 18 percent of the federal liability to 15 percent.

* We have passed along the benefits of the federal tax cuts by maintaining rates on state income and sales taxes.

* In special session, at my request, this Legislature voted to cut back on spending this fiscal year, in order to avoid an increase in tax rates.

* Since July of 1980, we have reduced the number of state employees, excluding higher education, by more than 1,400. That's about 10 percent.

* In two and a half years, we have reduced the number of miles driven by state vehicles by more than 24 million miles, compared to the base year of 1978. This has produced savings not only in dollars but also in energy.

At the same time, the needs of this state have been well met. We have substantially expanded our agricultural marketing activities. We have opened a new state correction complex. We provided more than 139 million dollars for new and additional property tax relief. We established statewide equalization of property valuation. We increased support of higher education in Nebraska by more than 40 million dollars. We have realized substantial progress in our state roads program, water legislation, government reorganization, citizen involvement and mental health delivery system. State aid to education has been increased 40 million dollars. And 77 new industries were attracted to the state, providing over 4500 jobs for Nebraska workers.

However, the agricultural economy on which our state so heavily depends has had a most difficult year. Farm prices and the national recession have had an adverse effect on the economic health of the state. Nevertheless, I can with confidence report today that the state of the State is sound.

It is our basic responsibility—yours and mine--to see that it stays that way.

As I look about this chamber today, I count 15 Senators who were not members of the Legislature when I presented my first budget message in 1979. So let me repeat the closing paragraph of that message:

> "The people of this state have reposed in us their trust and their confidence. It will require the best efforts of all of us to merit their reliance upon us to work together and act together for the public interest of all Nebraskans."

During these three years a heavy majority of the Legislature and the governor have developed a healthy and harmonious working relationship. It has been based on mutual respect and an active spirit of cooperation. I am grateful for that. I have always believed that the interests of the state are better served in a general atmosphere of cooperation than in one of confrontation.

Nonetheless, I am constrained to remind you that my responsibilities under the Constitution of our state require that I take care that the "affairs of the state (be) efficiently and economically administered." I am prepared to exercise that responsibility to the full extent of my ability.

Before I present my budget recommendations to you, there is one important procedural matter that I want to bring to your attention with due emphasis. Article IV, Section 7 of the Nebraska Constitution requires the Governor to present a budget bill to be introduced by the Speaker of the Legislature at the request of the Governor. The legislative history of this provision makes it crystal clear that the Legislature must use the budget bill introduced at the Governor's request through the whole legislative process. The Legislature may, of course, amend the bill. The clear purpose of this Constitutional provision is to allow the citizens of Nebraska easily to compare the Governor's proposals to the Legislature's actions. I ask that you follow the Constitutional mandate.

I am confident that as you have visited with your constituents in your districts, you have been given the same message that I hear as I talk with taxpayers: "Do what is necessary State Governmentwise. Hold down spending. Don't increase taxes!" It is a message we must heed.

The budget I present to you today will not, I repeat, will not, require an increase in sales and individual income tax rates. It is, admittedly an austere budget. It is the kind of budget that conditions require. Just like an individual, a family or a business, your state government must discipline itself to live within its means. And this budget does just that.

But that does not mean that we cannot continue to meet the legitimate needs of our citizens and provide the important services for which governments are created. It does mean that non-essential expenditures, desirable though they may be to some, must be checked. It does mean that we must become more efficient in use of the funds at our disposal. It does mean that we must make tough choices. It does mean that we must be willing to stand up to the pressures from the special interest groups that will inevitably be applied.

Before I proceed with some additional details on the budget, let's look for a few minutes at the revenue side of the equation.

My recommendations are based on the most recently available forecasts from the Nebraska Department of Revenue. These have been shared with your Appropriations Committee. My recommendations are also based upon additional revenue measures which I am recommending today.

I advised you at the conclusion of the special session that we were not yet out of the economic woods. That advice warrants repeating today. Fortunately Nebraska has not experienced the worst of the national recession. We have not been forced to contemplate the extreme measures undertaken by other states. Nevertheless, the recession continues to have an inevitable effect on Nebraska's economy. While national forecasters project an economic upturn sometime in late spring or early summer, I repeat to you now, "We are not yet out of the economic woods."

My budget recommendations are based on maintaining the current individual income tax rate of 15 percent and sales tax rate of 3 percent. They are also based on passing on to the individual Nebraska income taxpayer the benefits of the additional federal income tax cut of 10 percent, scheduled for July 1.

Further, I am presenting to you a bill which will increase the ratio that corporate income tax rates bear to individual income tax rates, effective for tax year 1982. Corporate taxes now paid in Nebraska are based on 25 percent of the individual rate on the first 25,000 dollars of corporate taxable income, and 27 1/2 percent thereafter. My recommendation provides for 25 percent of the individual rate on the first 50,000 dollars of corporate taxable income, 37 1/2 percent between 50,000 dollars and 100,000 dollars and 50 percent thereafter. It is currently estimated that this measure will raise an additional 20.5 million dollars in General Fund revenue.

This proposal would actually reduce the state income tax rate for some small corporations. It is a fair tax increase for the higher profitable corporations. It is vital to the integrity of this budget, and has my 100% support.

State Tax Commissioner Leuenberger has briefed members of your Revenue and Appropriations Committees on a comparison of our corporate tax structure with 45 other states. Nebraska ranks between 40th and 43rd among the states for its corporate rates.

There are these additional revenue measures: I propose transfering 3.7 million dollars of existing cash balances to the General Fund. I propose increasing the current cigarette tax by four cents, raising 7 million dollars. I propose reducing the minimum required General Fund reserve to 2 percent, thus freeing for appropriation 7.5 million dollars.

General Fund revenue for Fiscal Year 1983 is anticipated to be 749.2 million dollars, including that produced by the additional recommended revenue measures. Clear balances at the end of Fiscal 1982 are estimated to be 25.5 million dollars, net of anticipated deficits. Total General Funds available for Fiscal Year 1983 are 774.7 million dollars. The total includes 15.3 million dollars estimated to be necessary to meet the recommended 2 percent reserve requirement.

Within these revenue constraints, you have the clearly difficult but most attainable task of building a budget. Within these figures you will find little which might be available for "A" bills or program expansions. I do not recommend them, and I will, of course, veto them should they threaten the current individual income and sales tax rates.

Of the amount available for expenditure, I am recommending a General Fund Budget for Operations and Aid of 743.9 million dollars, or an increase of 4.3 percent over current appropriations. For Capital Construction, my general fund recommendation is 12.2 million dollars, plus 7 million dollars from the Nebraska Capital Construction Fund. The total will allow for the completion of current projects and the starting of selected high priority items. This would bring the total State General Fund Budget to 756.1 million dollars. This would be a 4.56 percent increase over the current budget, well below the 7 percent target mandated for local governments. As you can see, the revenue proposals mentioned earlier are absolutely essential to this budget recommendation.

In preparing my recommendations, I have reduced by more than 150 million dollars the total of all general funds requested. The decisions involved in making those reductions were difficult but necessary. The Nebraska taxpayer is not a source of unlimited funds. The limits must be on our spending.

Within the State Operating and Aid Budget, 409.6 million dollars, or 55.1 percent of the total is for state aid to local subdivisions and aid to individuals. Just over 23 percent, or 173.2 million dollars, is allocated to postsecondary education. The remaining 21.6 percent, or 161.1 million, is for funding all other operations of state government.

As you appreciate, by far the largest share of the budget is for aid. And within this area some of the major problems are found. Certain programs have been ineffectively controlled. A vertual blank check has on occasion been provided by the Legislature, a luxury you should no longer tolerate.

For next year, my recommendation for Special Education is 35.6 million dollars. This is a 6.8 percent increase over the amount originally budgeted for 1981-82 and almost a 25 percent increase over the past four years. For the current year to cry out for needed reform, I am not including in my deficit bill the anticipated annual shortfall for this badly managed program. So long as this program continues to grow unchecked, and with mounting controversy, the possibility for increases in general state aid to education is nil. I have consulted with Dr. Anne Campbell, Commissioner of Education, to discuss this difficult problem. She has pledged her cooperation in working out an acceptable and reasonable solution. I strongly urge a qualitative audit and review from top to bottom on special education. Those students who indeed have special needs must receive special help, and the state must share in the costs of those services. Most school administrators agree that, while this is unquestionably a necessary program, a way must be found to control not only the blank check costs but also the rules, regulations, and enormous volume of paperwork involved.

Another program which must be brought under tighter control is Medicaid. Over the past four years General Fund expenditures in this area have increased from 26.8 million dollars to an estimated 41.7 million dollars for 1982-83, an increase of 55.4 percent. The estimate for next year would be even higher except for cost containment and administrative measures which will be undertaken to save an estimated 7.8 million dollars in state funds. We must continue to search for ways to ensure that these funds are going for necessary services and are meeting the highest priority needs.

GENERAL GOVERNMENT

Within any organization, it is the ability and initiative of the employees which usually determines the quality of the goods or services produced. I am immensely proud of our state employees and the job they do in service to our citizens. For next fiscal year I am recommending an average increase in employee salaries of 5 percent. This will be accomplished by increasing the base salary by 4 percent but allowing agency directors to give individual increases of up to 6 percent.

In addition, my recommendation reserves funds for an increased state contribution to the employees' health insurance coverage to help offset the anticipted rate increase.

As was done last year, I am again recommending that wherever possible, agencies' funding programs be combined to provide greater management flexibility and a more efficient use of resources. This is a frugal budget. It will be more important than ever that agency directors have the necessary tools to use effectively the funds at their disposal.

I am also recommending continuation of the LB 309 Task Force as proposed by Senator Cope and others. I am suggesting that it be funded for FY 82-83 in the amount of 1.15 million dollars. This program has saved and will save the taxpayers millions of dollars by making our existing state facilities last longer and function more efficiently.

HIGHER EDUCATION

Nebraskans are justifiably proud of their postsecondary education system. That pride is demonstrated by the level of state support provided to this area which is critically important to the future of our state.

One of the most important--and certainly most difficult--decisions which had to be made in the construction of these recommendations was the extent to which we would be able to provide support for this state's institutions of higher education.

I turn first to the University of Nebraska, and I emphasize what each of you already knows: that I firmly believe that Nebraska must have a strong and vibrant state university, that I am proud of the University of Nebraska, and that I am aware of and deeply appreciative of the University's many splendid accomplishments.

I have always believed that it was essential to provide adequate support for the University. Every individual in this room--indeed, almost certainly every citizen of this state--has benefited from the many fine programs which the University offers. I understand that the University's contributions to our economic and cultural well-being are essential, and must be continued.

The budget recommendations which I have placed before you will, in my estimation, allow the University to sustain its operations at a reasonable level. It is, regretably, not a budget which will permit the University to do all that it might have wished. The University will also have to pay the price of fiscal austerity. This proposed budget is consistent with my belief in the importance of higher education, and one which will guarantee continuity of effort and quality of programs at our state university during these financially troubled times.

Over the past ten years, state tax support for postsecondary education operations in Nebraska has increased by approximately 261 percent. This places Nebraska second among the "Big 8" states in state tax support growth. In the past two years state tax support has increased by aproximately 24 percent for postsecondary education, also second among "Big 8" states. At 119 dollars per capita, Nebraska ranks twelfth among the states in the nation for fiscal year 1981-82 in state support for postsecondary education.

My budget recommendation for FY 1982-83 provides for an increase of more than 11.4 million dollars from the state general fund for operation of postsecondary education. This amounts to a 6.3 percent increase over FY 1981-82. The increases are as follows:

University of Nebraska -- 5.9 percent increase from 141.1 million dollars to 149.4 million dollars. When I became Governor this budget was 108 million dollars.

State Colleges -- 8.3 percent increase from 21.7 million dollars to 23.5 million dollars. When I became Governor this budget was 17.3 million dollars.

Community Vocational Technical Colleges -- 7.0 percent increase from 18.7 million dollars to 20.0 million dollars. When I became Governor this budget was 15.5 million dollars.

The recommendation for the University is in a lump-sum format. The Regents have the constitutional right and duty to allocate the State General Fund appropriation and other revenue sources among the campuses and functions. The recommendation includes the 5 percent salary increase plus an extra amount for discretionary salary and fringe benefit cost. In calculating these increases, I have incorporated President Roskens' announced plan to reduce "state aided" employment by 2 percent during the current fiscal year.

For the State Colleges, I am recommending a 1.8 million dollar, or 8.3 percent, increase in state support. Salary policy and operating expense allowances are similar to those for the University, specifically including extra funds for fringe benefit costs. The Trustees are provided with flexibility to allocate funds and are provided with a discretionary fund in the Board Office. The discretionary fund could be used for such requested items as the Kearney Nursing program, a business faculty position at Peru, computer cost funding at Chadron and throughout the system, instructional equipment, fringe benefit and salary increases, or other priorities of the Board. The appropriation in the discretionary fund may be transferred to the Colleges and become part of the permanent operating budget of the Colleges at the discretion of the Board.

The Community Vocational Technical Colleges are provided with an increase of 1.3 million dollars, or 7.0 percent. While the colleges are not a state agency, salary and inflationary allowances were taken into consideration when reviewing their request for state aid. According to state statute, it is the authority and responsibility of the Area Boards to allocate the state aid they receive in a fiscally sound and efficient manner.

For the Postsecondary Education Coordinating Commission, three full-time positions are funded from state tax dollars in the Administration budget. In addition, the State Student Incentive Grant Program is funded in the same program and in the same manner as it has been for the past five years. An amount of 180,000 dollars of state tax dollars is recommended for the new State Scholarship Program. Of this amount, which is recommended to be appropriated in a new and separate program, approximately 10,000 dollars is estimated for use in administration of the program.

POSTSECONDARY EDUCATION: CAPITAL CONSTRUCTION

The recommendation for Capital Construction at the University includes reaffirmations of funding for FY 1982-83 totaling 1.3 million dollars for the planned School of Veterinary Medicine. This reaffirmation is made with the understanding contained in LB 245, that actual construction will not proceed until both federal and private funding are in hand, and other states have fully agreed to the project.

In addition, 250,000 dollars is provided for miscellaneous life safety, energy conservation, and minor instructional classroom renovations. These funds may be distributed systemwide according to priorities established by the Board of Regents.

Also funded is the 575,000 dollar request for the incinerator at the Medical Center. This project has both life safety and energy conservation components.

Funding in the amount of 124,460 dollars has been provided for Preliminary Program Planning through the schematics phase for the proposed Animal Science Complex.

The Board of Trustees of the State Colleges is provided 1.9 million dollars of reaffirmation funding for the addition to the Kearney Library. Also provided is 200,000 dollars for systemwide life safety, energy conservation, and minor instructional classroom renovations. These funds may be distributed systemwide according to priorities established by the Board.

It is also recommended that the Board utilize the 111,000 dollars recommended for the Chadron Activities Center to construct the underground drainage system for the campus as indicated as an alternate in the recently completed Program Statement. The completion of this system is viewed as necessary before the new construction takes place on the campus.

Funding in the amount of 650,000 dollars has also been provided for the first phase of actual construction on the A.O. Thomas renovation project at Kearney State College.

NATURAL RESOURCES

Water remains the key issue in natural resource management in Nebraska. In 1979, the state initiated a series of studies to guide state policy on many water problems. Already finished are major studies on Water Use Preferences, Instream Flow Policies, and Groundwater Reservoir Management. More studies are underway, and when completed will provide the state with full information and options on water policies. My recommendation for FY 1982-83 continues support for the water planning process and includes 100,000 dollars of new appropriation, plus reappropriated balances for a study of the critical Sandhills region.

Development of water projects and conservation of water are important to Nebraska's future. The recommendation for the Resources Development Fund is for the same amount as the current year, an increase of 190 percent over the level of funding made available four years ago. The recommendation for the Water Conservation Fund represents a 113 percent increase over the level of funding made available four years ago. Because construction costs are declining and bids are coming in considerably lower than estimated, there will be savings on existing projects that can be used to fund additional projects. As of November 1981, there were more than 500,000 dollars of such savings in just the Resources Development Fund.

The level recommended for the Resources Development Fund will provide approximately 3.4 million dollars to continue the subsequent phases of projects currently in progress, or to begin new projects.

An additional 3 million dollars is recommended in the Department of Environmental Control's budget to finance the state's share of the Waste Water Construction Program. This is a significant increase over current year funding but is necessary because of the anticipated level of construction activity during next fiscal year.

TRANSPORTATION

A key factor in our state's economy is our highway system. Our investment in that system is large but the return is substantially greater. Without the ability to move our agricultural products and the production of our manufacturers, our economy would come to a standstill.

The recently enacted Variable Gas Tax has proven to be of significant help in speeding up the construction and maintenance programs of the Department of Roads. The wisdom and foresight of Nebraska in this area are being seen in the large number of other states which have adopted or proposed gasoline tax increases. The recommendation which I am making will maintain the Variable Gas Tax at the present 2 percent rate. I am proposing that the state's program of aid to rural and urban mass transit programs be funded at the current level. I am providing to the Speaker a bill which would change the source of funds for this program from the General Fund to the Highway Trust Fund. This change is well merited in my opinion, and I hope you agree.

I am also submitting legislation which will postpone for one year the issuance of new license plates. This action will save the state an estimated 2 million dollars during this difficult financial period. I hope Nebraskans will consider their present battered and dented plates as badges of honor in Cheyenne and our other 92 counties and a testament to our determination to restrain state spending.

HUMAN SERVICES

In the preparation of this year's budget, priority was given to the human services programs.

For the kidney dialysis program in the Department of Health, a deficit appropriation of 100,000 dollars is recommended for the current year, along with full funding for next year. Dramatic increases have been experienced in this area and program changes will be required if costs are to be brought under control.

Twice this Legislature has overriden my veto of 400,000 dollars allocated to the Department of Health for cancer research. I have gotten the message. But, while I have included the 400,000 dollars in my recommendation, along with the 600,000 dollars for Department of Public Institutions alcohol treatment programs, I am compelled to advise you that any attempt to increase these amounts will receive an immediate veto as not wise priority use of available funds.

Included in the recommendation for the Department of Health is an additional 70,000 dollars for the Medical Student Assistance Program to bring the total funding to the 280,000 dollar level originally contemplated when the program was started. This program is an important component in our efforts to increase the availability of health care in our medically under-served rural areas.

Funds are provided to the Department of Public Institutions to continue the movement of patients from Beatrice and to support those moved in previous years.

An increase of 7.2 percent, or 1.9 million dollars, is recommended for the Department of Corrections. Within that recommendation, additional funds are provided to deal with the increased population in our correctional facilities.

Charles Benson has provided outstanding leadership for this agency. He is working hard to keep costs under control and provide a model correctional program. In line with those efforts, it is strongly recommended that the various funding programs be combined to provide maximum management flexibility.

Included in my deficit recommendation is a transfer of 75,000 dollars of Corrections' cash funds from other programs within the agency to Correctional Industries during the current fiscal year. This will permit the purchase of additional tooling to allow the expansion of production. A high priority for next year will be placed on improving this vitally important program.

You will recall that the panel of experts I invited to assess our corrections system identified inmate idleness as a problem requiring priority attention and that the Chief Justice of the United States, in his recent speech in Lincoln, emphasized the need to make our corrections institutions "factories with fences." We agree, and continued emphasis will be given to work release, educational release and prison industries.

Last year the Veterans Aid Trust Fund was increased by 500,000 dollars, and an additional 500,000 dollars was planned for this year. With the increased interest earnings that have been realized and other efficiencies of operation, I am recommending 250,000 dollars of additional funds for FY 1982-83 and 250,000 dollars for FY 1983-84. Our analysis indicates that with the additional 250,000 dollars, adequate funds will be available during FY 1982-83 to meet anticipated needs.

General funds have been increased for the Commission on Aging to allow the state to take advantage of the federal funds available to support the services which are so important to our senior citizens.

Let me also direct your attention to five proposals of the Government Improvement Task Force, chaired so ably by Earl Luff. These proposals are deserving of your attention and action this year:

LB 535 which provides for biennial appropriations. I share the view of the Government Improvement Task Force that biennial, rather than annual appropriations, will result in a longer term view of spending priorities and is likely to result in less total spending than annual appropriations.

Another important Task Force Recommendation is embodied in LB 454.

LB 454 provides for setting of income tax rates by increments of one half of 1% and sales tax rates of one quarter of 1 percent. Under present law sales tax rates can be changed only in 1/2 percent increments. That is approximately 47 million dollars at this time. The taxpayers would be well served if we had greater flexibility in adjusting our tax rates.

Other Government Improvement Task Force bills deserving your attention are:

LB 542 which eliminates the little used Weather Modification Commission;

Senator Warner's measure to provide for Legislative review of the Board of Educational Lands and Funds budget; and

A bill which will place all state aircraft under the operational authority of the Department of Aeronautics.

THE YEAR AHEAD

The year ahead of us will be a difficult one. But let's face it with confidence--a confidence based in large part on an abiding faith in this State and in its people.

We have laid a firm foundation for better government in the past three years. We have taken significant steps to protect and develop the resources of the state, both natural and human. We have appointed coordinators in both areas to serve as extensions of the Governor's office.

In the natural resource field, Jack Hart has been on the job for nearly a year. In that time he has demonstrated that much progress can be achieved through sensible administrative procedures and effective coordination of the many agencies involved in the planning and management of our soil and water.

Competition for water is becoming intense, both within the state and from interests outside the state. We intend to resist vigorously any threats to Nebraska's water supplies from outside our borders while we seek the most efficient possible use of supplies within the state.

One of the priority measures you will be considering during this session is LB 375 which has been extensively studied, debated and altered. That process has led to an amended version which, I understand, will be offered in the Public Works Committee. I am pleased to indicate my support for that measure. It represents a sound and sensible approach for allowing local areas to take steps to protect their underground water supplies before shortages become critical. Let's also move ahead on the Natural Resources Commission recommendation of recognizing instream uses as valid and important uses of certain stream reaches in Nebraska.

John Knight, one of your former most respected colleagues, has assumed his new post as coordinator for human resources only within the past few weeks. As you know, John headed a task force I formed to prepare state government for the changes made by the Reagan Administration and the Congress in the handling of federal funds. With his considerable experience in the field, and as my principal liaison with the Legislature, John has the background and the competence to improve the administration of human services programs of the state. I am confident that he will have the full cooperation of the Legislature; Be assured that you will have his full dedication and support.

Nineteen eighty-two will be a trying year for Nebraska agriculture. Our farmers face critical problems of rising costs and declining prices. Less than 4 percent of America's population sustains the rest of the nation because of the truly remarkable growth of agricultural productivity. The American farmer is industry and labor's biggest customer, the consumer's best supplier and the steward of the soil which constitutes our basic wealth for this and future generations.

And yet, the unhappy fact is that the farmer is not rewarded for his efficiency and his productivity. As his costs--particularly interest payments and fuel prices--continue to rise, the prices he receives for his products actually decline.

There is a practical limit to what state government can effectively do that is of immediate help in this situation, beyond what I have been describing, namely holding down government spending to ease the tax burden. And state government can help by vigorously promoting exports, general marketing and product utilization of our bountiful products. Overall, Nebraska farm product exports amount to almost two billion dollars annually. I am proud of the fact that overseas sales of farm products in which the Nebraska Department of Agriculture was directly involved tripled to nearly 160 million dollars in 1981 over 1980. We plan to again step up our efforts in this direction in the coming year.

My fervent hope is that 1982 will see a reversal of the disturbing trends of the past year and that our farmers and ranchers can once again look forward to a fair return on their investment and their labor. It is of critical importance to our state. I recall that my colleague in the Congress, Jamie Whitten of Mississippi, once told me that each dollar of wealth taken from the soil generates 7 dollars of income throughout the economy.

The downturn in the agricultural economy has reflected itself in our state's unemployment rate. At 4.3 percent, our rate is only about half the national average. Nebraska is the fourth lowest among all the states in its jobless rate. Still, that is of small consolation to those 33,000 of our workers who are out of jobs.

That is why I have directed the Department of Economic Development to assign the highest priority to the attraction of new industry and to the retention and expansion of companies that are already here. My budget includes 25,000 dollars for industrial start-up training as one way of encouraging industrial development in Nebraska. We will continue to press ahead as diligently as we can.

Just as high interest rates are making life miserable for Nebraska farmers and ranchers, so have they denied thousands of our families the realization of the dream of home ownership.

Through the activities of the Nebraska Mortgage Finance Fund, more than 5,000 families have seen that dream come true. With the recent easing of interest rates, I hope the Fund will be able to issue more mortgage revenue bonds so that more families may participate. Much will depend on the action of the Congress which is considering legislation which would deprive states and cities of this valuable financing tool. I solicit your support in opposing that ill-considered legislation. Decent and aforable housing for all our citizens must remain one of our primary goals.

In closing, let me repeat: The state of the State is sound. It is sound because we have exercised restraint and fiscal prudence. It will remain sound if we stay true to our course.

It was 90 years ago--in 1892--that Robert Louis Stevenson described a trip by train across the Nebraska prairie in these words:

"To one hurrying by steam there was a certain exhilaration in this spacious vacancy, this greatness of the air, this discovery of the whole arch of heaven. . ."

The virgin prairies have long been broken by the settler's plow. Cities and towns and villages established by immigrant pioneer families now lie along the path the writer followed those nine decades ago. Still, there abides in Nebraska a strong sense of that indominitable pioneer spirit which persevered and conquered the wilderness against imposing odds.

Let us, then, join together in that spirit to confront the challenges before us, as our courageous pioneer ancestors did. It will not be easy. Few things really worth doing are easy.

But with civility and with reason, we can fulfill the heavy responsibilities we bear. We can provide able, honest and compassionate leadership to the million and a half men, women and children who are proud to be called Nebraskans.

The Committee escorted the Governor from the Chamber.

Opinion No. 171

January 7, 1982

Dear Senator Haberman:

You have asked us the following question: "Are there any constitutional problems with establishing mandatory minimum terms of imprisonment for individuals convicted under Section 28-1205 of the crime of using or unlawfully possessing a firearm or other deadly weapon during the commission of a felony?" You indicate in your letter that you intend to introduce legislation to establish such a rule of law in the State of Nebraska in the present session.

There has been a great deal of litigation concerning this particular issue around the country in recent years. As a result of this litigation, a number of articles have been written in legal periodicals and encyclopedias dealing with these questions. Some of these articles comment: Length of sentence as a violation of constitutional provisions prohibiting cruel and unusual punishment, 33 A.L.R.3d 335, and validity of statutes prohibiting or restricting parole, probation or suspension of sentence in cases of violent crime, 100 A.L.R.3d 431. While there are other comments related to this general issue, we believe that without citing the specific cases relied upon in these annotations, it is fair to quote from the summary of the last referred to annotation:

> As to the validity of statutes prohibiting or restricting parole, probation, or suspension of sentence in cases of violent crimes, the courts have been uniform in upholding the statutes as against a number of different challenges.

Although this specific issue has not been raised before the Nebraska Supreme Court, we believe that the weight of authority is such that our court would be likely to hold that a statute which provided for a mandatory minimum term of imprisonment for individuals convicted under Neb.Rev.Stat. §28-1205 (Reissue 1979), as you propose, would be found to be a constitutional exercise of the authority of the Legislature.

Sincerely,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 172
January 7, 1982

Dear Senator Beyer:

You have sent us a copy of a proposed bill, and have asked our opinion as to its constitutionality. The bill would amend Neb.Rev.Stat. §2-1213 (Supp. 1981). The section as it now reads provides for races limited to Nebraska-bred horses, and provides that three percent of the first money of every purse won by a Nebraska-bred horse shall be paid to the breeder of such horse. It also defines a Nebraska-bred horse. The amendment to this section which raises constitutional questions reads as follows:

> The Nebraska Racing Commission may designate official registrars for purpose of registration and to certify the eligibility of Nebraska-bred horses. An official registrar shall perform the above duties in accordance with policies and procedures adopted by the State Racing Commission in the current Rules and Regulations of the Commission. The Commission may authorize the official registrar to collect specific fees to compensate for expenses of the registry in the performance of its duties. The amount of said fee or fees shall be established by the Commission and shall not be changed without Commission approval. Fees shall not exceed $50 per horse.
> Any decision or action taken by the official registry shall be subject to review by the Commission or may be taken up by the Commission on its own initiative.

We considered a very similar proposal in our opinion No. 134, dated July 31, 1981, addressed to you. In that proposal, however, the Commission was specifically authorized to delegate to certain organizations some of the Commission's powers and duties. We cited cases to the effect that governmental powers could not be delegated to private individuals or organizations, and were of the opinion that some of the provisions of that bill might run afoul of such prohibition. In addition to the cases cited in that opinion, we call your attention to Summerville v. North Platte Valley Weather Control District, 170 Neb. 46, 101 N.W.2d 748 (1960), in which the court said that the Legislature could not delegate to private individuals either legislative or judicial functions.

The wording of your proposed bill is somewhat different from the bill previously considered. For one thing, it does not purport to delegate any of the Commission's powers, but only authorizes the Commission to designate registrars to register eligible horses and certify their eligibility to the Commission. While it may be argued that the change is more in form than in substance, and that the Supreme Court would look through the form to see what the bill actually does, we think the change is of some significance, because your bill does not wave the red flag of "delegation of powers," and it can be argued that all your bill does is authorize the Commission to appoint someone to assist the Commission by investigating facts and certifying its findings to the Commission. The Commission would, then, be the ultimate authority making the finding of whether or not a particular horse was a Nebraska-bred horse, as defined by statute, which is a quasi-judicial function.

In our earlier opinion we suggested that the bill being considered could be construed to permit the private organization to set the registration fees, a legislative function. Your version eliminates any such possible construction by providing that the fee will be set by the Commission. It further puts a limit of $50 per horse on the fee.

A slight question may remain as to whether sufficient standards have been set to guide the Commission in setting the registration fee. In Gillette Dairy, Inc. v. Nebraska Dairy Products Board, 192 Neb. 89, 219 N.W.2d 214 (1974), the court noted that a grant of power to an administrative agency must be administered in accordance with standards prescribed in the act. Your bill permits the Commission to authorize the registrar to collect fees "to compensate for expenses" of the registrar in the performance of its duties. To make it perfectly clear, it might be well to provide that the Commission, in setting the fee, should set it at such a figure as would reasonably compensate the registrar for its expenses in connection with registration of Nebraska-bred horses.

While the answer to your question is not completely without doubt, we believe we can successfully defend your bill, especially with the amendments suggested in the preceding paragraph.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 173
January 8, 1982

Dear Senator Haberman:

You ask for our opinion on a certain question. You indicate that you intend to introduce legislation requiring mandatory jail sentences for individuals convicted of driving while intoxicated and for those convicted of using or possessing a deadly weapon during the commission of a felony. In light of that intention you pose the following question: "In reference to the above, does the State of Nebraska have the authority to confine inmates in prison, even if prison conditions violate the U.S. and Nebraska constitutions?"

The short, misleading and only partially accurate answer to your question is no, the state may not confine inmates in conditions violative of the U.S. and Nebraska Constitutions.

We must qualify this answer with several assumptions which we will delineate in the following paragraphs.

First, as you are well aware, the State of Nebraska has recently completed several new correctional institutions and is about to start on another in Omaha. In light of these circumstances, we believe it is unlikely that the State of Nebraska will be subject to a conditions lawsuit in the near future.

For the purposes of this letter, the question of incarceration in local jails is subject to such wide variation that we will simply say that some jails may be so bad that it would be improper to incarcerate people therein but alternatives should be available to take care of any specific or isolated problems existing in the state.

As a practical matter, we believe that the facilities existing in the state are currently sufficient to meet any currently applicable standards. Thus, the question of whether or not individuals convicted in the State of Nebraska could be confined in conditions that are violative of either the federal or state Constitution is essentially irrelevant.

As you are well aware, there has been a great deal of litigation in federal courts in recent years concerning conditions in penal institutions. A number of federal courts have held that particular institutions and conditions therein violate federal or state constitutional provisions. The remedies which have been fashioned by these courts vary greatly. At least one court has ordered a reduction to set numbers. That and other orders have not detailed what is to be done with the inmates who are incarcerated, but simply have ordered state action to bring the institutions into compliance with minimum standards.

Absent a specific factual situation, it is difficult to give any coherent answer to the question of whether or not a particular inmate may be incarcerated in a particular institution. That question would have to be dealt with once the case arose. As a practical matter, from the standpoint of the state, we see no likelihood of it being impossible for the state to incarcerate a convicted felon under a proper sentence within the facilities currently available or presently planned. With respect to local jails, such questions would have to be treated on an individual basis in the locality involved in terms of the options available to the incarcerating authority.

While this response has been very general in nature, we hope that it is of some assistance in resolving the question you have raised.

Sincerely,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 174
January 8, 1982

Dear Senator Sieck:

You have submitted to us a proposed bill which would amend Neb.Rev.Stat. §77-202 (Supp. 1980) by adding the following to the list of properties exempted from taxation by that section:

> Transmission and distribution lines, transformers and associated substation facilities within the State of Nebraska owned by non-profit cooperative corporations and associations and used or useful for the transmission and distribution of electric power and energy, except that such lines, transformers > and facilities which were assessed during 1979 shall continue to be assessed and taxed based upon the 1979 assessments with respect to such property.

You have asked our opinion as to the constitutionality of such an amendment. We believe that an exemption of personal property of this kind could be sustained, but that the proposal contains two provisions which cannot.

We construe the exemption to apply only to personal property, although the term "associated substation facilities" is somewhat unclear to us. This exemption, to be valid, must be authorized by the provision of Article VIII, Section 2 of the Nebraska Constitution permitting the Legislature to classify personal property in such manner as it sees fit, and to exempt any of such classes, or to exempt all personal property. Clearly, real estate could not be exempted under such a provision, and we construe your proposed bill to pertain only to personal property.

One question that must be answered is whether the classification is reasonable. While Article VIII, Section 2 authorizes the Legislature to classify personal property "as it sees fit," we are confident that the Supreme Court would require that the classification be reasonable. Unreasonable classification is prohibited by Article III, Section 18 of the Constitution, and it would require extraordinarily explicit language in the Constitution to convince the court that what it considered unreasonable classification was to be authorized. Even then, such classification would probably run afoul of the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment to the Federal Constitution.

The first classification we will consider is that between property owned by "non-profit cooperative corporations and associations" and others. The property owned by the non-profit organization would be exempt, while similar property owned by other persons or entities would not. We believe this is reasonable classification. The Legislature is given a wide range of discretion in classifying, and it appears to us that there are differences between non-profit corporations and associations, on the one hand, and private persons or profit-making corporations, on the other, to justify different treatment of them in this way.

We recognize that in State ex rel. Meyer v. Story, 173 Neb. 741, 14 N.W.2d 769 (1962), the court said that the provision authorizing the Legislature to provide a different method of taxing motor vehicles did not authorize it to provide a different method of taxing motor vehicle dealers. However, we believe the case can be distinguished, because the constitutional provision being construed in Story did not have the specific classification authority we are dealing with, and furthermore, it is, perhaps, more reasonable to treat non-profit organizations differently from other entities than it is to pick out a class of profit-making corporations or persons, such as motor vehicle dealers, for special treatment.

The other classification involved is that between lines, transformers, and facilities assessed during 1979, and similar property not assessed during that year. We find it difficult to justify such a classification. Exactly why property which has been, or will be, acquired after January 1, 1979, should now be exempt from taxation, but similar property acquired before January 1, 1979, should be taxed escapes us. There is nothing which "naturally suggests the justice or expediency of diverse legislation with respect to the objects classified." See Shear v. County Board of Commissioners, 187 Neb. 849, 195 N.W.2d 151 (1972). Stahmer v. State, 192 Neb. 63, 218 N.W.2d 893 (1974) casts some doubt as to whether Article III, Section 18 applies to the classification of personal property under Article VIII, Section 2, but, as we indicated above, we cannot believe that the court would sustain a completely baseless classification, and even if Article III, Section 18 does not apply, the Equal Protection Clause does. We therefore doubt the validity of such a provision.

The bill would also provide that the property not exempted should continue to be assessed based upon the 1979 assessment. If this means that it shall continue, for as long as it is owned and used, to be assessed at the value ascribed to it as of January 1, 1979, it clearly violates the uniformity provisions of Article VIII, Section 1 of the Constitution. If it continues to be taxable, it must be taxed uniformly with other taxable property, and this uniformity includes uniformity in valuation.

We therefore conclude that it would be difficult to defend your proposed legislation in its present form.

Very truly yours

RESOLUTION

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 205.

Introduced by Carsten, 2nd District; Remmers, 1st District.

WHEREAS, the States of Nebraska and Iowa entered into a boundary compact in 1943 in which they reestablished the mutual boundary between them and specifically required that Iowa recognized titles, mortgages and liens good in Nebraska as to any lands Nebraska may cede to Iowa.

WHEREAS, the State of Iowa, since 1959, has been aggressive in asserting ownership of lands lying east of the Iowa-Nebraska Boundary, many of which were or are owned by Nebraska residents.

WHEREAS, the Nebraska Legislature in its Seventy-Third Session in 1963 passed Legislative Resolution 47 expressing concern over this practice by Iowa officials and authorizing the Attorney General to intervene in such actions or to initiate an original action or actions in the Supreme Court on behalf of the State of Nebraska.

WHEREAS, upon finding the State of Iowa was violating the Iowa-Nebraska Boundary Compact of 1943, the Attorney General in 1964 filed an original action against the State of Iowa in the United States Supreme Court, said action being entitled "State of Nebraska v. State of Iowa, No-17 Original".

WHEREAS, the Special Master in said action specifically found, and the U. S. Supreme Court affirmed, that the State of Iowa was violating the 1943 Compact, but that the Court refused to enter an injunction against further lawsuits claiming title to lands owned by Nebraska residents.

WHEREAS, since that decision was rendered the State of Iowa has continued to aggressively assert title to lands east of the Iowa-Nebraska Boundary many of which are owned by Nebraska residents, and there are at least two such actions in the Iowa courts now.

WHEREAS, individual owners of Nebraska lands and individual Nebraska citizens in defending their ownership of such lands cannot be in a position to match the financial and legal resources available to officers of the State of Iowa in pursuit of their present policies in attempting to acquire title to lands involved.

WHEREAS, the continuing lawsuits by Iowa officials seeking to acquire title to lands owned by Nebraska citizens may constitute a breach of the Iowa-Nebraska Boundary Compact in 1943 and may be in direct conflict with the United States Supreme Court decision in Nebraska v. Iowa, 406 U.S. 117 (1973).

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-SEVENTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, SECOND SESSION:

1. That the State of Nebraska is deeply concerned on behalf of its citizens with the aggressive policies pursued by officers of the State of Iowa in the acquisition by that State of certain lands along the Missouri River.

2. That within the limits of appropriations specifically made for that purpose, the Attorney General of the State of Nebraska be authorized to employ special counsel or assistant Attorneys General to examine all such actions initiated or contemplated by the State of Iowa; and where such action appears to be justified to protect the legitimate interests of Nebraska citizens or the State of Nebraska itself or to assure compliance by Iowa officials with the 1943 Iowa-Nebraska Boundary Compact and with the decision of the U. S. Supreme Court in Nebraska v. Iowa, 406 U.S. 117 (1973), that he intervene on behalf of the State of Nebraska in any such actions or proceedings initiated by Iowa officials, or initiate or revive any and all ncessary original actions in the Supreme Court of the United States to accomplish the objectives outlined herein, or take whatever action he feels is necessary and right to protect the interests of this state.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 178

January 12, 1982

Dear Senator Fowler:

You have requested an opinion of this office concerning whether the current provisions of LB 231, if passed, would have application to the calculation of sentences of prisoners presently incarcerated in local correctional facilities. In our opinion the provisions of LB 231, section 3 could not be applied to the incarceration of any prisoner sentenced prior to the effective date of the act. In fact, as LB 231 is currently drafted, the provisions of that act would in all likelihood be inapplicable to any prisoner sentenced prior to the formal adoption of section 3 by the various district courts of this state. LB 231, section 1.

The concept of reducing a criminal sentence to encourage a prisoner's good behavior while incarcerated is not new to this state. Neb.Rev.Stat. Sections 83-1,107 et seq. (Reissue 1976). In a series of cases our Supreme Court has considered the question of whether legislation providing for similar sentence reductions may be applied to sentences imposed prior to the effective date of the enactment. Johnson and Cunningham v. Exon, 199 Neb. 154, 256 N.W.2d 869 (1977); Gochenour v. Bolin, 208 Neb. 444, 303 N.W.2d 775 (1981); Whited v. Bolin, 210 Neb. 32, ___N.W.2d ___(1981) (motion for rehearing pending). This line of cases leads us to the opinion noted above.

To apply the provisions of LB 231, section 3 to the incarceration of prisoners sentenced prior to the effective date of this act would potentially reduce the amount of time a prisoner would serve on that sentence and thus allow an earlier release from custody than that contemplated by the court at sentencing. "The basis for the [Johnson & Cunningham] holding was that an earlier discharge constituted a form of clemency or commutation of sentence which only the Board of Pardons had the power to exercise." Whited v. Bolin, Id., 210 Neb. at 34 (Emphasis added.) Our courts having specifically held that the Legislature is without the power to retroactively reduce the sentences of prisoners sentenced to state correctional facilities, we see no basis for concluding a different result would be forthcoming where prisoners sentenced to local correctional facilities are concerned.

Yours truly,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 179
January 12, 1982

Dear Senator Labedz:

In your letter of January 8, 1982, you ask our opinion on the effect of the adoption of the two constitutional amendments concerning legislative salaries contained in LB 138 and LB 531. Specifically, you are concerned with the possible adoption of the amendment contained in LB 138 in the 1982 primary election, and the subsequent adoption of the constitutional amendment contained in LB 531 in the 1982 general election.

LB 138 eliminates the current language contained in Article III, Section 7, concerning salaries to be paid to legislators and substitutes new language about salaries in its place. LB 138 was passed in the last session of the Legislature and the amendment contained therein will be on the 1982 primary ballot. LB 531, on the other hand, eliminates the existing language in Article III, Section 7, concerning legislative salaries, provides specifically that legislators shall receive no compensation, and states that each member shall be reimbursed for actual expenses incurred in the performance of his or her duties. This bill is currently on final reading, and also provides that this amendment would be placed on the 1982 primary ballot.

You state in your letter that if both constitutional amendments were passed on the primary ballot the one receiving the greatest number of votes would prevail. This assumption does not appear to be correct. In the case of In re Senate File 31, 25 Neb. 864 (1889), the court was faced with a similar question involving two conflicting and irreconcilable constitutional amendments which were to be offered on the same ballot. The court noted that, "If both should receive a majority of all the votes cast, however, the amendments being irreconcilable, both would fail." Id. at 881. Since the above proposed amendments likewise appear to be irreconcilable, should both receive a majority of votes in the 1982 primary election, which is the only requirement for passage of an amendment, then the same logic would apply and both would fail.

If the amendment contained in LB 138 was adopted in the 1982 primary election, and the amendment contained in LB 531 was subsequently adopted in the 1982 general election, the results would appear to be different. Even though the amendment contained in LB 531 does not eliminate the specific language contained in the LB 138 amendment, which would then be a part of the existing Constitution, the language contained in the new amendment would necessarily be in conflict with the existing language. "In that situation, the newer provisions would control and the prior provisions would be implicitly repealed." Cunningham v. Exon, 207 Neb. 513, at 519, 300 N.W.2d 6 (1980). Consequently in such a situation, the amendment contained in LB 531 would in effect repeal the language of the amendment adopted in LB 138 and would accordingly govern the content of the provisions of Article III, Section 7 of the Nebraska Constitution.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

(4) The development of additional hard-surface roads as necessary to provide an adequate system of farm-to-market roads.

Sec. 4. UNANIMOUS CONSENT - Print in Journal

Messrs. V. Johnson and Landis asked unanimous consent to print the following amendment to LB 215 in the Journal. No objections. So ordered.

Req. No. 2513

1. On page 3, line 20, after the comma insert "the court shall transfer jurisdiction to a juvenile court established pursuant to Chapter 43, article 2, unless a showing can be made that the district court is a more appropriate forum. In making such determination the court may consider such factors as cost to the parties, undue delay, congestion of dockets, and relative resources available for investigative and supervisory assistance. If no such transfer is made".

2. On page 4, after line 27 insert the following:

"Following a determination that one or more of the conditions specified in this subdivision exist, the court may take under advisement the issue of termination of parental rights for a period not to exceed six months under such terms and conditions as the court may prescribe to correct the conditions found to exist and prepare the parent to resume proper responsibility for the care and supervision of the children. At the end of such six-month period, the court shall terminate all parental rights between a parent and the minor children if the court finds such action to be in the best interests of the minor children and it appears that the parent has failed to correct the conditions found to exist or is otherwise unable or unwilling to resume proper responsibility for the care and supervision of the children. The court may take under advisement the issue of termination of parental rights for an additional period of six months under such terms and conditions as the court may prescribe to correct the conditions found to exist and prepare the parent to resume proper responsibility for the care and supervision of the children. At the end of such additional six-month period the court shall terminate all parental rights between a parent and the minor children when the court finds such action to be in the best interests of the minor children and it appears that the parent has failed to correct the conditions found to exist or is otherwise unable or unwilling to resume proper responsibility for the care and supervision of the children, or shall dismiss the application to terminate parental rights.

When the parental rights of both parents are terminated, the court shall place the children as provided in Chapter 43, article 2.

(5) Whenever children are removed from both parents, whether natural or adoptive, the court shall appoint an attorney as guardian ad litem, who shall protect the interests of such children and shall submit to the court every one hundred twenty days a report concerning the care, custody, education, and supervision of the children. If it appears to the guardian ad litem that the best interests and welfare of the children may require the termination of the parental rights of one or both parents, he or she shall apply to the court in writing or orally on the record for such termination. Whenever children are removed from both natural or adoptive parents whose parental rights have not been terminated, the court shall schedule a hearing to review the placement of such children no less than annually.".

3. On page 5, line 1, before "Whenever" insert "(6)".

Introduced by: Koch, 12th District; Vickers, 38th District; Warner, 25th District; Hoagland, 6th District; Lamb, 43rd District; Beutler, 28th District; Hefner, 19th District; Kremer, 34th District; Wiitala, 31st District; Goll, 16th District; Fenger, 45th District; Beyer, 3rd District.

WHEREAS, the federal government historically has recognized and accepted its responsibility for providing public educational opportunities for dependents of personnel in its uniformed services and for those American Indians residing on Indian reservations; and

WHEREAS, for more than one hundred years, this responsibility was met through various funding acts such as the Lanham Act for the military and the Bureau of Indian Affairs for Indians and since 1950 under P.L. 874, otherwise known as impact aid; and

WHEREAS, the State of Nebraska has entered into agreements with the federal government which have substantially limited the availability of revenue resources at the local level in school districts which are severely impacted by federal activity; and

WHEREAS, appropriations for impact aid for fiscal year 1982 have already been reduced by almost fifty per cent below fiscal year 1981 levels based on a continuing resolution which expires in March, 1982, and this has led to uncertainities in planning for the current year's operation due to a possible cut back of up to six million dollars; and

WHEREAS, highly impacted districts cannot possibly be expected, nor is it fiscally possible in such districts, to replace the lost funds through increases in local property taxes since the tax dollars needed could exceed the actual valuation of the taxable property; and

WHEREAS, the State of Nebraska collects sales and income taxes to support public elementary and secondary education through the foundation and equalization program under which the impacted school districts currently receive the highest aid per pupil in the state; and

WHEREAS, further reductions have been proposed for impact aid in the current year and for fiscal year 1983.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-SEVENTH LEGISLATURE, SECOND SESSION:

1. That the Legislature opposes cuts in impact aid which cannot be replaced by local property taxes.

2. That the Legislature opposes shifting a recognized federal responsibility to state and local government.

3. That the Legislature request the federal government, through its executive and legislative branches, to reaffirm through adequate budget recommendations and appropriations its obligation for the education of those students in public school districts which are highly impacted by its actions.

4. That the Clerk of the Legislature send copies of this resolution to the President, the Office of Management and Budget, and the Department of Education, for their consideration, and copies to Nebraska's Congressional delegation, and appropriate committees of the Congress for their information.

Laid over.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 181
January 20, 1982

Dear Senator Pirsch:

This is in response to your questions pertaining to the effect of Nebraska Constitution, Article VII, Section 5, on LB 948 (your proposed forfeiture of Drug Profits Act).

The first question you ask is whether money which may be "forfeited" under section (1) (g) of that Act is defined as a "fine, penalty, or license."

The answer is that such "forfeited" money is a criminal penalty.

Whether the term "money" under section (1) (g) of that Act indicates a "fine, penalty, or license" depends upon the interpretation of the term "forfeiture" as used in that section. In other words, does "forfeiture" of money under section (1) (g) constitute a "fine, penalty, or license under that section?

First, it is noted that LB 948 pertains to revision or modification of Neb.Rev.Stat. §28-431 (Supp. 1980), which is found in the Crimes and Punishments section of the Nebraska Revised Statutes. LB 948, like the statutory section to which it pertains, is clearly concerned with a criminal matter, requiring court hearing prior to any "forfeiture" for violation of drug and narcotics laws.

With reference to crimes and criminal matters, Black's Law Dictionary (Fourth Edition, 1968), page 778, has defined "forfeiture" as "something imposed as a punishment for an offense [and] frequently associated with the word 'penalty.'"

As pointed out in Corpus Juris Secundum, the forfeiture of specific property "used by a person in the commission of, or in connection with the commission of, a crime [is] . . . a punishment for the crime. . . . the terms 'forfeiture' and 'penalty' are often used [in the criminal law] as being synonymous and interchangeable." 37 C.J.S., Forfeitures, §1, p. 5.

In addition, the Nebraska Supreme Court has apparently regarded the terms "penalty" and "forfeiture" as synonymous under the Nebraska criminal law.

For example, the case of School District of Omaha v. City of Omaha, 175 Neb. 21, 120 N.W.2d 267 (1963), discusses an attempt by the City of Omaha to "direct the payment of forfeited cash bail into the police relief and pension fund of the city" and it declares such an attempt to be "in direct conflict with Article VII, section 5 of the Constitution of Nebraska." The court goes on to say that "the Constitution provides that such penalties [referring to the forfeitures] shall be paid over to common schools." Supra. (Emphasis added.) The term "forfeiture" is synonymous with "penalty."

Next you ask whether the money forfeited pursuant to section (1) (g) of LB 948 may be diverted from the school fund by statute.

The answer is no. The money may not be diverted from the school fund by statute.

The plain language of the Nebraska Constitution, Article VII, section 5, is that:

> All fines, penalties, and license money, arising under the general laws of the state, except fines and penalties for violation of laws prohibiting the overloading of vehicles used upon the public roads and highways of this state, shall belong and be paid over to the counties respectively, where the same may be levied or imposed, and all fines, penalties, and license money arising under the rules, by-laws, or ordinances of cities, villages, precincts, or other municipal subdivision less than a county, shall belong and be paid over to the same respectively. All such fines, penalties, and license money shall be appropriated exclusively to the use and support of the common schools in the respective subdivisions where the same may accrue, . . .

As our court said in School District No. 54 v. School District of Omaha, 171 Neb. 769, 107 N.W.2d 744 (1961):

> The Legislature can not enact a valid law which conflicts with the Constitution. This court, as early as the case of City of Hastings v. Thorne, 8 Neb. 160, said: "That body (the Legislature) can legalize no act which they could not have authorized before it was done. In other words, they cannot validate that which the constitution either in express terms or by necessary implication prohibits."

Money forfeited pursuant to section (1) (g) of LB 948 is a penalty within the meaning of Article VII, Section 5, of the Nebraska Constitution, and the Legislature is therefore without authority to divert that money from the school fund by statute.

Finally, you have asked whether the use of a vehicle forfeited under LB 948 by the confiscating agency would be constitutional under Nebraska Constitution, Article VII, Section 5.

The answer is no. A confiscating agency may not use a vehicle which is forfeited under LB 948.

By defining the term "penalty" to include a "forfeiture" under the criminal law, we have also answered the question of whether a vehicle which is forfeited pursuant to LB 948 may be used by the confiscating agency.

As we stated earlier in this opinion, a criminal "forfeiture" is a "penalty." The "forfeiture" of a vehicle under LB 948 (a bill pertaining to a criminal matter) is therefore properly regarded as a "penalty." As a "penalty" it falls within the provisions of the Nebraska Constitution, Article VII, Section 5, and must be "appropriated exclusively to the use and support of the common schools."

The interpretation as expressed by this opinion is further supported by Nebraska Constitution, Article VII, Section 7, which states in part, that:

> The following are hereby declared to be perpetual funds for common school purposes of which the annual interest or income only can be appropriated, to-wit:
> . . . .
> Fourth. The net proceeds of lands and other property and effects that may come to this state, by escheat or forfeiture, . . .

The foregoing opinion is consistent with our Attorney General opinion of April 25, 1956, page 226, which we have attached for your consideration.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 182

Dear Senator Schmit:

In your letter of January 18, 1982, you call our attention to LB 816, and ask us several questions about the validity of Neb.Rev.Stat. §§77-27,136 to 77-27,137.01 (Supp. 1980), some of which would be amended by LB 816. Ordinarily we do not render opinions as to the constitutionality of legislation which has already been enacted, but because of the relationship of these sections to LB 816, we must depart from this rule.

LB 816 disposes of an additional 70 million dollars in state aid to schools, technical community colleges, counties and incorporated municipalities, presumably the 70 million dollars which would have been distributed pursuant to Neb.Rev.Stat. §77-3611 to §77-3617 (Supp. 1981), which would be repealed by LB 816. Section 1 of the bill allocates an additional 41 million dollars to the School Foundation and Equalization Fund, and Section 2 allocates an additional 2 million dollars for aid to technical community colleges. You have asked no questions about the provisions of Sections 1 and 2 of the bill, so we will not discuss them herein.

Section 3 of the bill amends §77-27,136 by increasing the aid for governmental subdivisions from $12,600,000 to $39,600,000, an increase of 27 million dollars, the balance of the 70 million dollars we previously referred to. Section 4 amends §77-27,137 to provide that 16 million dollars of this increase would go to the general funds of the counties. The balance, pursuant to §27-27,136.01, would go to incorporated municipalities.

LB 816 would not change the formula under which funds are allocated under §§77-27,137 and 77-27,137.01, but only the amounts involved. Your questions involve the validity of the formula presently found in those sections.

Section 77-27,137 provides that the portion of the fund to be distributed for deposit in the general funds of the counties shall be allocated to the counties 50 percent on the basis of the ratio of the population of each county to the population of the entire state, and 50 percent on the basis of the ratio of the valuation of real estate in each county to the valuation of real estate in the entire state. We feel that basing a distribution on assessed valuation in the manner described may be subject to successful constitutional attack.

We discussed a very similar provision in LB 284 in Opinion No. 78, dated April 14, 1981, to Senator Carsten. We discussed the question at some length in that opinion, and will not repeat it here. We were unable to find any rational relationship between assessed valuations, as used in LB 284, and the needs or entitlement of a particular county and the political subdivisions contained therein for state aid. We stated that such a method of distribution tended to give the most money to those who needed it least. After the passage of LB 284 we filed an action in the District Court for Lancaster County asking for a determination of the validity of that provision. The District Court has recently held it unconstitutional, and the case will, we understand, be appealed. The final answer to the validity of such provisions will be supplied by the decision in that case. Payments to counties and incorporated municipalities have been made under the formula prescribed by §§77-27,137 and 77-27,137.05 since 1969. You ask whether all such payments have been improper or illegal. We cannot give you a categorical answer until the Supreme Court has ruled on the validity of the similar provisions of LB 284, but obviously we believe the statute authorizing such payments to be invalid. The payments were not "improper or illegal" in the sense of implying any wrongdoing on the part of the state officials who made such payments in accordance with statutory directions, but may well be "improper and illegal" because the statute was constitutionally invalid.

You ask whether, if the statutory method of distribution is unconstitutional, the counties and municipalities which have received such funds can be required to refund them to the state. We know of no clear precedent on this question, but we do point out that in State ex rel. Douglas v. Marsh. 207 Neb. 598, 300 N.W.2d 181 (1980) we were challenging another distribution formula. The first distribution under that formula was to be made while the case was pending before the Supreme Court, so we asked for a temporary injunction to prevent any distribution pending a final decision. The court, in granting the temporary injunction, said that in the event the court should hold the distribution of the funds unconstitutional, any that had been distributed would be required to be refunded. While this is not the same as a published opinion of the court so holding, it is a good indication of the court's initial reaction to this situation.

We believe, however, that in no event would refunds back to 1969, the first year distributions were made, be required. Neb.Rev.Stat. §25-218 (Reissue 1979) provides in part:

> Every claim and demand in behalf of the state, except for revenue, or upon official bonds, or for loans or money belonging to the school funds, or loans of school or other trust funds, or to lands or interest in lands thereto belonging, shall be barred by the same lapse of time as is provided by the law in case of like demands between private parties.

Distributions of state aid to its political subdivisions are not "revenue" to the state, within the exception of §25-218, so we believe that Neb.Rev.Stat. §25-212 (Reissue 1979), which provides for a limitation of four years for an action for relief not otherwise provided for applies to this situation.

You ask for our recommendation as to how the Legislature should proceed to assist in resolving the problem of money which has been distributed illegally. We do not believe we should become involved in drafting legislation of this sort. It is, of course, a legislative matter. We will be happy to look over any proposed legislation you wish to introduce, to determine its validity.

Your final question is whether, if we determine that the present 50 percent population, 50 percent valuation formula is valid, a 25 percent population, 75 percent valuation formula would be valid. Since we have not reached that conclusion, it is not necessary to answer that question. We will observe, however, that combining a constitutionally acceptable basis for distribution with a constitutionally unacceptable basis does not cure the defect in the latter basis. On the contrary, the unconstitutional basis probably renders the entire distribution invalid, because the court would probably find that the two provisions were not severable, and that the unconstitutional part was an inducement for the passage of the other, and that both must fall. The severability clause found in Section 5 of LB 816 would probably save Sections 1 and 2 of the bill, since they involve distributions under formulas entirely separate and different from those we have discussed.

PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Sec. 9. That section 28-510, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

28-510. Conduct denominated theft in sections 28-509 to 28-518 constitutes a single offense embracing the separated offenses heretofore known as ~~larceny,~~ embezzlement, false pretense, extortion, blackmail, fraudulent conversion, receiving stolen property, and the like. An accusation of theft may be supported by evidence that it was committed in any manner that would be theft under sections 28-509 to 28-518, notwithstanding the specification of a different manner in the indictment or information, subject only to the power of the court to insure fair trial by granting a continuance or other appropriate relief where the conduct of the defense would be prejudiced by lack of fair notice or by surprise.".

28-515. (1) A person commits theft if he or she obtains services which he or she knows are available only for compensation, by deception or threat, or by false token or other means to avoid payment for the service. Services include labor, professional service, telephone, electric service, natural gas service, or other public service, including cable television, accomodation in hotels, restaurants or elsewhere, admission to exhibitions, and use of vehicles or other movable property, or who by any deceptive and unauthorized means obtains the benefit of service at less than the proper rate or charge. Where compensation for service is ordinarily paid immediately upon the rendering of such service, as in the case of hotels and restaurants, refusal to pay or absconding without payment or offer to pay gives rise to a presumption that the service was obtained by deception as to intention to pay.

(2) A person commits theft if, having control over the disposition of services of others, to which he or she is not entitled, he or she diverts such services to his or her own benefit or to the benefit of another not entitled thereto.

(3) Any person who makes or possesses any device, instrument, apparatus, or equipment designed or which can be used to obtain telecommunications service, electric service, natural gas service, or other public service, including cable television, fraudulently or to conceal from any supplier or telecommunications service or from any lawful authority the existence or place of origin or of destination of any telecommunication; or who sells, gives or otherwise transfers to another, or offers or advertises for sale, any such device, instrument, apparatus, or equipment, or plans or instructions for making or assembling the same, under circumstances evincing an intent to use or employ such device, instrument, apparatus, or equipment, or to allow the same to be used or employed, for a purpose described in this subsection, or knowing or having reason to believe that the same is intended to be used, or that the plans or instructions are intended to be used, for making or assembling such device, instrument, apparatus, or equipment is guilty of a Class II misdemeanor.”.

The executor, administrator, guardian, or trustee of any person or estate interested shall have the right to vote. No corporation, estate, or trust shall be deemed to be a resident owner for purposes of voting for trustees. ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

January 26, 1982

Dear Senator Sieck:

This is in response to your inquiry pertaining to whether the "ten percent surcharge" referred to throughout LB 818 is a "fine or penalty" within the meaning of Article VII, Section 5 of the Nebraska Constitution.

The "surcharge" is properly regarded as a "penalty" and subject to the provisions of Article VII, Section 5 of the Nebraska Constitution.

Courts are prone to defining the term "penalty" with reference to the particular situation under consideration. Nevertheless, in Nebraska at least, if money exacted pursuant to law is punitive in character, and not remedial or compensatory, that money is a "penalty" as provided in Article VII, Section 5 of the Nebraska Constitution. School District of McCook v. City of McCook, 163 Neb. 817, 81 N.W.2d 224 (1957).

For example, in School District of Omaha v. Adams, 147 Neb. 1060, 26 N.W.2d 24 (1947), an action was brought by the school district to determine the correct apportionment and distribution of penalties collected pursuant to a statute imposing penalties in addition to interest for failure to list certain property for taxation purposes. In determining whether the penalties under the tax statute in question were "penalties" within the meaning of Article VII, Section 5 of the Nebraska Constitution, the court said:

> 'Penal laws, strictly and properly, are those imposing punishment for an offense committed against the state, and which, by the English and American constitutions, the executive of the state has the power to pardon. Statutes giving a private action against the wrongdoer are sometimes spoken of as penal in their nature but in such cases it has been pointed out that neither the liability imposed nor the remedy given is strictly penal.' Huntington v. Attrill, 146 U.S. 657, 13 S.Ct. 224, 227, 36 L.Ed. 1123. . . The distinction between a remedial and penal statute necessarily lies in the fact that the latter is prosecuted for the sole purpose of punishment, and to deter others from offending in like manner. The remedial statute, of course, is for the purpose of adjusting the rights of the parties as between themselves in respect to the wrong alleged. This court appears to have held that the constitutional provision here in question has no reference to those damages, whether limited in the amount recoverable or not, which a private person may sustain, but > applies solely to such as are given to the public and go into the public treasury. Graham v. Kibble, 9 Neb. 182, 2 N.W. 455.

In addition, as the court said in Abel v. Conover, 170 Neb. 926, 104 N.W.2d 684 (1960):

> A statute which imposes a liability for actual damages and in addition thereto a penalty to be paid to the injured party is repugnant to Article VII, Section 5 of the Constitution, which requires all fines and penalties arising under the general laws to go exclusively to the school fund. A statute which imposes liability for actual damages and additional liability for the same act provides a penalty.

Applying the reasoning in both Adams and Abel, supra, to your question here, it would seem that the "surcharge" imposed by LB 818 is a "penalty" within the meaning of Article VII, Section 5 of the Nebraska Constitution for a number of reasons.

First, the surcharge is not applied to damages actually suffered by defendant's victim, but is instead placed in the public treasury (the Victim's Compensation Fund). Furthermore, the ten percent surcharge is in addition to actual damages suffered by defendant's victim. And, because it is a fundamental rule in this state that punitive, vindictive, or exemplary damages are not allowed (Miller v. Kingsley, 194 Neb. 123, 230 N.W. 472 (1975)), the only definition of "surcharge" as found in LB 818 which would allow that term to be given effect would be that it refers to a "penalty." This conclusion is further supported by the fact that the surcharge is imposed as part of the sentence by a court pursuant to its criminal jurisdiction.

The ten percent surcharge imposed by LB 818 is not remedial. It is punitive in nature: a "penalty" within the meaning of Nebraska Constitution Article VII, Section 5.

Very truly yours,

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 184
January 28, 1982

Dear Senator Kahle:

In your letter of January 15, 1982, you call our attention to the provisions of Neb.Rev.Stat. §23-146 (Reissue 1977) which limits a county officer's interest in contracts executed by the county and to Opinion No. 63 found in the Reports of the Attorney General for the years 1969 - 1970 at page 97, and ask certain questions concerning the pecuniary interest referred to therein.

We further understand that it is your intention to consider legislation to help clarify this matter depending upon the response you receive from this office to your inquiry. You first ask what factor or factors determine how much of the contract price results in a pecuniary interest or benefit to the county official. It is extremely difficult to define with certainty the phrase "pecuniary interest" however generally speaking such an interest is a personal or private one and not such an interest as the public officer has in common with all other citizens and it is generally an interest which is immediate, definite and capable of demonstration as opposed to being remote, uncertain, contingent or speculative. See generally, 67 C.J.S. Officers, §204.

You also ask the significance of any relationship which may exist between the county official in question and his employees, partners, stockholders and others. Here again it is extremely difficult to delineate with certainty the type of relationship which would result in a pecuniary interest but generally speaking a benefit to one partner or stockholder would result in the benefit to all others and of course situations can be envisioned in which an agent or employee of a county official could benefit which would indirectly benefit the county official. For example, an employee or agent could be compensated through the county business in lieu of a salary being paid him by the county official resulting in an indirect pecuniary interest to that county official.

You also inquire as to whether or not pecuniary interest resulting to family members are attributable to the officer and we would suggest that in most circumstances they would be. Here again it is extremely difficult to generalize inasmuch as each particular situation has to be evaluated on a case-by-case basis.

We are appreciative of the fact that you may wish to clarify what is meant by pecuniary interest and attempt to define those relationships which would result in an impermissible pecuniary interest, however we believe that it would be extremely difficult to itemize in statutory language a list of such factors, relationships or circumstances. While it appears extremely difficult to generalize in this area, it is usually possible when exmining a particular set of facts to render a legal judgment as to whether or not such an arrangement would be impermissible under the statute. Therefore it may be that county officials would benefit from presenting such potential factual circumstances to their county attorney in advance of taking any action in an attempt to obtain from him his best judgment as to the acceptability of those particular facts.

We are sorry that we could not be of more specific assistance to you in responding to your inquiry but hope that the information we have provided is of some general value.

Sincerely,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 185
January 29, 1982

Dear Senator DeCamp:

In your letter of January 27, 1982, you refer to the decision of the District Court of Lancaster County holding certain sections of LB 284, Laws of 1981, unconstitutional, and suggest that the provisions held invalid are identical or similar to other state aid provisions.

Ordinarily, we could not respond to your questions, since our policy is not to render an opinion to an individual senator on the constitutionality of existing statutes. However, we gather from your letter that you may need the opinion in taking corrective legislative action, either with respect to LB 284 or with respect to the legislation you compare it to. We will therefore answer your questions.

You compare the distribution formula of LB 284 with that of the homestead law, and say, "In fact, the system of the distribution of the money is identical to the proposed formula in LB 284 that was declared unconstitutional." We disagree completely. The formulas are not only not identical, but, in our opinion are not even remotely similar.

In our Opinion No. 78, dated April 14, 1981, we discussed our view as to the validity of LB 284, which based 1982-83 and subsequent fiscal year distributions on the assessed valuation of taxable property in each county. We will not repeat those views herein.

Neb.Rev.Stat. §77-3523 (Supp. 1980) is a straight reimbursement statute. Each agency in the state is reimbursed the amount of money it lost because of the homestead exemptions allowed in its geographical area. A particular county, or a particular taxing agency within a county, may receive more than some other county or some other taxing agency, but that is because it lost more because of the homestead exemptions. The court requires only that the basis for distribution be rational, and we are of the opinion that this basis is rational.

The amount lost, of course, is based in part upon the amount of homestead exemptions allowed in the particular taxing jurisdiction. The other part of the equation is the size of the mill levy assessed in that taxing area. The homestead exemption itself is authorized by Article VIII, Section 2 of our Constitution, which permits the Legislature to exempt ''a portion of the value'' of a residence occupied as a homestead. Neb.Rev.Stat. §§77-3506 to 77-3509 make various provisions for certain classes of homestead claimants to have varying percentages of their homesteads exempt, with varying dollar ceilings on the values exempted. We believe these provisions are authorized by Article VIII, Section 2, and are completely different from the provisions of LB 284.

Even if we were not faced with the specific authorization found in the Constitution, we would not feel the homestead provisions create the same problems as LB 284. That bill's main problem is that by basing distributions of state aid on assessed valuations it gave the most money to those counties which needed it least. The homestead statutes do not have that vice.

You also state that for a multitude of years state aid to education was based on valuation strictly. You have given us no statutory citations to support that statement, nor have you said whether that is still true. Whether such aid was ever based solely on valuation we do not know, and feel that it would be unproductive labor to do the historical research to find out.

We have, however, examined Chapter 79, Article 13 of the statutes, as amended, with some care. This article deals with a number of sources of aid to public schools, and we have found none basing the distributions on assessed valuations. The closest we have found is provided for by Neb.Rev.Stat. §§79-1303 and 79-1304 (Supp. 1980), which provide for distribution of in lieu of tax money to districts containing school lands or saline lands owned by the state. The calculation is made by taking the appraised value of such land and applying to it the levies for school purposes in the various districts. Obviously, this is a rational basis for determining how much each district lost because of the state ownership of such lands, and therefore its entitlement to payment in lieu of taxes.

If you had in mind other state aid to education provisions not provided for in Chapter 79, Article 13, and feel they are comparable to the provisions of LB 284 which we are challenging, please call them to our attention.

You also note that we have raised questions about the validity of past distributions of at least one fund, and ask what our intentions are with respect to recovery of those funds, or the enjoining of current distributions. We are not in a position to make that decision at this time. The district court's decision on LB 284 will, we understand, be appealed to the Supreme Court. After the Supreme Court has spoken we will be in a position to appraise the situation with respect to other funds. We will probably take no further action before that time.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Introduced by DeCamp, 40th District; Chambers, 11th District; Wesely, 26th District; Fowler, 27th District; Kilgarin, 7th District; Landis, 46th District; V. Johnson, 8th District; Beutler, 28th District; Koch, 12th District; Newell, 13th District; Wiitala, 31st District; Labedz, 5th District.

WHEREAS, the Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978 calls for the gradual deregulation of natural gas prices through 1985; and

WHEREAS, the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission through its rule and regulation authority is deregulating certain classifications of natural gas; and

WHEREAS, the changes proposed by F.E.R.C. could affect the price of up to one third of the natural gas supply; and

WHEREAS, F.E.R.C. decontrol of natural gas prices may cost Nebraska several billion dollars more than gradual decontrol through 1985; and

WHEREAS, approximately 75 percent of residential structures in Nebraska are heated with natural gas and the average cost of natural gas to each residential user in the state could increase considerably if prices are deregulated in this manner; and

WHEREAS, agricultural, commercial and industrial users in Nebraska could also incur substantially increased costs if natural gas prices are deregulated; and

WHEREAS, the cost of this decontrol to utilities in Nebraska using natural gas to general electricity may be as high as several million dollars; and

WHEREAS, increased natural gas costs for agriculture, commerce, industry and utilities in Nebraska will result in higher consumer prices for food, clothing, housing, electricity and other necessities of life; and

WHEREAS, F.E.R.C. decontrol may drain several billion dollars out of Nebraska's economy into the hands of major oil companies, producing states and foreign governments, resulting in a reduced industrial and tax base, fewer jobs and increased inflation; and

WHEREAS, decontrol of natural gas through the rule and regulation process, is a direct circumvention, by the Reagan administration, of Congressional powers.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-SEVENTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, SECOND SESSION:

1. That the Legislature supports the gradual decontrol of natural gas prices as outlined in the Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978.
2. That the Legislature opposes the deregulation of natural gas as proposed by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission.
3. That the Legislature urgently requests the Nebraska Congressional delegation to investigate the legitimacy of such action by the F.E.R.C., inform the Legislature of their findings, and do everything in their power to prevent the acceleration of the deregulation of Natural Gas by a government agency without benefit of congressional action.
4. That the Clerk of the Legislature send copies of this resolution to the President of the United States, the Nebraska Congressional delegation, and Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, and the President of the United States Senate.

Laid over.

Introduced by Chambers, 11th District.

WHEREAS, the Omaha North Freeway was withdrawn from the interstate System and placed on the State System of highways; and

WHEREAS, such withdrawn projects require a specific annual appropriation from Congress; and

WHEREAS, Congressional appropriations for such withdrawn projects have been cut drastically, with no guarantee of future Federal funding; and

WHEREAS, the Reagan Administration has cut all highway funding and expressed the intent to make additional cuts; and

WHEREAS, the Reagan Administration intends to turn such withdrawn projects over to the States for funding; and

WHEREAS, $22 million has been expended for activities related to the construction of the Omaha North Freeway; and

WHEREAS, inadequate Federal funding exists to guarantee completion of the Omaha North Freeway.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-SEVENTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, SECOND SESSION:

That in the event that Federal funding should be inadequate to complete the Omaha North Freeway, or should the project be turned over to the State for total funding, it is the intent of the Legislature to guarantee that the Omaha North Freeway will be completed with funds deriving from (a) gasoline taxes, (b) highway trust funds, (c) general funds, or (d) any combination of such funding sources.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT - Print in Journal

Mr. Warner asked unanimous consent to print the following in the Journal. No objections. So ordered.

Rule 8 of the Rules of the Nebraska Unicameral provides a procedure for the Legislature to use during the development of the annual appropriations from the General Fund. Section 2 of Rule 8 specifically requires that the Appropriations Committee prepare a report summarizing the recommended General Fund appropriation for each year of the following biennium. This report constitutes the report of the Appropriations Committee as required by Rule 8.

This Preliminary Budget Report is organized into six different sections which provide you with the necessary background information regarding state revenue and spending to assist you in your review of the enclosed legislative resolution, the Appropriations Committee amendment to the resolution and the development of your resolution (Section 4 of Rule 8) recommending a maximum General Fund appropriation for each year of the following biennium.

Section 1 outlines the current financial condition of the state based upon 1981-82 general fund obligations and estimated revenue as provided by the Department of Revenue to the State Board of Equalization on November 12, 1981. The State Tax Commissioner's revenue estimates for 1982-83 and 1983-84 are also presented.

Section 2 provides a series of tables and graphs which summarize the historical revenue and spending patterns of state government.

Section 3 summarizes the state agency requests for 1981-82 deficit appropriations, 1982-83 and 1983-84 appropriation requests, and presents the Governor's recommendations for 1982-83.

Section 4 provides you with a variety of information to assist in your consideration or development of alternatives for possible revenue and spending recommendations that could be developed for 1982-83 and 1983-84. Specific information regarding estimates of revenue under various tax rates is provided in this section.

Section 5 presents the Preliminary Financial Status Report of the Legislature based upon the Legislative Resolution accompanying this report.

Section 6 presents an amendment to be offered by the Appropriations Committee to the legislative resolution included in Section 5. This amendment would increase the Governor's recommended general fund level by $15.0 million for 1982-83.

In summary, this information is provided to assist you during your consideration of the legislative resolution to be adopted recommending a General Fund appropriation level for each year of the following biennium.

Please feel free to address any questions to members of the Appropriations Committee or contact the Legislative Fiscal Office for specific details about the tables presented in this Preliminary Budget Report.

The Preliminary Budget Report of the Appropriations Committee is on file and available from the Clerk of the Legislature's Office.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 188
February 2, 1982

Dear Senator Koch:

This is in response to your letter of January 28, 1982. In that letter you ask if LB 789 is unconstitutionally vague.

If enacted into operative law, LB 789 would require contract forms for employment of a teacher or administrator for a public school to be approved by the State Department of Education in accordance with the rules of the department. It then states what the rules shall provide.

At the outset, we are troubled by the fact that this legislative bill does not expressly authorize the State Department of Education to promulgate such rules but authorizes the same, if at all, by implication. We are also troubled by the fact that section 1(4) of this legislative bill is somewhat duplicative of Neb.Rev.Stat. §84-907 (Supp. 1980). While the same does not necessarily render LB 789 unconstitutional, it could cause problems which can only be resolved by litigation and thus, temporarily at least, cause uncertainty in this area of the law.

We also note that this legislative bill states what the rules of the State Department of Education shall provide in connection with contracts of employment of teachers and administrators of public schools. Thus, arguably, any rules the State Department of Education could promulgate pursuant to LB 789 is limited to the matters stated in section 1(1) and 1(2) of this legislative bill. That, of course, raises the question as to the need of administrative rules pertaining thereto.

In summary, we cannot say that this legislative bill is unconstitutionally vague—although it may very well be. The authority of the State Department of Education to promulgate administrative rules pursuant thereto is indeed questionable.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Introduced by Cullan, 49th District.

WHEREAS, the northwestern portion of the State of Nebraska, commonly known as the Panhandle, is located a great distance from the center of state government and business; and

WHEREAS, numerous citizens in the Panhandle feel that their remoteness contributes to a lack of responsiveness to their needs on the part of state government; and

WHEREAS, some citizens of the Panhandle have expressed an interest in leaving the State of Nebraska to become a part of the State of Wyoming; and

WHEREAS, a study of this possible change should include a comparison between Nebraska and Wyoming with respect to tax rates, the tax basis of property, the political philosophy of the people in each area, use and development of natural resources and mineral deposits, and the responsiveness of state government to the people of the area.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-SEVENTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, SECOND SESSION:

1. That the Speaker of the Legislature appoint a five-member study committee from the Panhandle to examine the issue of the Panhandle joining the State of Wyoming.
2. That the study committee give consideration to the various factors which gave rise to this issue.
3. That the study committee remain in existence for a period of two years.

4. That the study committee accept contributions for the sole purpose of reimbursing members for expenses incurred in either Nebraska or Wyoming while engaged in the official business of the committee.

5. That the Nebraska study committee shall not be authorized to accept contributions totaling more than five thousand dollars.

6. That the study committee report its findings to the Legislature and include an accounting of all money received and how such money was expended. The Executive Board of the Legislature may require an accounting of such money from time-to-time.

7. This study committee shall operate and function in concert with, and as half of, a similar study committee to be authorized by the Wyoming Legislature. This resolution will be operative only if the Wyoming Legislature authorizes a similar resolution to allow the joint study committee to function.

Laid over.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 217.

Introduced by Koch, 12th District.

WHEREAS, vocational education programs provide students with the valuable experience necessary to achieve a productive position in the adult working world; and

WHEREAS, vocational education programs sponsor many youth associations such as FFA, VICA, and FHA; and

WHEREAS, vocational education is the training facility for the workers of tomorrow; and

WHEREAS, the future of our state depends on the training that the youth of Nebraska receives from vocational education programs today.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-SEVENTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, SECOND SESSION:

That the Legislature hereby proclaims the week of February 7 - 13, 1982, as VOCATIONAL EDUCATION WEEK in Nebraska, and urges all citizens to take interest in, support, and encourage the vocational education programs available to Nebraska's youth of today and leaders of tomorrow.

Laid over.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 218.

Introduced by H. Peterson, 35th District; Hefner, 19th District.

WHEREAS, article I, section 8, Constitution of the United States, provides that only the Congress of the United States shall have the power "to borrow Money on the credit of the United States"; and

WHEREAS, article I, section 8, Constitution of the United States, directs that only the Congress of the United States is permitted "to coin Money, regulate the Value thereof, and of foreign Coin, and fix the Standard of Weights and Measures"; and

WHEREAS, the Federal Reserve Act of December 23, 1913 (Act of December 23, 1913; 38 Stat. 251; 12 United States Code section 221 et. seq.) transferred the power to borrow money on the credit of the United States to a consortium of private bankers in violation of the prohibitions of article I, section 8, Constitution of the United States; and

WHEREAS, the Congress of the United States is without authority to delegate any powers which it has received under the Constitution of the United States established by the people of the United States; and

WHEREAS, article I, section 1, Constitution of the United States, provides that "All legislative Powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives."; and

WHEREAS, the Federal Reserve Act of December 23, 1913 was imposed upon the People of the State of Nebraska in violation of the provisions of article I, section 1, Constitution of the United States; and

WHEREAS, members of the Federal Reserve System, a consortium of private bankers, have threatened the very integrity of our national government through their arbitrary and capricious control and management of the nation's money supply; and

WHEREAS, testimony entered into the Congressional Record on April 19, 1971 by one observer, Mr. Archibald E. Roberts, indicates that past and present members of the Federal Reserve Board may be guilty of criminal conduct and there is evidence to support his view; and

WHEREAS, the United States is facing, in the current decade, an economic debacle of massive proportions due in large measure to a continued erosion of our national currency and the resultant high interest rates caused by the policies of the Federal Reserve Board; and

WHEREAS, a consortium of private bankers which is not subject to any official periodic review or oversight by Congress has unconstitutionally controlled the economy of the United States through the Federal Reserve Act since 1913; and

WHEREAS, this nation faces an immediate economic crisis. It is extremely urgent that the Congress of the United States act before it is too late by repealing the Federal Reserve Act and restoring the economy of this nation to a sound basis through a withdrawal of all "fiat money" now in circulation - the so-called Federal Reserve Notes - and return to the gold standard.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-SEVENTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, SECOND SESSION:

1. That the Congress of the United States immediately enact such legislation as is necessary to repeal the Federal Reserve Act and restore the gold standard.
2. That the President of the United States immediately sign the necessary enabling legislation once it reaches his desk.
3. That the Clerk of the Legislature transmit copies of this resolution to the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States and to each Member of the Nebraska Congressional Delegation.

A deposit under this section shall be held to assure the faithful performance of the corporation’s obligations under its prepaid dental service plan.

(7) The director may reduce the minimum market value of securities required under subsection (1) of this section or the amount of the surety bond required under subsection (2) of this section if the director finds that the reduction is justified by:

(b) Support by financially sound public or private organizations or agencies;

(c) Agreements with dentists or other providers for the provisions of dental services;

(d) Agreements with other persons for insuring the payment of the cost of dental services or the provision for alternative coverage in the event the corporation is unable to perform its obligations; or

"Section 1. That section 75-609, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

75-609. ~~All~~ Except as provided in section 2 of this act, all rates for local telephone service and for intrastate long distance telephone service shall be prescribed by the commission. In determining the valuation of telephone property for the purpose of fixing fair and reasonable rates, the commission shall give consideration to the current value of such property and to such other factors as may be just and reasonable.

Where two or more telephone companies jointly furnish such local or long distance service, the revenues from such jointly-furnished service shall be divided in such manner as may be agreed upon between the companies furnishing such service. In the event of inability to agree, any one of the companies jointly furnishing such local or long distance service may file an application with the commission requesting that the commission enter an order prescribing an equitable division of revenues from such jointly-furnished service. The order entered pursuant to such application may be appealed from by any party to the proceeding in the same manner as from other orders of the commission.

Sec. 2. (2) Each such telephone company not subject to rate regulation shall, at least sixty days before the effective date of any proposed rate change, notify the commission and each of the company's subscribers of the proposed rate change. Notice to the commission shall include a list of the company's published subscribers. Notice by the company to all subscribers shall be in a form prescribed by the commission, shall be by first-class mail, and shall include a schedule of the proposed rates, the effective date of the rates, and the procedure necessary for the subscribers to petition the commission to determine rates in lieu of the proposed rates. If the telephone directory published by the company for its subscribers sets forth the procedure for petitioning the commission, a reference to the location in the directory shall be adequate notice of the procedure.

(3) The subscribers of a telephone company not subject to the commission's rate regulation may petition the commission to determine rates in lieu of any rates proposed by the company. The commission shall adopt and promulgate rules and regulations governing the form of such petitions and a petition substantially in compliance with such rules and regulations shall not be deemed invalid due to minor errors in its form.

(4) If by the effective date of the company's proposed rate change, the commission has received petitions from fewer than five per cent of the subscribers requesting that the commission determine rates, the commission shall certify such fact to the company and the company's proposed rates shall become effective as published in the notice to subscribers. If on or before the effective date of the proposed rate change the commission has received petitions from five per cent or more of the subscribers requesting that the commission determine rates, the commission shall notify the company that it will determine rates for the company in lieu of the company's proposed rates. Rates established by the commission or by a telephone company purusant to this section shall be in force for not less than one year.

Sec. 3. That section 75-610, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1980, be amended to read as follows:

Thomas F. Burke, Executive Director
Accountability and Disclosure Commission
State Capitol Building
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Mr. Burke:

We return with this letter, without our approval, your proposed rules for Chapter 6 of the Rules and Regulations of the Nebraska Accountability and Disclosure Commission.

We direct your attention to Rule 007 .07 .07A. The primary thrust of this rule may be described as intending to prohibit a contribution, to a public official of the legislative or executive branches, a member of their immediate family, or a member of their staff, exceeding $25 in any one month period for a campaign as a campaign contribution for such an individual. Also prohibited are services of a lobbyist or a principal in the value of more than $25 in any one month period, including services to solicit or collect campaign contributions for such an individual. The rule also prohibits a principal or lobbyist from rendering such services. There is an exception for a principal, which is a corporation, labor organization, industry, trade or professional association authorizing them to render campaign services.

The predicate for adopting this rule is Neb.Rev.Stat. §49-1490 (1981 Supp.). The Legislature in the 1981 Session adopted LB 134, which in Section 4 amended §49-1490 to include in the definition of gift, a campaign contribution from a lobbyist. Prior to this amendment, §49-1490(1) prohibited a principal or a lobbyist from giving a gift to an official or to a member of the official's staff in either executive or legislative branches of state government. It provided a misdemeanor penalty for violation of that section. Subsection (2) prohibited an official in an executive or legislative branch, a member of his staff or immediate family from accepting a gift in violation of Section 1 of §49-1490, also making that a misdemeanor criminal offense. Subsection (3), prior to the amendment, read:

> (3) As used in sections 49-1480 to 49-1492, gift shall mean a payment, subscription, advance, forbearance, honorarium, or the rendering or deposit of money, services, or anything of value, the value of which exceeds ten dollars in any one-month period, unless consideration of equal or greater value is received therefor. Gift shall not include:

That subsection now reads:

> (3) As used in sections 49-1480 to 49-1492, gift shall mean a payment, subscription, advance, forbearance, honorarium, campaign contribution from a lobbyist, or the rendering or deposit of money, services, or anything of value, the value of which exceeds twenty-five dollars in any one-month period, unless consideration of equal or greater value is received therefor. Gift shall not include:
> (a) A campaign contribution otherwise reported as required by law, except as otherwise provided in this subsection. . . (Emphasis added.)

Thus, although it is clear that your agency had a statutory predicate for adopting the rule above referred to, it is our view that the statutory predicate offends several constitutional provisions and thus is insufficient authority for the adoption of the rule proposed by the commission. For that reason, we must reject the rule.

We believe that this rule offends the First Amendment of the Federal Constitution, the Due Process and Equal Protection provisions of the Federal Constitution, and Article III, Section 18 of the Nebraska Constitution.

We believe that some examples will suffice to show the invalidity of the statute. Under the statute and under the rule, an individual seeking an elective position who was employed as a legislative staff member would commit a misdemeanor act if they received, solicited or accepted a campaign contribution in excess of $25 from a lobbyist. The opponent of such an individual who was not employed in state government, seeking the same elective office, would be authorized to receive, accept, or solicit a campaign contribution in a greater amount from the same class of people. Another example would be that a state officer who was an incumbent would be limited to receiving from lobbyists contributions of $25 per month, whereas the opponent of such an individual could receive, accept, and solicit from the same individuals substantially greater funds. Any state elected official who sought any non-state office would also be limited as described above while an opponent of such an individual who was not a state officer would not be so limited.

Of course, the converse of these examples are also true. That is, a lobbyist or principal would be restricted from supporting political candidates based on the question of whether they were state, executive or legislative officials, members of their staff or immediate families, as opposed to other candidates who were not members of such class.

These examples will serve to illustrate the problems which have been pointed out by the number of cases which have considered similar matters involving other states' limitations upon political participation. The United States Supreme Court in Buckley v. Valeo, 424 U.S. 1, 46 L.Ed.2d 659, held that the First Amendment prohibited Congress from enacting laws which unconstitutionally limit the amount that could be spent in an election campaign. While the court also upheld contribution limitations in that case, those limitations applied equally to all candidates and were not based upon the classification of whether the candidate for elective office was a state, executive, or legislative official, member of a staff of such an individual or the family of such an individual. Recently, the United States Supreme Court upon an equal division, affirmed the decision of a three judge panel of the District Court for the District of Columbia, which found unconstitutional a restriction on the expenditures authorized by independent political committees. See, Common Cause v. Schmitt, 512 F. Supp. 489 (1980), and 42 CCH Supreme Court Bulletin, Page B 1049. The Supreme Court recently in Citizens Against Rent Control v. City of Berkly, held that a campaign limitation of $250 to political committees was an unconstitutional invasion of associational freedom and First Amendment rights as guaranteed by the Federal Constitution. 42 CCH Bulletin, B 610.

A number of other cases have considered similar issues and many of them are collected in an annotation found at 94 A.L.R.3d 994, State Regulation Of The Giving Or Making Of Political Contributions Or Expenditures By Private Individuals.

While many of these cases and many other cases have upheld specific types of regulation with respect to campaign limitations, all of them require that the matters be strictly and carefully drawn to deal with evils which are to be suppressed. Those evils are generally recognized as undue influence by special interest groups, preserving the integrity of governmental operations and preserving the apprearance of integrity in the political process. However, all courts which have dealt with these issues have indicated that such prohibitions must stand a strict scrutiny test. We believe that the strict scrutiny test applied to §49-1490 (1981 Supp.) will result in its being found unconstitutional as a limitation not directed carefully and specifically to the evils which are thought to be remedied, but one which is over-broad and thus in conflict with the freedoms set forth in the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, and further in violation of Article III, Section 18 of the Nebraska Constitution.

In context of the Nebraska constitutional provision, the Nebraska Supreme Court has on a number of occasions indicated that classification must be based on some rational difference in situation. Here, from the examples we have set forth above, it is clear that there is no rational reason to differentiate as between candidates for non-state offices depending on whether or not they are in some manner associated with state, executive or legislative offices and candidates who are not so associated.

Sincerely yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Req. #2636

1. Insert the following new section:

"Sec. 3. That section 28-515, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

28-515. (1) A person commits theft if he or she obtains services which he or she knows are available only for compensation, by deception or threat, or by false token or other means to avoid payment for the service. Services include labor, professional service, telephone service, electric service, or other public service, accommodation in hotels, restaurants or elsewhere, admission to exhibitions, and use of vehicles or other movable property. Where compensation for service is ordinarily paid immediately upon the rendering of such service, as in the case of hotels and restaurants, refusal to pay or absconding without payment or offer to pay gives rise to a presumption that the service was obtained by deception as to intention to pay.

(2) A person commits theft if, having control over the disposition of services of others, to which he or she is not entitled, he or she diverts such services to his or her own benefit or to the benefit of another not entitled thereto.

(3) Any person who makes or possesses any device, instrument, apparatus, or equipment designed or which can be used to obtain telecommunications service fradulently or to conceal from any supplier or telecommunications service or from any lawful authority the existence or place of origin or of destination of any telecommunication; or who sells, gives or otherwise transfers to another, or offers or advertises for sale, any such device, instrument, apparatus, or equipment, or plans or instructions for making or assembling the same, under circumstances evincing an intent to use or employ such device, instrument, apparatus, or equipment, or to allow the same to be used or employed, for a purpose described in this subsection, or knowing or having reason to believe that the same is intended to be used, or that the plans or instructions are intended to be used, for making or assembling such device, instrument, apparatus, or equipment is guilty of a Class II misdemeanor.".

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 189
February 8, 1982

Dear Senator Lamb:

You have asked our opinion as to whether LB 954 is constitutional in its method of distributing $70,000,000 for property tax relief. The main provisions of the bill appear to pass constitutional muster, but there are some provisions dealing with bonds issued by technical community college areas which cause some concern, and probably should be amended or clarified.

Section 1 of the bill provides that for fiscal year 1982-83 the Legislature shall appropriate an additional $47,265,000 to the School Foundation and Equalization Fund, to be distributed pursuant to §79-1334. Neb.Rev.Stat. §79-1334 (Supp. 1981) provides for a somewhat complex system of distributing state aid to school districts based upon the number of pupils in each district in kindergarten, grades one through six, grades seven and eight, and grades nine through twelve, with each category getting a different rate of aid per pupil. We have no reason to believe that the different rates for the different grade levels are unreasonable, and distribution to the districts on a per-pupil basis is certainly not irrational. We have never suggested that the present distribution under §79-1334 is invalid, and simply adding more money to be distributed under that section would not have any effect on its constitutionality.

Sections 2 through 16 of the bill amend the statutory provisions dealing with technical community colleges. It changes the nature of the colleges, as reflected in the amendment of §79-2636. That section now describes them as locally governed and locally supported. Section 2 of the bill would amend this to describe them as state supported and locally managed. We will not attempt to analyze the other changes made in the management of the colleges, as these changes are not particularly germane to your concern.

Neb.Rev.Stat. §79-2650 (Supp. 1981) now authorizes a property tax levy for the support of technical community college areas. LB 954 would repeal this section, and section 15 of the bill provides that after the effective date of the bill, no property tax shall be levied by the area boards.

Section 9 of the bill provides that for fiscal year 1982-83 the Legislature shall appropriate $21,514,000 for the operation of the technical community college areas, and $2,221,000 for the redemption of outstanding bonds of the colleges. It also provides that each year thereafter the Legislature shall appropriate such sums as are necessary for the operation of the technical community college areas. Section 6 requires the board of each technical community college area to submit a budget to the state board for its approval. Section 8 requires the approval of the state board of such budgets, and section 14 requires the state board to submit the budgets to the Director of Administrative Services, and provides for appropriations by the Legislature for the support of each college area.

Article VII, Section 1, of the Constitution provides that the Legislature shall provide for the free instruction in the common schools of all persons between the ages of five and twenty-one years, and may provide for the education of other persons in educational institutions owned and controlled by the state or a political subdivision thereof. There is no question but that an appropriation for the support of the technical community college areas is for a public purpose. If the Legislature decides that they should be supported out of the state treasury rather than by local property tax levies, that is a matter addressed to the discretion of the Legislature.

Section 15 of the bill provides in part:

> Whenever any technical community college area has contracted to redeem bonds used for the construction or acquisition of facilities, the State Board of Technical Community Colleges shall redeem the bonds in accordance with the provisions of the bonds unless such provisions prohibit redemption by any entity other than the original issuer. If bond provisions prohibit redemption by the state board, the bonds shall be redeemed by the issuing entity, and an agreement shall be entered into between such entity and the state board under which the state board shall compensate the issuing entity for the value of the bonds being redeemed.

If this language is construed to constitute an assumption of liability for the payment of the bonds by the state, it is in violation of Article XIII, Section 1, of the Nebraska Constitution. We believe that the state could voluntarily pay off the bonds, so long as it did not assume any legally binding obligation to do so. The first paragraph of section 15, in saying that the State Board of Technical Community Colleges "shall redeem" the bonds, seems to give the force of law to the redemption of the bonds by that board, arguably enforceable by the holders of the bonds. This would violate Article XIII, Section 1. Clarification of this paragraph is necessary, to eliminate any such construction.

Neb.Rev.Stat. §79-2648 (Reissue 1976) authorizes the issuance of revenue bonds and general obligation bonds by area boards for specific purposes. It further provides that revenue bonds shall be subject to the provisions of §§79-1438.04 to 79-1438.12. Section 79-2650 (Supp. 1981) authorizes a tax levy for the purpose of providing a capital improvement fund and bond sinking fund as provided in §79-2648, with the power to levy such tax to expire on June 30, 1988. But LB 954 would repeal the authority to impose the tax to redeem the bonds, by the repeal of §79-2650, and the state would be under no legal obligation to appropriate money to redeem them, since, as previously shown, such a legal obligation is prohibited by our Constitution. The holders of the bonds would therefore have no legally enforceable means of securing payment of the bonds.

We believe that the repeal of the portion of §79-2650 authorizing a levy for the retirement of general obligation bonds before the redemption of all bonds issued in reliance upon it is prohibited by Article I, Section 10, of the Federal Constitution, which provides that no state shall pass a law impairing the obligation of contracts. We find this discussion of the subject in 156 A.L.R. at page 1266:

> After the issuance of bonds or other obligations of a municipality or political subdivision, any legislation which has > the effect of withdrawing the taxing power of the obligor or of limiting or diminishing those powers to such an extent as to deprive it of the means of paying the outstanding obligations impairs the obligations of the contracts in violation of the Federal Constitution.

Numerous cases, including those of the United States Supreme Court, and two from Nebraska, Burlington & M. R. R. Co. in Nebraska v. Saunders County, 17 Neb. 318, 22 N.W. 560 (1885), and State v. Walsh, 31 Neb. 469, 48 N.W.263 (1891), are cited in support of that proposition.

Section 79-2648 also authorizes the issuance of revenue bonds which shall be subject to the provisions of §§79-1438.04 to 79-1438.12. These sections require that such bonds be paid out of revenue from buildings whose earnings are pledged to the redemption of the bonds. Obviously, the discussion about general obligation bonds applies here. The pledge of earnings of the designated buildings must continue in force, and, while the state can voluntarily appropriate money to redeem the bonds, it cannot bind itself to do so in the future.

We also note that the court may find that the operation of technical community colleges is once again a state function, under the amendments effected by LB 954. The court found that it was a state function in the case of State ex rel. Western Nebraska Technical Community College Area v. Tallon, 192 Neb. 201, 219 N.W.2d 454 (1974), and that a tax levied for the support of such colleges violated Article VIII, Section 1A, of the Constitution. Heavy reliance was placed on the fact of state control and assumption of the primary burden of financial support. The Legislature then amended the act, and in State ex rel. Western Technical Community College Area v. Tallon, 196 Neb. 603, 244 N.W.2d 183 (1976), the court held the operation of the colleges was no longer a state function.

If the court were to hold it was once again a state function, the question would arise as to whether a tax levy to redeem bonds would violate Article VIII, Section 1A. In our opinion it would not. As previously shown, such a tax levy authorization is constitutionally mandated. The redemption of previously issued bonds is not a state function, if the purpose for which the bonds were issued was not a state function at the time of issuance. We would therefore be prepared to defend a tax levy for the redemption of bonds outstanding on the effective date of LB 954 from such an attack.

We must also point out one other possible constitutional problem that may arise under this bill. Article VII, Section 13, of the Nebraska Constitution provides that the general government of the state colleges as now existing, "and such other state colleges as may be established by law," shall be vested in a board, the composition and appointment of which is provided in the Constitution. Such a board, of course, now exists. However, section 7 of LB 954 creates a different board, called the State Board of Technical Community Colleges. Section 8 of the bill gives this board certain responsibilities with respect to the operation of the technical community colleges.

It certainly can be argued that LB 954 makes the technical community colleges "state colleges," as contemplated by Article VII, Section 13, and that therefore the general government of them must be under the present State College Board, instead of the board created by the act. Nothing in the act indicates that the present board has any hand at all in the "general government" of the technical community colleges. This may be held to be a constitutional violation.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 190
February 9, 1982

Dear Senator Landis:

We have reviewed your February 2, 1982 letter concerning LB 115 and whether increasing the maximum benefits for workmen's compensation without a commensurate increase in minimum benefits is unconstitutionally discriminatory.

We do not think such action would necessarily violate either the United States or Nebraska Constitution. Generally, to satisfy the due process and equal protection clauses legislation need not be mathematically precise in its classification. Prendergast v. Nelson, 199 Neb. 97, 256 N.W.2d 657 (1977).

It appears that the rationale for a minimum benefit provision is at least, in part, to prevent the employee and his dependents from becoming public charges. Westcoatt v. Lilley, 134 Neb. 376, 278 N.W. 854. The rationale for a maximum benefit provision is obviously not the same. It probably is to simply limit the amount of damages an employer may be required to pay.

Since the rationale for the two provisions is obviously different, there appears to be no requirement that they be increased or decreased proportionately at the same time. They should each be analyzed independently and adjusted appropriately based on the rationale for each.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

STANDING COMMITTEE REPORT
Public Health and Welfare

LEGISLATIVE BILL 509. Placed on General File as amended. Standing Committee amendments to LB 509.

Req. #2642

1. On page 2, after the period in line 25 insert ''A person who has successfully completed two thousand one hundred hours of training in a school of barbering approved by the Board of Barber Examiners shall receive a certificate of graduation.".

2. On page 3, line 8, after "instructors" insert "as provided in sections 4 to 12 of this act".

3. Insert the following new sections:

"Sec. 4. For the purpose of recognizing licenses which have been issued in other states or countries to practice barbering as an apprentice barber, registered barber, or barber instructor for which a license is required by Chapter 71, article 2, the Board of Barber Examiners may enter into a reciprocal agreement with every state which is certified to it by the proper examining board under the provisions of section 5 of this act.

Sec. 5. The Board of Barber Examiners shall at least once each year review the licensing requirements of other states or countries which issue licenses to practice barbering in the various classifications in which the board conducts examinations for licenses in this state. The board shall examine such requirements and, after making such other inquiries as it deems necessary, shall certify the states and countries having substantially equivalent requirements to those existing in this state for the practice of barbering and with which such board desires to enter into a reciprocal licensure agreement.

Sec. 6. In negotiating any reciprocal agreement, the Board of Barber Examiners shall be governed by the following:

(1) When the laws of any state or country or the rules of the authorities of such state or country place any requirement or disability upon any person licensed in this state to practice barbering which affects the right of such person to be licensed or to practice his or her profession in such other state, then the same requirement or disability shall be placed upon any person licensed in such state or country when applying for a license to practice in this state; and

(2) When any examining board has established by rule any special conditions upon which reciprocal agreements shall be entered into, as provided in section 7 of this act, such condition shall be incorporated into the reciprocal agreements negotiated with reference to licenses to practice barbering in any classification in which such examining board conducts examinations.

Sec. 7. The Board of Barber Examiners shall not enter into any reciprocal agreement with any state or country with reference to the practice of barbering as an apprentice barber, registered barber, or instructor for which the board conducts examinations, unless every person licensed in another state or country when applying for a license to practice in this state shall show:

(1) That the requirements for registration were substantially equal to those in force in this state at the time such license was issued; or

(2) Upon due proof that such applicant has continuously practiced the practices or occupation for which application for a license is made at least three years immediately prior to such application.

The applicant shall also pay the fee set pursuant to section 71-219.

Any applicant who fails to qualify for such exemption because his or her study or training outside this state does not fulfill the requirements of this section shall receive credit for the number of hours of study and training successfully completed in the particular state where he or she is registered or licensed, and he or she shall be qualified for the examination upon completion of such supplementary study and training in an accredited school of barbering in this state as the board finds necessary to substantially equal the study and training of a qualified person who has studied and trained in an accredited school in this state only. For the purposes of this section, each six months of practice outside of this state of the practices or occupation for which application for a license is made shall be deemed the equivalent of one hundred hours of study and training required in this state in order to qualify for the practice of barbering.

Sec. 8. When the requirements for a license in any state or country with which this state has a reciprocal agreement as authorized by section 4 of this act are changed by any law or rule of the authorities of such state so that such requirements are no longer substantially as high as those existing in this state, then such agreement shall be deemed terminated and licenses issued in such state or country shall not be recognized as a basis of granting a license in this state until a new agreement has been negotiated.

Sec. 9. The Board of Barber Examiners shall upon presentation of a certification of licensure to practice barbering as an apprentice, registered barber, or instructor by the duly constituted authority of another state or country, with which this state has established reciprocal relations as authorized by section 4 of this act, and subject to the rules of the board, license such applicant to practice in this state unless an examination is required under section 7 of this act.

Sec. 10. The provisions of Chapter 71, article

2, relating to applications, transmittal of the names of eligible candidates, certification of successful applicants, and issuance of licenses thereto, in the case of regular examinations, shall apply as far as applicable to applicants for a reciprocal license.

Sec. 11. When the laws or the rules of the authorities of a state or country place any requirement or disability upon any person holding a diploma or certificate from any school or college of barbering in this state in which barbering is taught, which affects the right of such person to be licensed in such state, the same requirement or disability shall be placed upon any person holding a diploma or certificate from a similar school or college situated in that state when applying for a license to practice in this state.

Sec. 12. The Board of Barber Examiners shall have the power to establish the necessary rules for carrying out the reciprocal relations with other states or countries which are authorized by sections 4 to 11 of this act.

Sec. 13. Any licensee who desires to change his or her residence to that of another state or country shall upon application to the Board of Barber Examiners, and payment of the legal fee, receive a certified statement that he or she is a duly licensed practitioner in this state.".

4. Renumber remaining sections accordingly.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 191
February 11, 1982

Dear Senator Cullan:

This is in response to your letter of February 1, 1982, in which you indicated that the Public Health and Welfare Committee is currently considering LB 684 which concerns Aid to Dependent Children benefits for unborn children through pregnancy. You stated that recent changes in federal law have prohibited federal funds from being used to provide such benefits until the sixth month and that the Legislature during the 1981 Special Session decided to fund such benefits using state funds. According to your letter, LB 684 proposes to prohibit such benefits until the child is actually born although the federal government will fund such benefits following the sixth month of pregnancy. You indicated that the committee is currently considering an amendment to LB 684 which will continue the ADC benefits which currently exist but will restrict those persons who can receive benefits funded entirely with state funds to those persons who have been Nebraska residents for twelve months prior to application for such benefits. You asked for our opinion on the constitutionality of the residency requirement.

The proposed amendment to LB 684 is constitutionally defective in two regards. First, the amendment proposes a one year residency requirement which is violative of the Equal Protection Clause and consequently it is impermissible in light of the United States Supreme Court decision of Shapiro v. Thompson, 394 U.S. 618 (1969). Secondly, inasmuch as the proposed amendment denies welfare assistance to unborn children after the fifth month of pregnancy, it creates a federal-state legislative conflict and therefore it must fall under the dictate of the Supremacy Clause.

In Shapiro, the United States Supreme Court held the statutory provisions of Connecticut, the District of Columbia, and Pennsylvania which denied welfare assistance to residents who had not resided in their respective jurisdictions for one year prior to their applications for assistance unconstitutional. According to the Court, the residency requirement did not promote a compelling governmental interest merely because it: ". . . (1) facilitates the planning of the welfare budget; (2) provides an objective test of residency; (3) minimizes the opportunity for recipients fraudulently to receive payments from more than one jurisdiction; and (4) encourages early entry of new residents into the labor force." Id. at 634.

The Court also addressed the argument that Congress had expressly approved the imposition of the residency requirement by the States as part of the AFDC program by enacting section 402(b) of the Social Security Act of 1935, as amended, 42 U.S.C. §602(b). It disposed of the argument as follows:

> Finally, even if it could be argued that the constitutionality of §402(b) is somehow at issue here, it follows from what we have said that the provision, insofar as it permits the one-year waiting-period requirement, would be unconstitutional. Congress may not authorize the States to violate the Equal Protection Clause.

Consequently, under the Supreme Court's mandate in Shapiro, the proposed amendment to LB 684 is unconstitutional since the residency requirement which it proposes creates a classification which denies the equal protection of the laws because the governmental interests served by the classification are not compelling.

Additionally, the denial of welfare assistance to unborn children would be impermissible under the Supremacy Clause due to a federal-state legislative conflict. Under the eligibility requirements of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, 45 C.F.R. §233.90(c), unborn children are entitled to receive AFDC benefits. Although it appears as if §233.90(c) allows the states some leeway to vary from the federal standards, unless there is clear congressional authorization for the exclusion, the states may not exclude persons eligible for assistance under federal standards. The authority for this proposition stems from the language of the United States Supreme Court in Townsend v. Swank, 404 U.S. 282 (1971), wherein it stated at 286:

> King v. Smith [392 U.S. 309 (1968)], establishes that, at least in the absence of congressional authorization for the exclusion clearly evidenced from the Social Security Act or its legislative history, a state eligibility standard that excludes persons eligible for assistance under federal AFDC standards violates the Social Security Act and is therefore invalid under the Supremacy Clause.

As you alluded to in your letter, recent changes in federal law have prohibited federal funds from being used to provide AFDC benefits to unborn children until the sixth month. This can be construed as a clear congressional authorization to exclude unborn children up until the sixth month of pregnancy from eligibility for AFDC. However, there is no congressional authorization to exclude unborns from AFDC eligibility after the fifth month of pregnancy. Any state legislative attempt to do so would clash with federal law in violation of the Supremacy Clause.

To reiterate, the proposed amendment to LB 684 would be held unconstitutional because a similar requirement in a state statute was struck down in Shapiro v. Thompson, 394 U.S. 618 (1969), as violative of the equal protection clause. In addition, there has been no congressional authorization to exclude unborns from the receipt of welfare assistance after the fifth month of pregnancy, and any state legislative attempt to do so would fall under the Supremacy Clause.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

STATE OF JUDICIARY MESSAGE

February 16, 1982
Presented By Chief Justice Norman Krivosha
Nebraska Supreme Court

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Distinguished Senators, Fellow Nebraskans:

It is once again my extreme privilege to appear before you and present to you a report on the State of the Nebraska Judiciary. As the holders of the State purse, and molders of the State laws, it is vital that you be made aware of what is transpiring in the judicial branch of government, just as you are aware of what is going on in the legislative and executive branches of government. By keeping informed you will be better armed to fulfill your constitutional reponsibilities, just as your action in fulfilling those responsibilities will better permit us to fulfill ours.

It is for that reason that I consider your invitation to appear and present this report not only a generous act on your part, but more importantly, one of responsible goverance. I take the act of delivering this report as one of the most important duties I perform as Chief Justice and do not look upon it as mere ceremonial trappings. I hope you find the report of equal value to you in making your deliberations. Before proceeding to report on specific items, I would like to share with you a general thought.

Experience on the Court has now convinced me that the plan designed for the operation of our State government, as embodied by example in the United States Constitution, and later developed and set in our own State Constitution, is the result of good judgment and wisdom. By creating three branches of government, independent of each other in their assigned duties, yet interdependent upon each other for the fulfillment of society's needs, the best of all worlds is attained.

The fact that we are at the same time independent of each other and yet interdependent on each other, is both a blessing and a curse. It is a blessing in that by maintaining three independent and separate branches of government, we are better able to balance the rights of the people. And yet a curse because too often we fail to adequately communicate with each other as to our particular needs and further fail to share with each other the knowledge and experience we have gained. Each of us, in our own way seem determined to reinvent the wheel on each and every issue even though a little discussion might merge our collective thinking and more quickly solve our mutual problems. It is this communication, or rather the lack of it, either directly to each or through other public expressions, which seems to cause a problem for us.

There are some who would argue that the court's only function is to decide cases and controversy, and judges, particularly the Chief Justice, have no business expressing views with regard to society's needs, nor cooperating with the other branches of government in attempting to resolve obvious problems. No one would argue that courts must, in one sense, be free of influence and totally independent. But the independence necessary for the proper functioning of the judicial branch of government is with regard to its decision-making function and not its administrative function.

Alexander Hamilton, writing in The Federalist, perhaps said it best when he wrote: "The complete independence of the courts of justice is particularly essential in a limited constitution. By a limited constitution I understand one which contains certain specified exceptions to the legislative authority. Such, for instance, as that it shall pass no bills of attainer, no expost facto laws and the like. Limitations of this kind can be preserved in practice no other way than through the medium of the courts of justice whose duty it must be to declare all acts contrary to the manifest tenor of the Constitution void. Without this all the reservations of particular rights or privileges would amount to nothing."

Yet, we must not confuse the independence of decision-making with the mutual cooperation that can exist among the branches of government in attempting to resolve the needs of society.

In a recent issue of the New York Times, Senior Judge Irving R. Kaufman, former Chief Judge of the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, wrote an article entitled "Judges Must Speak Out." He noted in particular criticism expressed of Chief Justice Warren E. Burger's proposed reforms in bail delivered to the American Bar Association. He said, and I quote, "Some critics have asserted that the Chief Justice's statements were inappropriate, not only because his views were used by a legislator, but also because two cases testing the constitutionality of using bail for preventive detention were soon to reach the United States Supreme Court.'' As you know, those cases were both from Nebraska. He then went on to say, ''Such criticism reveals a fundamental misperception of the responsibility of judges to educate the public and the other branches of government. More important, the misunderstanding reflects a lack of confidence in the integrity of judges. In the public interest judges may, and indeed must, give legislators the benefit of their special expertise gained during years of wrestling with specific legal problems.'' He concluded by saying, and again I quote, ''The message is clear. Judges may not merely express their view on matters within their judicial province, but have an obligation to do so in the public interest.''

The argument advanced by Judge Kaufman makes good sense to me and I find myself in complete agreement with his thoughts. It is in that spirit that I present this report and once again extend to you the invitation which I made to you a year ago. Please feel free to seek the assistance of our Court Administrator's Office on any problem you are addressing and with which we can be of help. The office of the Court Administrator is able to provide you with much information concerning a host of matters involving proposed legislation. The problems confronted by our state are not unique to our state and we should at least be able to have the benefit of others' experience. Through the office of the Court Administrator we can either provide you with a great deal of information already available to us, or obtain for you information from a host of sources available to that office. We seek to offer this assistance not out of any desire to control your actions, but out of a desire to aid you in your deliberations. I am not concerned that such a relationship will effect the independence of the courts.

On another matter of general interest, I would like to share with you what may better explain my concerns about the future of the Judiciary in Nebraska.

There has developed in our society an attraction to slogans. Somehow we believe that difficult and complex problems can best be solved, if we can reduce them to simple slogans. One such popular slogan today is ''If it isn't broken, don't fix it.'' While at first blush that may appear to be good advice, on further analysis I suggest it is no advice at all. For, you see, one can afford to wait until the item is broken before giving it our attention, only if the item is expendable, and we can afford to be without it during the time it is being repaired. But if the item we are concerned about is life supportive, waiting until it breaks before giving it our attention; before providing careful maintenance and instituting thoughtful modifications, may indeed be dangerous. If one is dependent upon oxygen for life, one would not want to wait until the oxygen equipment broke, before making necessary adjustments. So too is the case with regard to a number of the problems facing the judicial branch of government, and its effect upon the public. Many of these matters are life supportive, and cannot wait attention until they no longer work. For too long now, we have attempted to solve many of our problems by crisis. For too long, we have refused to take on a problem until there is little or no time left to address the problem and plan a solution. Such action leaves us with few alternatives and little choice. I suggest to you that it is imperative that we begin to develop a procedure, at least for the judicial branch of government, and the functions which it must perform, which permit periodic inspection and maintenance, and do not require massive surgery before something is done. One of the most essential elements of an effective judicial branch of government is public understanding and acceptance. Only by careful advance planning can we provide sufficient time to permit public understanding and ultimate acceptance. To therefore adhere to the view "If it isn't broken, don't fix it" denies to the public the opportunity to have a chance to be informed and carefully reflect on the facts. It is in that spirit that I share with you the condition of the judiciary and solicit your aid and support in addressing the problems.

As compared to many of the other states of the Union, the problems of the Nebraska Judiciary are but minor. Yet the problems, such as they are, are significant in that they tell us, that what other states are now experiencing, is awaiting us. Keeping then with what I have suggested is necessary in order to provide ourselves with adequate lead time, I urge you to give careful consideration to the present and future needs of the judicial branch of government. Not because the members of the judicial branch of government require such consideration, but because the public requires such consideration.

Perhaps the most serious single problem facing the judicial branch of this state today is the size of the docket at the Supreme Court. Statistics kept by the Clerk of the Supreme Court discloses that on December 1, 1981, 929 new cases have been filed with the court during the preceding 12 months as compared to 741 filed one year earlier. As of February 1, 1982, there were 700 cases still on the docket, compared to but 609 on February 1, 1981. And while the number of cases undisposed of remaining on the docket continues to grow, the number of cases disposed of by the court, likewise, continues to grow. On September 1, 1981, the court had disposed of 778 cases during the previous 12 months as compared to 650 the year before, an increase of 128 cases. As a matter of fact, the court disposed of more cases in 1980-81 than the total number of cases filed for the year 1979-80.

During the first 5 months of the current court year, the court has disposed of 61 more cases than it did during a similar time last year. And yet, the numbers continue to grow at alarming rates. Though we have disposed of 61 more cases, the number of cases at issue unsubmitted has increased by 59.

In an effort to address this issue, the court continues to attempt to implement various devices which hopefully have little or no cost impact. The court has now increased the time it sits to hear oral argument by 30% and has, beginning with this court year, determined to sit 11 months of the year, 6 days a month, during which time we hear, on the average, 40 to 45 cases.

While that may not strike the uninitiated as being a significant increase, let me assure you that this does place a substantial additional burden on the court. By increasing the time of oral argument by 30%, we increase the number of cases requiring the writing of an opinion by nearly 100. Disposing of the number of cases we now decide requires, at a minimum, the reading of some 800 legal briefs varying in pages from as few as 10 or 12 to as many as 50, plus an additional 200 briefs filed in connection with summary dispositions such as excessive sentences and motions to withdraw. The reading of those briefs are but a small part of the decision-making process and, of course, does not even begin to address the time involved in deciding cases. When one further considers the time that must be taken in reading all of the evidence contained in the bills of exceptions, doing the necessary research, and writing the ultimate opinions, little if any time is left. The bill of exceptions run anywhere from several hundred pages to as much as 8,000 pages per case. The court is currently releasing some 2,500 pages of opinion annually. This number does not include summary dispositions.

The court has advised the bar that in an effort to address this problem, the court has determined that it may not write an opinion in all cases. In particular, we have decided not to write opinions in certain domestic relations cases where the issues are not new or unique or uncertain. Or, for that matter, the court may not write an opinion in any other case which the court determines, after review, will not further the knowledge of the law significantly. In that event, the cases will be decided by simple per curiam opinion, advising the parties that the judgment is affirmed. While that is not a desirable practice and one which the court would not prefer to follow, it is, at the moment, a necessary requirement if we are to have any success at addressing the problem. Furthermore, if we are to continue operating at this level, it will be necessary for us to have assistance in the form of additional law clerks.

The court has further determined that it will continue its prehearing conference program, both voluntary and mandatory, and has, beginning January 1, 1982, expanded the mandatory prehearing conference. Beginning after January 1, 1982, all domestic relation cases, all tort cases, all workmen compensation cases, and all those cases in which judgments of $5,000 or less were sought or obtained, are required to be submitted to amandatory prehearing conference. While the initial reaction by some to this plan was not favorable, the court is hopeful that the bar will more readily accept this procedure as time goes on. In any event, the procedure will be followed. The value of the procedure is apparent to those who have taken advantage of it. Even in those instances where settlement cannot be effected, narrowing the issues often results in simplifying the appeal, expediting its decision, and reducing the costs.

Furthermore, the court, in an effort to address the docket problem, has determined that if the parties attending a prehearing conference waive oral argument, the court will, as soon as all of the briefs have been filed, consider the case submitted and will assign the case for the writing of an opinion. This is a procedure which is known as "fast tracking," and cuts down the time a case must wait before it can be decided. The court reserves the right to order oral argument, however, in the event that the court believes that oral argument is either necessary or helpful in the particular case. While this procedure may aid in expediting the time in which cases are disposed of, it does, as you can readily determine, add a further burden to the number of cases to be handled by the court.

Many other states have attempted to resolve this difficult docket problem by the creation of an intermediate court of appeals. We have, as yet, resisted suggesting this alternative to you. We recognize that this alternative, though it may be inevitable and may be necessary, will result in incurring substantial additional costs. And before we burden the state with such additional costs, we are committed to work to our maximum in an effort to address the problem.

You must, however, be mindful that the limitations of such an effort is not simply hard work. For at some point the quantity of work begins to dilute the quality of the work and the quality of the work is as important, if not more important than, the quantity. Poorly written opinions, while perhaps disposing of numbers, do little to establish an appropriate, clearly defined body of law. I must advise you that we are now reaching, if we have not already arrived, at our maximum level of work. The court cannot dispose of very many more cases under its current system than it is now doing. It will, however, for a while longer, attempt to attack the problem simply with greater dedication and effort.

While the docket problems at the trial court level do not appear to be as severe at the moment, the Supreme Court, nevertheless, has begun to develop procedures which can anticipate such eventual problems. The court has attempted to encourage the use of telephones by the trial courts where proper to handle motions and prehearing conferences, thereby cutting down unnecessary travel for both lawyers and judges. We have now submitted to you legislation which will grant the trial court greater authority to formally enter orders outside the county where the case is heard. The reason for that is again simply to permit the courts' time to be better utilized.

In an effort to keep better track of cases, we have recently adopted a rule at the court which requires each trial judge in the state to report once a month to the Supreme Court any case which the trial court has had under advisement for more than 90 days and the reason for that fact. I might add that the number of cases reported are very few and almost always are necessitated by events beyond the control of the judge. A special trial progression committee headed by Justice Hastings of our court is continuing to examine these matters and is now looking at proposed rules which may require that once a case is filed it must be brought to issue within a specified period of time and once at issue, must be heard by the court within a specified period of time. In this manner we hope to avoid the practice of having cases filed, though there is no real intent to pursue the case or have the trial of the matter wait for a long period of time to the dismay of the litigants.

And yet, with all of these changes either occurring or contemplated, it has become apparent to me and to the leadership of the bar that absent a change of attitude on the part of both lawyers and the public, there may not be any ultimate solution to the docket problems. While no one could argue that having open courts available to everyone is indeed the hallmark of an open and free society, yet, no one must be misled into believing that bringing every dispute to the court can do anything but ultimately clog the wheels of justice. Litigating every conceivable dispute, no matter how real, does little to further the cause of freedom and justice.

Chief Justice Warren Burger, in his recent address to the American Bar Association, has urged that we proceed to look at alternative means of dispute resolutions. We have likewise urged such an examination in hopes that methods may be devised which encourage people to find ways of resolving differences among themselves through the use of arbitration or mediation. While again, I do not suggest that we should impede the use of the courts where necessary, we must begin to obtain the cooperation of lawyers and their clients in addressing this problem.

Certain groups of people are better served through mediation than through litigation. When a tenant sues a landlord, the tenant ultimately loses no matter who wins the lawsuit. When an employee sues an employer, the employee ultimately loses, no matter who wins the lawsuit. When neighbors litigate, both lose no matter who wins the lawsuit. Persons who must maintain continuing relationships must be afforded methods of resolving their disputes which do not follow traditional advocacy practices.

The entire area of divorce must be studied so that if the marriage must be dissolved, it is done in a civilized, rational and noncombative manner. The scars of divorce litigation are often long in healing and have affects which reach beyond the immediate parties.

I realize that such a suggestion is likely at first to be viewed by some with alarm and by others with outright rejection. Yet, I believe we must begin considering such alternatives if we are to be able to adequately meet the needs of the people. I underscore the word consider, for I believe such a project would require careful study.

And even with all of this, one more important investigation is necessary. Most states which have attempted to attack congested dockets with various procedures, including the creation of intermediate courts of appeal, eventually find themselves right back where they started. I have attempted to determine the reason for this phenomena. I have suggested to the bar in the past and now suggest to you, the real culprit in all of this is attitude, expressed and practiced by both lawyers and their clients. Too often, as I have already indicated, individuals refuse to find a reasonable solution to their problems and instead insist on litigating. Rather than turning to the Legislature first to solve an apparent problem, the parties too often look to the courts. All of us working together must seek to change those attitudes if we are ever to succeed.

In an effort to try and address that problem, the Nebraska State Bar Association, in cooperation with the Supreme Court, recently sponsored a symposium which addressed that problem. Attending that meeting in Kearney, Nebraska, were leaders of the state bar and representatives of the courts. During the two days careful consideration was given to the problems of court delay and lawyers' attitudes. We are hopeful that as a result of that initial meeting, further work will be done by the bar toward addressing the matter of attitudes and the docket problem. It is imperative, in my view, that we once again establish the image of the lawyer as the peacemaker and not as the litigator; as the mediator and not as the hired gun. To be sure, there will remain those cases which, because of honest differences of opinion, either as to the facts of the matter or the law, will require litigation. But, that should be left only to those cases which cannot otherwise be resolved.

A further matter which will require consideration by both the judicial branch of government as well as the legislative and executive branches of government, is the matter of legal aid to poor. As the viability of federally funded legal services become more doubtful, it becomes apparent that other resources must be secured. In my annual address to the bar, I suggested to them that some form of pro bono service to the poor must be redeveloped in an effort to fill the void. The bar association, through its leadership, has accepted that challenge and is even now looking at possible ways of resolving the issues. Pro bono, however, standing alone will not prove to be the answer to this very difficult problem.

Let no one be misled as to the value of legal services for the poor. Nor should anyone be misled as to why America has enjoyed quiet times in recent years. The availability of a courtroom or resolving disputes has played a major role in that matter. A courtroom, where all are equal and none superior, does much to relieve feelings of anger and outcry. When the courtrooms are closed, those people may have no other alternatives but to seek redress elsewhere. And while such behavior is not to be condoned nor permitted, nevertheless, we cannot ignore the realities of life. I am hopeful that through the joint efforts of the three branches of government we may be able to design some method whereby persons needing legal assistance, but without adequate funds, may continue to receive those services. This, again, is one of those situations where we cannot wait until it is broken before we fix it. We must not attempt to resolve this in a crisis. But rather, we should begin early so that we can thoughtfully and carefully prepare for what is inevitable. I fear that even if we begin immediately it may not be soon enough.

A number of bills have been introduced in this session of the Legislature at the suggestion of the Supreme Court. Several of them have already started to move across your board. I believe that by and large they are fairly clear on their face and I will not take your time now to discuss them in any detail. Let me merely comment that they are suggested as part of our continuing effort to improve the quality of the judicial system so that we may better deliver our services to the public. If, however, for any reason you have questions concerning the intent or purpose of any bill which we have suggested, we urge that you contact the Court Administrator's Office before concluding that it is of no purpose. The ultimate decision as to whether it should be adopted is yours. We only ask that you afford us the opportunity of explaining our reasons for making the request before you take action.

There is, however, one bill which may not be quite so clear on its face and I would like to take a moment to address that. I refer to L.B. 724. While most matters heard by the federal courts arise out of federal law, including the acts of Congress, there is one important area which is otherwise. I refer to the area known as the federal courts diversity jurisdiction. In a diversity case, state law is controlling. A diversity case is simply a case filed in federal court, involving a matter controlled by state law, where the parties are citizens of different states and the amount in controversy exceeds $10,000. When such a case is filed in the federal court, the federal court is obligated to follow state law. Occasionally, however, the matter which is filed in the federal court will be a case of first impression, never having been passed upon by the state court. In such a case, the federal courts are required to anticipate what action the state court would take if the matter was ever presented to the court. The Uniform Certification of Law is a uniform state law developed by the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws and has now been adopted in approximately 19 states. We therefore have the benefit of their experience, and the benefit of that experience discloses to us the advantages of such a law. Rather than simply guessing at what a state court might do, the federal court is authorized to petition the Supreme Court of Nebraska to take jurisdiction in the case for the purpose of deciding the questions of law, but not the questions of fact. Under the bill, as drafted, we are not obligated to accept the case, but may do so if we conclude that it is advantageous to permit us to make the initial determination rather than having the federal courts guess. As I have indicated to you, those states which have operated with such a rule for a number of years, have found it to their advantage. I urge your favorable consideration. This, again, is an example of receiving back from the federal government authority which more properly should be with the state courts.

I turn now, for a few moments, to a topic which is of pressing concern to me and I know, to you as well. I refer to the matter of crime and in particular, to the matter of crime in Nebraska which, of course, is the area in which we are responsible. I only wish it were possible for me to tell you that by simply pledging my support to eradicate crime we could anticipate to see a substantial change. Those of you who have given the matter any thought at all know that commitment alone will not bring about results. Though, to be sure, commitment by those responsible is necessary.

The greater difficulty with the problem is that, in the first instance, we really don't understand crime and, in the second instance, we appear often to be operating at odds with each other in attempting to find solutions, unwilling to discuss the problems and unwilling to mutually attempt to resolve them. Historically we have attempted to attack the matter of crime by gathering together rational people to design rational solutions for irrational behavior. We have attempted to determine how to deal with people who don't think at all like those of us who are law-abiding.

The threat of punishment alone has never in the past successfully deterred crime. It is not the severity of the punishment which deters crime but the certainty and swiftness with which the criminal is apprehended and punished that deters crime. That notion is not new or startling. My historical mentor, DeTocqueville, writing more than 100 years ago, said, and I quote: "In the middle ages when it was very difficult to reach offenders, the judges inflicted frightful punishments on the few who were arrested; but this did not diminish the number of crimes. It has since been discovered that when justice is more certain and more mild it is more efficacious. The English and the Americans hold that tyranny and oppression are to be treated like any other crime by lessening the penalty and facilitating conviction."

If then what we seek to do is reduce crime, then we must address it from the perspective that is most likely to be effective.

As far as the swiftness with which the penalty is imposed is concerned, the Nebraska courts, contrary to popular belief, are not only operating efficiently and swiftly, but as fast as a democratic, due process system will permit. While polls disclose that the public in Nebraska believes that we are too slow, facts of the matter will not support that view. In metropolitan Omaha, where the greatest number of criminal matters are handled by the courts, the average time from arrest to sentencing in 75% of the cases is less than 60 days. While it may be that the public believes that punishment should be inflicted within hours or days, our due process system of justice does not permit that to happen. We must not be confused here in Nebraska by statistics which exist elsewhere. There is no basis for concluding that the conviction of offenders are so delayed, as a general rule, as to promote crime in Nebraska.

The other part of the formula is quick apprehension. In that regard, neither the action of the courts nor the length of the sentence will guarantee the swift apprehension of the offenders. Passing legislation to make the punishment for the crime more severe does not in any manner ensure that the offender will be apprehended. The efforts and the money to support those efforts must be directed to the law enforcement agencies so that they may be able to perform their assigned tasks with greater success. Let me not be misunderstood to suggest that I am criticizing the law enforcement agencies, nor finding fault with what they do. Quite to the contrary, I am extremely proud and complementary of what they do, considering the severe handicaps under which they must operate, particularly now with the loss of LEAA funds. I simply suggest to you, however, that extending the sentence by legislation and walking away does not address the problem and should not permit you to believe that you have done what you should do so that it becomes everybody else's responsibility. As is so often the case, if each of us continue to operate in our own sphere without cooperation what you may do in an effort to address the problem may only exacerbate what others of us are required to do.

So often today another favorite slogan is "Let's run things in a businesslike way." Let me then pursue that for a moment. Everyone in business understands that if the turnover of their goods is reduced while their inventory increases, they must build more storage space. If you simply provide that longer sentences should be imposed, as you have the authority to do, then you must likewise be prepared to solve the problem of space for those who are coming into prison in greater numbers and staying for longer periods of time.

And what do we do with the prisoners once we imprison them for longer periods of time. We are limited in what we may do, both because of legal restrictions and because of lack of funds. We are limited as to what work they may do because it is unlawful for them to compete in the marketplace. Yet, until we are able to teach them skills which they may use on the outside, how will they be able to accept their responsibility? The court is currently working with the Department of Corrections to create a department of printing within the Penitentiary to do the printing for the court, including the printing of its opinions. Hopefully by teaching individuals the craft of printing, we may provide them with the means with which to earn a livelihood upon their return to society. Other efforts by both the public and private sector must be considered.

And perhaps the most significant deficiency existing in the prisons today, in my view, is the lack of educational opportunity. Perhaps as many as 20% of those incarcerated are either illiterate or virtually illiterate. That such a situation should exist in a country in which literacy is its abundant natural resource is hard to understand. And yet, is it so hard to undersand why one, who after spending 3 or 5 or 7 years in prison, is released without a trade and without the ability to recognize his or her name in neon lights, returns to crime?

We have concerned ourselves, as we should concern ourselves, with the matter of educating the general population and providing such assistance to the various schools as appears appropriate. And without intending in any way to take from them, I simply suggest to you that education in penal institutions is even more important. Somehow with all of our resources, that group of people in the institutions were missed and need to be retrained. Nothing that I have suggested here is new or innovative. Nor is it intended as a quick cure for rising crime in Nebraska. It is intended only as a suggestion, that the fight against crime must be waged by all of us, acting in concert, and not by each of us individually, concerned only about our own little corner of the world.

To suggest, as is often done, that judges are the cause of crime. That judges don't care about their communities or their families; that judges are too lenient; that judges are indifferent, is once again to resort to unsupported slogans. There are exceptions. There are areas requiring change and improvement within the judiciary, but those minor deviations are not the cause of rising criminal statistics in Nebraska and no one should attempt to fool the public by suggesting that fact.

So concerned are we at the court about this matter, that we are even now in the process of planning a forum to be held sometime in late May or early June of this year. Members of this body will be invited to attend, as will representatives from as many of the various interests as we can identify. No one, on our part, believes that by holding such a meeting we will end crime in Nebraska. What we do hope to do, however, is attempt to bring the various interests together so that they may recognize the problems that each has in dealing with this difficult and pressing situation. And hopefully from that forum will come some ideas. Not as to how to solve the problem, but as to how to begin to attack the problem, in hopes that solutions can be found.

Let me end this portion by simply declaring in loud and unequivocal terms—The judiciary of Nebraska are not supportive of crime, nor are they the cause of it. We are concerned and we are committed and we stand ready to work with you in addressing this matter.

Let me conclude then by touching on one last matter which I have in part touched on throughout this address. During the past three years that it has been my honor to serve as Chief Justice of Nebraska, I have traveled the length and breadth of this state meeting, not only with the lawyers and judges of Nebraska, but with the citizens as well. That experience has confirmed my belief that Nebraskans are considerate, thoughtful, interested, people. And while they may not always agree with either my thoughts or my conclusions, they are always willing to permit me to speak about them. Moreover, even when they are unable to agree, it has been my experience that each of us part with a little better understanding of the other and a warmer feeling about each other. We have, I hope and I believe, reestablished a sense of trust and confidence between us. Not through the method of confrontation but rather through the method of communication.

I am further convinced as a result of my travels that notwithstanding what may be expressed, the public wants to have faith and confidence in its government at all levels. Its expression of anger and frustration is more likely caused because of its high expectations of us rather than the reverse. But the fact of the matter may be that they simply expect more from a democratic form of government than it is designed to deliver. I suggest that one of the first orders of business is a need to reestablish the people's confidence in its government. That confidence can only be reestablished by taking some positive action.

We must begin at once, acting in concert, to explain to the public the limitations of a democratic government. The power of a democracy is vested in its people and not in its government. Only through greater understanding and participation by the public generally can we make the system work. Again, the idea is not new, but the effort to bring it about must be revived.

And secondly, we must fight against the perpetuation of false notions and misinformation. We must find ways in this wonderful world of mass communication to get more and better information out to the public, so that they may more fully understand not only the problem, but the limitation of the alternatives. And perhaps most important of all, we, in government, need to stop attempting to lay the blame at each other's door. For while we may not appreciate the significance of our bickering, the public views the entire matter as foolishness, and wishes a plague on all of our houses. I mentioned at the outset my admiration of the framers of the Constitution. They envisioned our form of government, either at the federal level or at the state level, as persons in partnership and not as persons in competition. They envisioned that the independence of the branches of government, working together, would provide for our strength and not for our weakness. There is much that we can do if we will resist the temptation of ignoring the particulars and speaking in generalities when attacking a problem. We will do much for the betterment of our state if we will resist the temptation of always looking for the worst in others and failing to see what is good.

Perhaps there are those who will conclude that the Chief Justice has no business speaking out in this manner. That also is one of the great wonders of this free and democratic society. Anyone can be as critical of the Chief Justice as he chooses. And yet, as suggested by former Chief Justice Kaufman, to require me to ignore that I am a part of government and the head of one of its branches is to require me to move blindly when much of what is there is so clear. To suggest that I should only impose sentence and not seek to prevent the need for the imposition, is too narrow and too naive a position for me to accept. I wish to serve this state and its people, as do you. And I wish to ensure that the goodness which brought our state to where it is, carries us to the future. And I wish to do all of that while engaging in the occupation for which I was trained and which I love, the legal profession. I wish to be the head of a branch of government that is composed of peacemakers and not hired guns. But, I cannot do that without your help and cooperation and without your permitting me to help you and cooperate with you. I hope that in the year 1982 we may find ways to address these problems.

Perhaps one of the first ways would be to attempt to create some type of limited coordinating council consisting of the three branches of government who can periodically meet with each other and discuss our mutual future problems. While it may be popular today to suggest that if it isn't broken, don't fix it, it was earlier thought that a stitch in time saves nine.

Thank you very much for your kind invitation this morning.

The committee escorted Chief Justice Krivosha from the Chamber.

STANDING COMMITTEE REPORT

(3) Credit shall mean the right granted by a creditor to a debtor to defer payment of debt or to incur debt and defer its payment;

(4) Creditor shall mean creditors who regularly extend, or arrange for the extension of, credit which is payable by agreement in more than four installments or for which payment of a finance charge is or may be required, whether in connection with loans, sale of property or services, or otherwise; and

(5) Default shall mean either of the following, if without justification under any law:

A creditor gives notice to the consumer under this section when he or she delivers the notice to the consumer or delivers or mails the notice to the consumer's last-known residence address.

(2) The notice shall be in writing and shall conspicuously state: The name, address, and telephone number of the creditor to which payment is to be made; a brief identification of the credit transaction; the consumer's right to cure the default; and the amount of payment and date by which payment must be made to cure the default.

The consumer shall have twenty days after the notice is given to cure any default consisting of failure to make the required payment by tendering the amount of all unpaid sums due at the time of the tender, without acceleration, plus any unpaid charges. Cure shall restore the consumer to his or her rights under the agreement as though the default had not occurred.

(2) With respect to defaults on the same obligation after a creditor has once given notice of the consumer's right to cure, the consumer shall have no further right to cure and the creditor has no obligation to proceed against the consumer or the collateral.

Sec. 4. Sections 1 to 3 of this act shall not prohibit a consumer from voluntarily surrendering possession of goods which are collateral and shall not prohibit the creditor from thereafter enforcing any security interest in the goods at any time after default.

Sec. 5. This act shall apply to all consumer credit transactions in this state entered into, extended, or renewed on or after January 1, 1983.''.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 192
February 11, 1982

Dear Senator DeCamp:

This is in reply to your inquiry concerning enforcement of mandatory license suspension. You state this information is necessary as an aid in drafting other mandatory-type legislation.

You specifically ask what is necessary to insure enforcement of a mandatory suspension law or under what theory a judge might be allowed not to enforce that portion of a law. You refer specifically to LB 76, Eighty-Seventh Legislature, which is now contained in Neb.Rev.Stat. §28-905 (Supp. 1981).

The most obvious area which comes to mind in which a court might avoid entering a mandatory suspension of two years, as required in the foregoing section, is probation. Nothing is said in Neb.Rev.Stat. §28-905 which would eliminate this possibility.

On the other hand, Neb.Rev.Stat. §29-2219 (Reissue 1979) provides in part: "(1) A municipal court may suspend sentence, place a defendant on probation and determine the conditions and period of probation, which period shall not exceed, in the case of any defendant convicted of an offense less than a felony, two years." (Emphasis added.)

Neb.Rev.Stat. §29-2260 (Reissue 1979) which applies to a county court, district court or juvenile court, except a separate juvenile court, provides in part as follows:

> (2) Whenever a court considers sentence for an offender convicted of either a misdemeanor or a felony, the court may withhold sentence of imprisonment unless, having regard to the nature and circumstances of the crime and the history, character and condition of the offender, the court finds that imprisonment of the offender is necessary for protection of the public because:
> (4) When an offender who has been convicted of a crime is not sentenced to imprisonment, the court may sentence him to probation.

There may be other sections also dealing with suspension of sentence and probation.

Another factor which may inhibit enforcement is the fact that when a court enters a sentence favorable to the defendant he, as a practical matter, will not complain; conversely, the county attorney under present procedures, has no effective appeal although we understand there is pending before the Legislature a proposal which would make it possible for the county attorney to appeal unsatisfactory criminal sentences, but we have not studied this proposal to determine its applicability.

Hoping this will be of assistance to you, we are,

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

installments at approximately equal periodic intervals of time and be so arranged that no installment is substantially greater in amount than any preceding installment; Provided, that in order to facilitate payment in accordance with the buyer's seasonal or intermittent income a contract may reduce or omit payments over any period or periods in which the buyer's income is reduced or suspended.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 193
February 10, 1982

Dear Senator Beutler:

You have requested the opinion of this office regarding Section 3(2) of LB 126, which, as you indicated, would allow photographs to be accepted as prima facie evidence of the identity of allegedly stolen property in a prosecution for theft by shoplifting. Pursuant to the provisions of the bill, the photograph must be accompanied by a written statement containing several enumerated items including a description of the property. The stated purpose of this section of the bill is to allow the owner of shoplifted property the use of such property pending criminal prosecutions.

Specifically, you have inquired regarding ". . . whether it is constitutional to release allegedly stolen property out of police custody before the defense has an opportunity to even inspect it." You further indicated that the scope of your inquiry is based on the assumption that the evidence released is relevant to the defense.

In Brady v. Maryland, 373 U.S. 83 (1973), the Supreme Court held, based on the Due Process Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment, that a state is required upon request to provide the defendant any material evidence favorable to the defendant's position which is in the state's possession. The defendant must show that the suppressed evidence is favorable and the mere possibility that an item of undisclosed information might have helped the defense does not establish materiality in the constitutional sense. United States v. Agurs, 427 U.S. 97 (1976). Constitutional error is committed by nondisclosure only if the evidence creates a reasonable doubt which did not otherwise exist. United States v. Agurs, supra at 112; State v. Richards, 193 Neb. 345, 227 N.W.2d 18 (1975).

Based on the above cited authorities, there is a line of cases which involve alleged due process deprivations based on the state's failure to disclose, upon request, items which have been destroyed or lost. State v. Booth, 98 Wis.2d 20, 295 N.W.2d 194 (1980); State v. Helmer, 278 N. W.2d 808 (S.D. 1979); State v. Brim, 298 N.W.2d 73 (S.D. 1980); United States v. Shafer, 445 F.2d 579 (7th Cir. 1971). The standard of materiality regarding the nondisclosed item which the defendant must meet in order to establish a constitutional deprivation in this context varies depending on the jurisdiction. In State v. Booth, the court indicated that: "The rule applicable to evidence destruction cases is that a defendant need only show the disposed of evidence was clearly material to the issue of guilt or innocence." 295 N.W.2d at 197. Other cases have required a showing that the defendant was in fact prejudiced by the nondisclosure of destroyed evidence. State v. Brim, supra at 79; United States v. Shafer, supra. We are aware of no cases in this jurisdiction which articulate a standard for situations involving destruction or unavailability of evidence.

While the standard of review is less than clear, the above cases indicate that upon some level of showing of inability to prepare or present a defense due to loss or destruction of an item formerly in the state's possession, an accused may be able to establish an abridgment of his constitutional right to due process of law guaranteed by the Fourteenth Amendment. To the extent the provisions of LB 126 allow the return of stolen property to the owner, potentially without prior examination of the item by the defendant and his counsel, there may be an opportunity for due process questions to arise. Obviously, whether a due process issue arises would necessarily depend on the particular facts of each individual case. The bill provides some safeguards to the potential impact of the removal of property such as photographs and descriptive statements. United States v. Shafer, supra. Further, as the photograph procedure is discretionary under LB 126, the prosecutor would be in a position to evaluate whether unavailability and nondisclosure of the allegedly stolen property might be prejudicial to the defendant, hence potentially resulting in either an inability to obtain a conviction or reversal of a conviction. Such prosecutorial discretion may well decrease the likelihood of release of property in those factual situations where the potential for prejudice to the accused may be real.

In our opinion, it is possible to conceive of a factual situation in which application of the provisions of the bill at issue may result in an abridgment of the constitutional guarantee of due process. It is not our opinion, nor do we imply, that the bill may be judicially determined unconstitutional on its face. It is simply our opinion that hypothetically a factual situation may arise where removal of the allegedly stolen property from police custody and nondisclosure of the item to the defendant could result in a due process deprivation.

Opinion No. 194
February 12, 1982

Dear Senator Vickers:

This letter is in response to your inquiry of February 5, 1982, asking to what extent LB 571 would allow foreign investment in Nebraska oil, gas, and hydrocarbon leaseholds which is not allowed by current Nebraska law.

Our opinion is that LB 571 would allow aliens to comprise a majority of the directors of any corporation having oil, gas, and hydrocarbon leaseholds in Nebraska, which is not allowed under present Nebraska law.

In addition, LB 571 would double, at least, the amount of time that such leasehold interest could be held by a business incorporated under the laws of a foreign nation.

The statutes which are relevant in answering your question are Neb.Rev.Stat. §76-402 (Reissue 1976), §76-404 (Reissue 1976), and §76-406 (Reissue 1976). The statutes are all unambiguous so that their language should be given its plain and ordinary meaning. Little Blue Natural Resources District v. Lower Platte North Natural Resources District, 206 Neb. 535, 294 N.W.2d 598 (1980).

Insofar as it is relevant here, the current §76-402 provides that:

> Aliens and corporations not incorporated under the laws of the State of Nebraska are prohibited from acquiring title to or taking or holding any land, or real estate, or any leasehold interest extending for a period for more than five years . . . except as provided in sections 76-403 to 76-405.

Clearly then, under the general language of §76-402, referring to "any leasehold interest," aliens and foreign corporations would be prohibited from acquiring any oil, gas, or hydrocarbon leasehold interest extending for more than five years, unless a specific exception to that rule was set out in §76-404. However, while §76-404 would exempt corporations incorporated under the laws of the United States or a state from the limitation imposed by §76-402, no such exemption currently exists with reference to businesses incorporated under the laws of foreign nations.

As stated in §76-404:

> Corporations incorporated under the laws of the United States of America, or under the laws of any state of the United States of America, doing business in this state, may acquire, own, hold, or operate leases for oil, gas, or other hydrocarbon substances for a period as long as ten years and as long thereafter as oil, gas, or other hydrocarbon substances shall or can be produced in commercial quantities.

It will be noted that corporations which are incorporated under the laws of a foreign nation are not mentioned in §76-404. Consequently, by reading §§76-402 and 76-404 together, it is apparent that the five year restriction imposed by 76-402 would currently apply to corporations incorporated under the laws of a foreign nation, given the absence of any reference in §76-404 to such corporations.

The time restriction imposed on corporations of foreign nations would, however, be removed by the amendment proposed in LB 571. That amendment would allow "any" foreign corporation or any alien" to "acquire, own, hold, or operate leases for oil, gas, or other hydrocarbon substances, for a period as long as ten years and as long thereafter as oil, gas, or other hydrocarbon substances shall or can be produced in commercial quantities." Currently, under §76-402, such leasehold interests would be limited to a maximum of five years.

In addition, as stated by §76-406:

> No corporation organized under the laws of this state and no corporation organized under the laws of any other state or country, doing business in this state, which was organized to hold or is holding real estate, except as provided in section 76-404 . . . shall elect aliens as members of its board of directors or board of trustees in number sufficient to constitute a majority of such board, nor elect aliens as executive officers or managers nor have a majority of its capital stock owned by aliens.

By reading §76-406 with §76-404, it is apparent that under current Nebraska law only "corporations incorporated under the laws of the United States of America, or under the laws of any state of the United States of America" may "elect aliens as members of its board of directors or board of trustees in number sufficient to constitute a majority of such board, or elect aliens as executive officers or managers nor have a majority of its capital stock owned by aliens."

However, the amendment of LB 571 would allow any corporation (even those corporations incorporated in a foreign nation) holding oil, gas, or hydrocarbon leases to have aliens comprise a majority of the Board of Directors.

The results, then, of the amendment proposed by LB 571 would be to allow corporations of foreign nations to have Nebraska oil, gas, and hydrocarbon leasehold interests for at least ten, rather than a maximum of five, years; and aliens would be allowed to comprise a majority of the directors sitting on the boards of those corporations.

Opinion No. 195

Dear Senator Cullan:

You have asked the effect of the addition of Section 9 to LB 421 now pending on Final Reading on the calendar of the Legislature. That section provides: "The Department of Health shall adopt rules and regulations to implement all provisions of this act." We have concluded the effect of that section is minimal as discussed below.

LB 421 would make it a crime for an insurer to fail or neglect to make a report to the Department of Health about any violations of the Uniform Licensing Law of which such insurer had knowledge. It would limit access to such reports insofar as they are privileged communications but would subject them to investigatory and enforcement provisions of the Uniform Licensing Law. No general purpose is recited in the bill and no specific guidelines are given for the Department to follow in making rules and regulations to implement all provisions of the act.

The general rule is that the Legislature may not delegate legislative powers to an administrative agency. However, there is no unconstitutional delegation of legislative authority where the Legislature by statute defines a crime and provides a penalty therefor, but delegates to administrative or executive authority the implementation of the details thereof and clearly designates limitations and standards. State v. Cutright, 193 Neb. 303 (1975).

Thus, any rule made by the Department pursuant to Section 9 of LB 421 if enacted would be limited to clarifying procedures for reporting violations and for getting access to reports once they are filed with the Department. The bill could probably be implemented without such rules if it is otherwise valid.

Sincerely yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 196
February 16, 1982

Dear Senator H. Peterson:

You have asked for our opinion of subsections (1), (2) and (3) of section 1 of LB 652 of the Eighty-Seventh Legislature, Second Session (1982). The same is hereinafter set out in full:

> Section 1. The lay governing body or organization of parents of a recognized church or religious denomination or the representatives of such body or organization may file an application for a waiver of certain general school laws, and rules and regulations adopted pursuant to such laws if the church or denomination:
> (1) Does not accept any state or federal funds;
> (2) Has been established in the state for at least ten years prior to filing; and
> (3) Professes principles or tenets that are incompatible with the objectives, goals, and philosophy of education embodied in the laws of this state and the rules and regulations adopted pursuant to such laws.

If a "recognized church or religious denomination" meets the requirements of section 1 above and files an application for waiver with the State Board of Education, such board shall, if requested in the application:

> (1) Waive the provisions of Neb.Rev.Stat. §79-1233 (Reissue 1976) requiring a certificate of permit for persons employed as teachers;
> (2) Waive the regulations relating to the instructional program, materials, and equipment requirements for approval status; and
> (3) Waive the school from making reports except those necessary to fulfill the provisions of law from which the school has not been exempted.

It is, of course, well settled law that a statute is open to construction only where the language used therein requires interpretation or may be reasonably considered ambiguous. State ex rel. Halloran v. Hawes, 203 Neb. 405, 279 N.W.2d 96 (1979). Moreover, the fact, alone, that a legislative act is open to the criticism that it is uncertain or indefinite in some of its provisions does not ipso facto render it unconstitutional. If, however, the uncertain or indefinite portion of a statute is essential to, or connected with, the statute as a whole, it may, of course, render the entire statute invalid.

Upon applying the above-stated legal principles to section 1 of LB 652, we find that we are unable to discern the meaning to be subscribed to the words "recognized church or religious denomination" as the same are used therein. Simply stated, "recognized" by whom? Moreover, it is essential to determine the meaning of the words "recognized church or religious denomination" in section 1 of LB 652 in order to determine if the entity which files an application for waiver of certain general school laws is entitled to such a waiver. It is therefore our opinion that section 1 of LB 652 is ambiguous.

Even if it were assumed that the words "recognized church or religious denomination" in section 1 of LB 652 are not ambiguous, an assumption we are unable to make, we note that in order to qualify for a waiver of certain general school laws and the rules and regulations adopted pursuant thereto, a "recognized church or religious denomination" must, pursuant to subsection (2) of section 1 of LB 652, have been established in the State of Nebraska for at least ten years prior to filing the application for a waiver. Thus, it would appear that this subsection grants a preference to a "recognized church or religious denomination" that has been established in the state for at least ten years over those which have not been established in the state for that length of time. Thus, arguably, subsection (2) of section 1 of LB 652 is in violation of the establishment clause of the First Amendment of the Constitution of the United States. See, e.g., Buckley v. Valeo, 424 U.S. 1 (1976) and Torcaso v. Watkins, 367 U.S. 488 (1961).

We also note that in order to qualify for a waiver of certain general school laws a "recognized church or religious denomination" must, pursuant to subsection (3) of section 1 of LB 652, profess "principles of tenets that are incompatible with the objectives, goals, and philosophy of education embodied in the laws of this state and the rules and regulations adopted pursuant to such laws." In connection therewith we note that this subsection would render inoperative certain statutes, rules and regulations which pertain to compulsory education, teacher certification and approval of the secular curriculum of the school. We also note that the Nebraska Supreme Court recently ruled that these same statutes, rules and regulations are not in violation of the Constitution of Nebraska or the Constitution of the United States. See, State ex rel. Douglas v. Faith Baptist Church, 207 Neb. 802, 301 N.W.2d 571 (1981).

The ratio decidendi of State ex rel. Douglas v. Faith Baptist Church, supra, was recently before the West Virginia Supreme Court. In State v. Riddle, No. 14910, December 11, 1981, the Riddles relied upon Wisconsin v. Yoder, 406 U.S. 205 (1972) as authority for their position that the free exercise clause of the First Amendment entitled them to completely disregard the West Virginia Compulsory School Attendance Law with impunity. The West Virginia Supreme Court disagreed. It stated:

> While the appellants in the case before us are sincere, dedicated, and competent parents, the principle which they are urging, namely the legitimacy of ad hoc non-compliance with our school attendance laws, leads ineluctably to a hideous result. If we were to accept their reasoning, our holding would imply that parents have the right to keep their children in medieval ignorance, quarter them in Dickensian squalor beyond the reach of the ameliorating influence of the social welfare agencies, and so to separate their children from organized society in an environment of indoctrination and deprivation that the children become mindless automatons incapable of coping with life outside of their own families. We hold that the first and fourteenth amendments to the Constitution of the United States do not contemplate such a result. (Emphasis supplied).

Schools which are currently allowed to operate in the State of Nebraska pursuant to certain general school laws not only teach, but are also responsible for ministering to the health needs of children by providing a reservoir of professional expertise capable of ferreting out health-related problems, including physical and mental handicaps. Furthermore, a child's regular attendance at such schools guarantees a certain minimal protection from outrageous parental abuse or neglect. Those functions would be severely limited, if not destroyed, if LB 652 were to become operative law.

Opinion No. 197

Dear Senator Koch:

You have requested a legal opinion with respect to LB 578 which you have introduced in the current Legislative session. LB 578 would allow Nebraska residents over 60 years old to enroll in classes at state supported post-secondary institutions without paying tuition under certain conditions.

The question which you have posed is, "Does the use of the age sixty establish a classification or privilege which could not meet a constitutional test based on equal opportunity and treatment?"

We do not see any legal or constitutional barriers based on age to your legislation. The Nebraska Act Prohibiting Unjust Discrimination in Employment Because of Act, Neb.Rev.Stat. §48-1001 to §48-1009 (Reissue 1978, Cum. Supp. 1980), is not applicable. That statute forbids discrimination in employment based on age; the protected class is composed of individuals between the ages of 40 and 70.

Furthermore, LB 578 would not violate constitutional equal protection requirements. "The standard by which a court reviews a classification established by [economic or social welfare] legislation is whether it has a rational basis and is at least arguably related to a legitimate function of government not prohibited by the Constitution." Grosvenor v. Grosvenor, 206 Neb. 395, 293 N.W.2d 96 (1980). Because age is not a suspect classification for constitutional purposes, LB 578 would fall within the standard set out in Grosvenor.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 198

February 18, 1982

Dear Senator Cullan:

You have asked whether section 5 of amendments to LB 378 is an improper delegation of legislative authority. We have concluded it is not as discussed below.

That section would require the Department of Health to vary the base amount of a capital expenditure which is subject to certificate of need review by reference to the Department of Commerce Composite Construction Cost Index. (The annual composite index represents the ratio between the annual value of new construction put in place in current dollars and the comparable annual total in 1972 dollars.)

This is not a case of incorporating by reference an existing law or regulation which the Legislature can do. State v. Workman, 186 Neb. 467 (1971), and Anderson v. Tiemann, 182 Neb. 393 (1967). It is not a case of incorporating by reference a model code which the Legislature cannot do because a court cannot take judicial notice of it. Lincoln Dairy Company v. Finigan, 170 Neb. 777 (1960). It is not a case where the department may decide itself whether to apply the index, thus leaving uncertain what the law is as was the case in Lincoln Dairy Company, above.

This is a case where the Legislature is making a law to become operative on the ascertainment of a fact upon which the law intends to make its action depend. It can delegate to an administrative agency the power to ascertain such a fact. Lennox v. Housing Authority of the City of Omaha, 137 Neb. 582 (1940).

The index is published periodically by the Department of Commerce in "Survey of Current Business." Thus a court can take judicial notice of it because it is capable of accurate and ready determination by resort to sources whose accuracy cannot reasonably be questioned. See, Neb.Rev.Stat. §27-201(2) (b) (Reissue 1979), and Grubaugh v. State ex rel. State Real Estate Commission, 202 Neb. 75 (1979).

Sincerely yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 199
February 18, 1982

Dear Senator DeCamp:

You have referred to us LB 717. LB 717 proposes to increase the law enforcement fund fee taxed as costs in each criminal proceeding from one dollar to three dollars. You ask whether or not such a proposal is unconstitutional.

Similar questions have arisen in the past. We enclose a copy of Opinion No. 21, Opinions of the Attorney General from 1981, which addresses in part the questions which you raise in your current opinion request. We stand by the conclusions reached in that opinion. As an additional matter, we might add that we cannot clearly say that an increase in the fee for the purpose set forth from one to three dollars is clearly unconstitutional. It is our opinion that such an increase at this time can be defended.

While there is obviously some limit upon the amount and size of charges assessed in the manner provided for under Neb.Rev.Stat. §81-1429 as amended, we do not believe that line has been crossed at the current time nor does the proposed amendment cross that line.

Sincerely,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

LEGISLATIVE BILL 408. Placed on General File as amended. Standing Committee amendments to LB 408:
Req. #2695

1. Strike the original sections and insert the following:

"Section 1. That section 39-6,181, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1981, be amended to read as follows:

39-6,181. (1) The Department of Roads or the Nebraska State Patrol with respect to highways under their jurisdiction including the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways, and county authorities with respect to highways under their jurisdiction may in their discretion upon application and good cause being shown therefor, issue a special permit in writing authorizing the applicant (a) to operate or move a vehicle, a combination of vehicles or objects of a size or weight of vehicle or load exceeding the maximum specified by law when such permit is necessary to further the national defense or the general welfare, (b) to permit movement of cost-saving equipment to be used in highway or other public construction or in agricultural land treatment, or is necessary because of an emergency, an unusual circumstance, or a very special situation, (c) to operate vehicles loaded up to twenty-five per cent greater than the maximum gross weight specified by law, or up to ten per cent greater than the maximum length specified by law, or both, when carrying grain or other seasonally harvested products from the field where they are harvested to storage, market, or stockpile in the field, or from storage or stockpile to market or factory when failure to move in abundant quantities would cause an economic loss to the person or persons whose product or products are being transported or when failure to move such product or products in as large quantities as possible would not be in the best interests of the national defense or general welfare, or (d) to operate a vehicle or vehicles loaded at a weight twenty-five per cent greater than the maximum weight specified by law, when carrying garbage or refuse during and including the days of April 15 to July 1 of each year; Provided, no permit shall be issued under subdivisions (a) and (b) of this subsection for a vehicle carrying a load unless such vehicle is loaded with an object which exceeds the size or weight limitations and which object cannot be dismantled or reduced in size or weight without great difficulty and which of necessity must be moved over the highways to reach its intended destination; and provided further, no permit shall be required for the temporary movement on roads other than dustless-surfaced state highways and for necessary access to points on such highways during daylight hours of cost-saving equipment to be used in highway or other public construction or in agricultural land treatment where such temporary movement is necessary and for a reasonable distance.

The Department of Roads at its discretion may establish testing programs under a special permit procedure to utilize highways under its jurisdiction to operate or move a vehicle or a combination of vehicles or objects that exceeds the maximum specified by law when it is determined by the department that such testing could provide results that might inure to the benefit of the people of Nebraska. If such testing is authorized, the department shall establish such procedures governing the granting of such a permit, the specifics determining the test, and any other criteria deemed essential by the department to assure that all safety considerations have been duly considered and that adequate conditions have been established to assure that permit operations would not accelerate any wear or tear on designated highways. The department shall assess fees that will recover all costs of administering and conducting any tests authorized during the time that testing is permissible. Because of the impossibility of foreseeing all possible changes in conditions that will occur, it is the intent of the Legislature that the Department of Roads have the widest possible latitude in establishing programs consistent with the stated objectives of this paragraph.

(2) The application for any such permit shall specifically describe the vehicle and the load to be operated or moved and whenever possible the particular highways, roads, or streets for which permit to operate is requested, and whether such permit is requested for a single trip or for continuous operation.

(3) The department or county authority is authorized to issue or withhold such permit at its discretion; or, if such permit is issued, to limit the number of days during which the permit is valid, to limit the number of trips, or to establish seasonal or other time limitations within which the vehicles described may be operated on the highways indicated, or to issue a continuing permit for use only on highways other than the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways to (a) a manufacturer or its carrier covering all similar vehicles or products produced by such manufacturer, or (b) the owner of vehicles described in subdivision (1) (c) of this section, subject to reasonable conditions as to periodic renewal of such permit and as to operation or movement of such vehicles, or otherwise to limit or prescribe conditions of operation of such vehicle or vehicles, when necessary to assure against undue damage to the road foundations, surfaces, or structures or undue danger to the public safety, and may require such undertaking or other security as may be deemed necessary to compensate for any injury to any roadway or road structure.

(4) Every such permit shall be carried in the vehicle to which it refers and shall be open to inspection by any police officer or authorized agent of any authority granting such permit. Each such permit shall state the maximum weight permissible on a single axle or combination of axles and the total gross weight allowed. No person shall violate any of the terms or conditions of such special permit and in case of any violation, the permit shall be deemed automatically revoked and the penalty of the original limitations shall be applied unless the violation consists solely of exceeding the size or weight specified by the permit, in which case only the penalty of the original size or weight limitation exceeded shall be applied, or unless the total gross load is within the maximum authorized by the permit and no axle is more than ten per cent in excess of the maximum load for such axle or group of axles authorized by the permit and such load can be shifted to meet the weight limitations of wheel and axle loads authorized by such permit. Such shift may be made without penalty provided that such shift is made at the state or commercial scale designated in the permit. The vehicle may travel from its point of origin to such designated scale without penalty, and a scale ticket from such scale, showing the vehicle to be properly loaded and within the gross and axle weights authorized by the permit, shall be reasonable evidence of compliance with the terms of the permit.

(5) The department or county authority issuing a permit as provided in this section may promulgate rules and regulations with respect to the issuance of permits provided for in this section.

(6) The department or county authority issuing a permit may require a permit fee of not to exceed ten dollars; Provided, that the fee for a continuing permit may not exceed twenty-five dollars for a ninety-day period, fifty dollars for a one hundred eighty-day period, or one hundred dollars for a one-year period. A vehicle or combination of vehicles for which an application for a permit is requested pursuant to this section shall be registered under section 60-305.09 or 60-331, for the maximum gross vehicle weight that is permitted pursuant to section 39-6,180, before a permit shall be issued.

Sec. 2. That original section 39-6,181, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1981, is repealed.".

2. In the title, line 3, strike "1980" and insert "1981".

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 200
February 19, 1982

Dear Senator Cullan:

This letter is supplementary to our letter of February 11, 1982, concerning a proposed amendment to LB 684 which imposes a residency requirement of one year as a condition of eligibility for receipt of AFDC benefits for the unborn. As we indicated to you in our letter of February 11, 1982, such a residency requirement would be declared unconstitutional. We still maintain this position, under the Shapiro analysis. Although unconstitutional for the above reason, the amendment would not be defective as violative of the supremacy clause. This is due to a recent amendment to the Social Security Act which specifically provides the states with an optional plan for aid to unborn children. See, Title XIII, Public Assistance Programs, Subtitle A, Chapter 1, §2312(a) (amending §406(b) of the Social Security Act) 1981. We construe this to be a clear congressional authorization for a state to exclude unborn children from AFDC entitlements. Consequently, a state's legislative attempt to exclude unborn children from this program would no longer clash with federal law. Again, the proposed amendment to LB 684 would be constitutionally defective under the United States Supreme Court decision in Shapiro v. Thompson, 394 U.S. 618 (1969).

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 201
February 19, 1982

Dear Senator Cullan:

You have asked if LB 863 as amended by the Public Health and Welfare Committee unlawfully delegates to the Department of Health the authority to set fees for certain laboratory tests and goods. We have concluded that it probably does not as discussed below.

Where, as here, the primary purpose of a fee is to raise revenue, it is a tax. See, Neb.Rev.Stat. §71-2618 (Reissue 1976) and Scott v. Donnelly, 133 N.W.2d 418 (N.D. 1965). The power to tax is a legislative function. See, Nebraska Constitution, Art. VIII, §1. Several states having similar constitutional provisions have found that the power to tax cannot be delegated to administrative agencies. See, Conner v. Joe Hatton, Inc., 203 So. 2d 154 (Fla. 1967); Scott, above, and Betts v. Lightning Delivery Co., 42 Ariz. 105, 22 P.2d 827 (1933).

The same is true in Nebraska where the Legislature may not delegate its power to make a law. However, this does not mean that the Legislature must lay down in a legislative act a strict rule which must be followed by an administrative officer or board. Such persons or boards may be vested by the Legislature within reasonable limits with the exercise of judgment in carrying out the express legislative purpose of an act. Lennox v. Housing Authority of City of Omaha, 137 Neb. 582, 590 (1940). Thus the question here is whether the Legislature has set down sufficient guidelines for the Department of Health in setting the fees referred to in LB 863.

According to those amendments the cost of laboratory examinations or of specimen containers, shipping outfits and related supplies is the only guideline for the Department of Health in setting such fees with two exceptions. Fees for each unit of the goods listed may not exceed $5.00 and the fee for testing water samples other than domestic water samples may not be more than one and one-half times the fee for testing domestic water samples.

We have concluded that the guideline of cost is probably sufficient to avoid delegation problems in this case. As stated in Betts, above, at 830:

> A law appointing an agent to collect a license tax should fix the amount thereof at a definite sum, or adopt a rule from which such agent and taxpayer can, upon the ascertainment of the facts in any particular case, definitely and uniformly calculate the tax.

The fact that the Department of Health must determine what that cost is before it sets the fee is not itself an improper delegation of legislative authority. See, Lennox v. Housing Authority of the City of Omaha, 137 Neb. 582 (1940). However, we could say with greater assurance that there was no delegation problem if the Legislature were to set the maximum fee that could be set in each category of laboratory examinations. This would also serve to place a lid on the costs that could be incurred in making the tests.

Sincerely yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

MOTION - Proposed Rule Change

Mr. Vickers moved to amend Rule 5, Section 6 to read as follows: Sec. 6. Scheduling of Bills, Priority Bills. (a) Each senator may designate one bill as a priority bill. Such priority bill need not be the designator's bill, but the principal introducer must concur with the designation as a priority bill and with the withdrawal of the designation once made.

(b) Each standing committee chairperson may designate two of the committee's bills as priority bills.

(c) The Speaker may designate up to 10 ~~any additional number of~~ priority bills.

(d) Priority bill designations may be made at any time prior to the annual designation deadline which shall be set each year by the Speaker. The designation deadline shall be prior to the 45th legislative day in the ninety day session and prior to the 30th legislative day in the sixty day session.

(e) A senator or committee may withdraw a priority designation at any time, but will not be allowed to designate another bill as a priority bill in its place. The Speaker may withdraw a priority designation made by the Speaker.

(f) All committees shall schedule priority bills for public hearing ahead of all unscheduled, nonpriority bills unless the person or committee making the priority designation shall otherwise agree.

(g) All bills not designated as priority bills shall be heard on general file in the order in which they are reported to the floor by the committees, unless the introducer of the bill and the Speaker agree to delay the hearing of a particular bill. This provisions shall not be construed to prevent the Speaker from placing bills reported out of committee with two or less dissenting votes on a Consent Calendar. Any bill placed on Consent Calendar shall be removed at the written request of three or more senators.

(h) Priority bills shall generally be considered ahead of all other bills at each stage of debate, except that priority bills requiring the expenditure of appropriated funds may be held on final reading until such time as the annual appropriations bills have been passed. The Speaker shall structure the agenda of the Legislature so that all priority bills are given an opportunity to be voted upon for final passage prior to the end of the annual session.

(i) No priority bill designated under this rule shall have priority over appropriations bills.

Referred to the Rules Committee.

At the option of the terminating officer, such pension benefit may be paid as of the first of the month after such member attains the age of fifty-five. Such election may be made by the officer anytime prior to the payment of the pension benefits. The retirement value shall consist of the accumulated value at the time of payment of the employee account together with a vested percentage of the employer account.

Nothing in sections 45-334 to 45-353 shall prohibit a seller or holder of an installment contract from contracting for, computing, and charging a time price differential based upon the application of the rate charged to the unpaid principal balance for the number of days actually elapsed, and the charges so computed shall be used for the purpose of calculating the time price differential, the time price balance, the amount of each installment, and the time sale price. When the installment contract is payable in substantially equal and consecutive monthly installments, the time price differential shall be computed on the basic time price of each contract, as determined under the provisions of section 45-336, from the date of the contract until the due date of the final installment, notwithstanding that the time price balance is required to be paid in installments.

NOTICE OF COMMITTEE HEARING

Rule Change proposed by Senator Vickers
Tuesday, March 16, 1982 12:00 noon

(Signed) Don Wesely, Chairperson

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 202

Dear Senator DeCamp:

You have called our attention to LB 898, and have asked whether we would defend it in the courts, if you can get it enacted. We are not in a position to give you a categorical answer, because it would be necessary to evaluate a great deal of evidence about the validity of the underlying rationale of the bill before we could reach a firm decision.

LB 898 would amend Neb.Rev.Stat. §§77-3606 to 77-3608 and 77-3610 (Supp. 1981), and repeal Neb.Rev.Stat. §§77-3611 to 77-3615 (Supp. 1981). The amendments would extend for another fiscal year the method of distribution of $70,000,000 in state aid to political subdivisions. This method is currently scheduled to terminate at the end of this fiscal year.

The provisions to be amended were a part of LB 284, passed in 1981. They base the distributions to the counties, for later distribution to the political subdivisions within each county, upon the assessed valuation in each county of agricultural real estate, commercial-industrial real estate, and suburban-residential real estate. One million dollars is to be distributed each year and proportioned to suburban-residential real estate, $37,977,600 in proportion to agricultural real estate, and $31,022,400 in proportion to commerical-industrial real estate.

We discussed these provisions in Opinion No. 62 to Senator Carsten dated March 31, 1981. We said in that opinion that we would be willing to attempt to defend those provisions, which were scheduled to expire at the end of this fiscal year. We did so because the distribution was designed to be a replacement of taxes lost because of the exemption of certain classes of personal property, that there arguably could be a rough correlation between the amount of agricultural real estate in a county and the agriculturally-related exemptions claimed in that county, and the same correlation between commercial-industrial real estate and business inventories.

The amounts to be distributed on the basis of agricultural real estate and of commercial-industrial real estate were determined by using the three-year average from 1975 to 1977 of agricultural exemptions and business inventory exemptions. In order to justify using this three-year average, it is necessary to assume that the percentages established by that average continue at about the same levels. This, of course, runs into the "frozen classification" problem which was the basis of the court's invalidating LB 882 in State ex rel. Douglas v. Marsh, 207 Neb. 598 (1980). The more remote the basis for the classification, the more suspect it is. The bill would attempt to distribute the money on the basis of a period which ended five years before the distribution. The court might well hold this too remote.

Further, of course, we said in our opinion to Senator Carsten that LB 284 presented numerous difficult questions, and that we could not predict with any assurance what the court would say when confronted with them. A county attacking the bill might, for example, undermine the entire rationale of the distribution by proving that there was not, in fact, any particular correlation between assessed valuations of the various kinds of real estate involved in a county and the amount of personal property exemptions claimed in that county for the years 1975-77.

In short, the qualms we had about LB 284 have not lessened, and LB 898 adds to them by increasing the danger of a "frozen classification" ruling. Unless a factual investigation showed we had no reasonable hope of successfully defending the bill, we would probably attempt to do so, but we would be apprehensive about the result, particularly in view of the chaos which would result from a failure.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

Opinion No. 203
February 18, 1982

Dear Senator Cullan:

You have requested the opinion of this office regarding whether the provisions of LB 525 violate the Fifth Amendment of the United States Constitution. Said bill provides as follows:

> Whenever a witness refuses on the basis of his or her privilege against self-incrimination, to testify or to provide other information in a criminal proceeding before a court or grand jury, the court, on motion of the prosecutor, may order the witness to testify or to provide other information. The witness may not refuse to comply with such an order of the court on the basis of his or her privilege against self-incrimination, but no testimony or other information compelled under the court's order, or any information directly or indirectly derived from such testimony or other information, may be used against the witness in any criminal case, except in a prosecution for perjury, giving a false statement, or failing to comply with the order of the court.

It is well established that in order for a grant of immunity to be adequate, the scope of the immunity must be coextensive with the scope of the Fifth Amendment privilege against self-incrimination. Thus, legislation cannot replace this constitutional privilege unless it is broad enough to have the same scope and effect. Murphy v. Water Front Commission of New York, 378 U. S. 52 (1964).

The provisions of LB 525 grant a witness who is compelled to testify immunity from the use in any criminal case of the compelled testimony or any evidence derived therefrom. These provisions are quite similar to the federal witness immunity statute, 18 U.S.C. §6002, which was challenged in Kastigar v. United States, 406 U.S. 441 (1972), as abridging the Fifth Amendment privilege against compulsory self-incrimination. The court in Kastigar, supra, specifically rejected the argument that a grant of use and derivative use immunity was inadequate as the constitution mandated a grant of transactional immunity, that is immunity from criminal prosecution for or on account of any transaction or matter concerning which a witness testifies. Rather, the Supreme Court held that a statutory grant of immunity is constitutionally adequate where a witness, in return for being compelled to testify, is granted immunity from the use in any criminal case of the compelled testimony or any evidence derived therefrom. Thus, the court in Kastigar, supra, upheld the constitutionality of 18 U.S.C. §6002 upon concluding that the immunity granted by that statute is coextensive with the Fifth Amendment privilege and suffices to replace it.

As heretofore stated, the immunity granted under LB 525 is virtually identical to that permitted under 18 U.S.C. §6002. In our opinion, based on the analysis of the court in Kastigar, supra, a court would probably hold that LB 525 is constitutionally sound as the immunity granted thereunder is coextensive with the Fifth Amendment privilege against compulsory self-incrimination.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Re: Constitutionality of Neb.Rev.Stat. §2-1504

Dear Senator Wagner:

We are responding to your letter of January 18, 1982, in which you request our opinion regarding the constitutionality of Neb.Rev.Stat. §2-1504(2) (Supp. 1980), concerning membership on the Nebraska Natural Resources Commission. You have introduced legislation to correct what you perceive may be a constitutional defect in this statutory section.

You seemed to specifically question the manner by which the statute designates who may be appointed as a member of the Nebraska Natural Resources Commission.

Neb.Rev.Stat. §2-1504 (Supp. 1980) creates the Nebraska Natural Resources Commission. Subsection (2) provides in pertinent part, "the Nebraska Natural Resources Commission shall consist of the following members: (a) One natural resources district director or former district director from each of the following river basins. . . ." It goes on to provide for additional members each of whom shall be "a director or former director of a natural resources district" except three selected by the Governor representing specific interest groups. The members of the commission representing river basins are to be selected "at individual caucuses of the natural resources district directors residing in the river basin from which the member is selected." It is therefore evident that membership on the commission is limited to directors or former directors of natural resources districts, with the exception of three members appointed by the Governor.

The Nebraska Constitution, Article IV, Section 10, relates to the appointment of persons in public offices:

> The Governor shall appoint with the approval of a majority of the Legislature, all persons whose offices are established by the Constitution, or which may be created by law, and whose > appointment or election is not otherwise by law or herein provided for; and no such person shall be appointed or elected by the Legislature.

The Legislature has an unlimited field within which to legislate, subject only to this constitutional inhibition, the initiative and referendum, and provided that the legislation is for public purpose. Power Oil Co. v. Cochran, 138 Neb. 827, 295 N.W. 805 (1941).

The Legislature may establish criteria for membership on a legislatively established commission as long as those criteria do not contravene Article IV, Section 10 of the Constitution. Our Supreme Court in Neeman v. Nebraska Natural Resources Commission, 191 Neb. 672, 676, 217 N.W.2d 166 (1974), held that the Legislature could determine that a state officer may be a member of a legislatively established commission since membership on the commission would be interpreted as an additional duty of the officer. However, any designation of a specific officer or individual to be a member of a commission would be a legislative appointment in violation of Article IV, Section 10. The Legislature may designate a class of individuals eligible to serve on a commission and the method by which such persons shall be selected. In so doing, however, it may not so limit the class as to actually appoint a specific individual or individuals. In Wittler v. Baumgartner, 180 Neb. 446, 144 N.W.2d 62 (1966), our court held that a statute providing that the board of directors for a public electric corporation would be selected from members residing in nine regions, violated Article IV, Section 10 of the Nebraska Constitution when five of those regions contained only one person qualified to receive appointment by the Governor to this board. The court said:

> The provisions of the Act which limit the appointment. . . by the Governor to a certain unnamed individual or to a . . . limited few, is an encroachment by the Legislature upon the powers of the Governor and is void as violative of Article IV, Section 10, of the Constitution of Nebraska.

Wittler v. Baumgartner, 180 Neb. at 460.

In reviewing Neb.Rev.Stat. §2-1504(2) we observe no limitation so limiting as to be an encroachment by the Legislature upon the powers of the Governor, or be void as violative of Article IV, Section 10 of the Nebraska Constitution.

You also seemed to question whether the manner of designating members of the commission violates the United States Constitution as being so irrational as to deprive persons of equal protection of the law. The United States Supreme Court in Minnesota v. Clover Leaf Creamery Co., ___ U.S. ___, 101 S.Ct. 715 (1981), reaffirmed that its evaluation of a challenge to a State Statute upon grounds of violation of the Equal Protection Clause of the Constitution will be satisfied if it was reasonable for the lawmakers to believe that the challenged legislation would promote a legitimate state purpose. It is not irrational for the Nebraska Unicameral to believe that the knowledge and experience acquired while a member of the board of directors of a natural resources district would best qualify an individual for service upon the Nebraska Natural Resources Commission. Therefore, it is our conclusion that the language of the present Nebraska statute does not violate the Equal Protection Clause of the United States Constitution.

Very truly yours,

Re: LB 335

Dear Senator DeCamp:

This is in response to your inquiry concerning LB 335 presently before the Nebraska Legislature.

You first inquire "as to the constitutionality of the entire concept of making 1 1/2 million Nebraskans criminal because they suspect somebody may or may not be abusing an adult or neglecting an adult or a child and fail to immediately run to the police and report their suspicions."

Section 2 of said bill requires any person who "has reasonable cause to suspect that a person 18 years of age or older has been the subject of abuse, he or she shall report such incident or cause a report to be made to the proper law enforcement agency. . . ."

Thus, the reporting requirement applies only to those who have "reasonable cause to suspect" abuse.

Section 10 of the bill makes it a Class V misdemeanor only for those required to report, as discussed above, who willfully fail to report.

The extent of the knowledge required to make an act or omission criminal is more a matter of policy to be determined by the Legislature than one of constitutionality.

In 21 Am.Jur.2d, Criminal Law, §137, pp. 270-271, is the following:

> Though the common-law concept of crime as constituted only from the concurrence of an evil-meaning mind with an evil-doing hand took deep and early root in this country, a completely different category of crimes has arisen under modern statutes, especially in the area of public welfare offenses. These are crimes which depend on no mental element, but consist only of forbidden acts or omissions. Where the legislature creates such an offense, criminal intent in any of its forms is not an element of the crime and need not be proved to justify a conviction, although some courts reconcile this with the older law of crimes by saying that where a statute denounces the doing of an act as criminal, the law imputes criminal intent from the doing of the act. The moral turpitude or purity of motive which prompted the act, and knowledge or ignorance of its criminal character, are immaterial on the question of guilt, and the only question is whether the prohibited act was done or the required act omitted. In other words, it is immaterial that the defendant acted in good faith or did not know that he was violating the law, . . .

This concept was set forth with approval by the Supreme Court of Nebraska in Markham v. Brainard, 178 Neb. 544, 546, 134 N.W.2d 84 (1965) where the court stated: "Although the Legislature may enact criminal statutes which do not include criminal intent or guilty knowledge as an element of the crime, a penal law which makes criminal an act which the utmost care and circumspection would not enable one to avoid is invalid." See also, State v. Vicars, 186 Neb. 311, 313, 183 N.W.2d 241 (1971).

We find no such problem, nor any constitutional problem in this regard, in LB 335.

You next inquire "Additionally, I would like you to address the specific question of whether under this legislation if the clergy are included as having to report, a priest receiving information which gave him reason to suspect an individual might be abusing a child or an adult, must, under criminal law report said information provided to him in confessional directly to the agencies or authorities outlined in the bill."

The answer to this question will depend entirely upon how the Legislature words any requirement that the clergy must make a report.

81 Am.Jur.2d, Witnesses, §284, pp. 299-300, states in part:

> Although the authorities are somewhat uncertain as to whether a privilege for confessions to priests was recognized in common-law courts during the period of the Restoration, the > almost universal expression of judicial opinion is that, following that period, the common law did not recognize a privilege with regard to communications to clergymen or other church or ecclesiastical officers. That rule still obtains except insofar as it has been changed by statute. . . . The tendency of the courts is toward a strict construction of such statutes and, generally speaking, only those communications are privileged which are made under the exact conditions enumerated in the statutes.

The Supreme Court of Nebraska has also adopted a strict construction. In Hills v. State, 61 Neb. 589 (1901) in construing a statute which provided that no minister or priest shall be allowed "in giving testimony, to disclose any confidential communication, property intrusted to him in his professional capacity, . . ." In that case, a minister was called to the county jail by a defendant who was being prosecuted for bigamy. The defendant asked the minister to communicate with the defendant's first wife, apparently in an effort to keep her from acting as a complaining witness.

As to this communication, the Supreme Court of Nebraska stated:

> To render a communication to a minister of the gospel or priest privileged it must have been received in confidence. By this we do not mean that it must be made under the express promise of secrecy, but rather that the communication was in confidence, and with the understanding, express or implied, that it should not be revealed to any one. The mere fact that a communication is made to a person who is a lawyer, a doctor or a priest, does not of itself make such communication privileged.

(Id. at 594-595).

To reiterate, the answer to your second question depends entirely upon the way the matter is handled by the Legislature.

You next inquire if the attorney/client privilege is suspended whether an attorney would be required to report abuse discovered in the attorney/client relationship.

The law as to privileged communications between attorneys and clients is much broader than that of the clergy discussed above. As stated in 81 Am.Jur.2d, Witnesses, §172, pp. 208-209:

> It is a long-established rule of common law that an attorney or counselor at law is not permitted, and cannot be compelled, to testify as to communications made to him in his professional character by his client, unless the client consents. This privilege exists independently of, but in many states is declared by, statute.
> The rule of privilege against the disclosure of confidential communications made by a client to his attorney is based upon grounds of public policy. When one seeks the professional > advice and assistance of an attorney at law with the view of securing and enforcing his rights, or of defending himself against civil claims or criminal charges, it is necessary that he be able to make a full disclosure of all facts and circumstances that go to substantiate his claim or defense, and the law, by throwing this cloak of protection around communications between attorney and client, encourages the client to make full disclosure of the facts.

As you will note from the foregoing, the client may consent to disclosure; should the client consent the attorney would be required to report the abuse if his suspicion were reasonably based unless the Legislature exempts him.

As in the case of the clergy privilege, the privilege receives a strict construction from the courts.

It is our opinion that any statutory attempts to cut down upon the common law privilege of the attorney/client relationship, at least as to communications concerning the interest of the client, would be held unconstitutional by the Nebraska Supreme Court as an invasion of the the Doctrine of Separation of Powers. In State ex rel. Hunter v. Kirk, 133 Neb. §625, 276 N.W. 380 (1937), previous case is on the regulation of the legal profession was summarized as follows:

> It was further said: [quoting from In re Integration of Nebraska State Bar Ass'n, 133 Neb. 283] "The practice of law is so intimately connected and bound up with the exercise of judical power in the administration of justice that the right to define and regulate its practice naturally and logically belongs to the judicial department of our state government."
> This court has exclusive power to define the practice of law. In the body of the opinion in In re Integration of Nebraska State Bar Ass'n, supra, it was further said: "The term 'inherent power of the judiciary' means that which is essential to the existence, dignity and functions of the court from the very fact that it is a court." (Emphasis added.)
> "The proper administration of justice is the main business of a court, and whatever obstructs or embarrasses its chief function must naturally be under its control." In re Integration of Nebraska State Bar Ass'n, supra.
> It will thus be seen from the foregoing holdings that this court has the inherent power to define and regulate the practice of law and is vested with exclusive power to determine the qualifications of persons who may be permitted to practice law.

Id. at 625-626.

We are of the opinion that any curtailment of the common law attorney/client privilege, as outlined above, would be difficult to defend as to constitutionality.

STATEHOOD DAY CEREMONY

Governor Charles Thone, Chief Justice Norman Krivosha, Lieutenant Governor Roland Luedtke, and Secretary of State Allen J. Beermann addressed the Legislature.

Awards were presented to the following people: Nellie Snyder Yost, Pioneer Award; James Denney, Pioneer Award; Doris Royal, Nebraskaland Trailblazer; Lawrence Youngman, Nebraskaland Trailblazer; Merlyn E. Carlson, Nebraskaland Wagonmaster; and Barry Kennedy, Nebraskaland Wagonmaster.

NELLIE SNYDER YOST
PIONEER AWARD

Few others ever from the state of Nebraska could better present the spirit of Nebraska's heritage on paper than our two Pioneer Award recipients.

A woman whose writing career began at the age of 46, Nellie Snyder Yost has for 30 years retold the stories of hardship and humor, and the lifestyle and heartbreaks of the plans. Her vivid accounts of our pioneer heritage have earned her national recognition, as well as appearances on national television.

She took readers down the nostalgic path of the Nebraska cattle industry in "The West that was; The Call of the Range" and she recorded for all the experiences of her pioneer mother in "No Time on My Hands." She takes everyone back in time to a personal encounter in the history of Holt County entitled "Before Today."

Perhaps her best known work, "Buffalo Bill: His Family, Friends, Fame, Failures and Fortunes" earned her the coveted Wrangler Award from the Oklahoma City Cowboy Hall of Fame.

In recognition of the place she has taken among Nebraska's famous authors recounting the tales of our heritage, the NEBRASKAland Foundation presents Nellie Snyder Yost of North Platte with its PIONEER AWARD.

JAMES DENNEY
PIONEER AWARD

This man has probably logged more miles, visited more places and seen more sights in Nebraska than perhaps any other Nebraskan. For the past 23 years Jim Denney, as writer, photographer and editor of the Omaha World-Herald's Magazine of the Midlands, Jim has informed readers about nearly every aspect of Nebraska life.

He has captured the beauty of our state in words and photos from the buttes around Fort Robinson to the leisurely fishing along the Missouri River.

Readers throughout America have been exposed to his work. Many of his photos have appeared in Life, Time, People and Sports Illustrated magazines. Jim has received numerous awards including the Freedom Foundation's George Washington Medal for his thoughtful photo of Boy Scouts heading to church.

He has informed us and told us about the good life, and he has helped us Discover Nebraska. He is enthusiastic about our state's beauty and its history.

In recognition of his many years of portraying the spirit and activity of Nebraska, the NEBRASKAland Foundation presents its PIONEER AWARD to Jim Denney of Omaha.

DORIS ROYAL
NEBRASKALAND TRAILBLAZER

This four-time grandmother doesn't fit the mold of a rocker and a knitter. Doris Royal has spent countless hours with her husband Lloyd working the family farm near Springfield. She has always broken the mold and set new trails in the stereotype of a farm wife.

It is because of her personal crusade to change state and national estate tax laws that Doris Royal is among Nebraka's unique persons.

After laboring for four years alongside Lloyd in the fields, she learned that the "widows tax" would not recognize the years she had spent working on the farm. Saying "There's always been equal rights on the tractor seat," she began a long and arduous campaign to have national estate tax laws changed.

After thousands of hours and letters and dozens of trips to Washington, where she testified before Congress about the devastating efforts of estate taxes on the family farm, Congress, last fall, eliminated the widow's tax and its vast remifications.

It took six years on the trail and Doris deservingly received the Distinguished Service Award from the American Agricultural Editors Association.

The NEBRASKAland Foundation believes that she is most deserving of our state's TRAILBLAZER AWARD.

LAWRENCE YOUNGMAN
NEBRASKALAND TRAILBLAZER

Travel is in the blood of Larry Youngman, he might well be called the father of tourism in Nebraska. Travel has always been a major part of his life both as a reporter for the Omaha World-Herald, and later when he founded Omaha's Travel and Transport.

For 17 years at the World-Herald he reported on life and business in Nebraska and in 1944 he was a war correspondent known for his unforgetable accounts of the war years.

After leaving the World-Herald and starting Travel and Transport he became a leader in the field of tourism and in traveling and discovering Nebraska. He was a founder of the NEBRASKAland Foundation in 1962 and was instrumental in starting the NEBRASKAland Tours in the '60s.

Tourism was a new trail for Nebraska then, and because of his leadership and promotion of Nebraska the NEBRASKAland Foundation proudly presents Larry the TRAILBLAZER AWARD.

MERLYN E. CARLSON
NEBRASKALAND WAGONMASTER

When Merlyn Carlson talks cattle, people listen. As President of the National Cattlemen's Association he stands out in his leadership. He is a nationally known expert in the beef cattle business so vital to Nebraska.

As an active rancher near Lodgepole, he has been active in local, state and national cattle organizations for more than 20 years. Nebraska farmers know him well as President of the Nebraska Stock Growers Association. His roots date back to the 1800's when his grandfather, Frank, immigrated from Sweden to homestead near Lodgepole.

He has served as judge for a variety of cattle shows and continues his work on the refinement of the "Herd Alert" program which the nation's 1.8 million cattle producers updated on current information relating to their industry.

Because of his extensive local, state and national leadership in the cattle industry, the NEBRASKAland Foundation presents its WAGONMASTER AWARD to Merlyn E. Carlson of Lodgepole.

BARRY KENNEDY
NEBRASKALAND WAGONMASTER

In the days of the early pioneers, the Wagonmaster was the man in charge - the leader. It wouldn't be difficult to picture Barry Kennedy in that role. His pioneers are the more than 500,000 members of Jaycees International which Barry leads as President.

A native of Salem, he helped run the family farm near Table Rock. He served our nation in the Vietnam War before joining the Syracuse Jaycees in 1971. It took him just five years to become President of the Nebraska Jaycees. Two years later, he was elected President of the United States Jaycees.

At the age of thirty-five, Barry was elected President of Jaycees International at their 36th World Conference held in Berlin, Germany.

During 1982 he will travel the world, meet heads of state, and visit six continents. He has said one of his goals will be to make more people aware of Nebraska and what it offers.

Because of his international involvement and leadership, and his example of influence for others, the NEBRASKAland Foundation is pleased to present its WAGONMASTER AWARD to Barry Kennedy of Pawnee City.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

Opinion No. 208
February 26, 1982

Dear Senator Wesely:

In response to your request for an opinion from this office, dated January 28, 1982, in regard to the need for the Consumer Protection Act to apply to loan brokers in addition to Neb.Rev.Stat. §§45-189 to 45-193 (Supp. 1981), please be advised that it is the opinion of this office that the Consumer Protection Act should continue to be applicable to loan brokers. In light of our previous response to you in this matter, the possibility exists that a court would hold that a particular activity sought to be stopped pursuant to an action brought under the Consumer Protection Act was already regulated by the Department of Banking and Finance pursuant to Neb.Rev.Stat. §§45-189 et seq. (Supp. 1981), thereby exempting the activity from the coverage of the Consumer Protection Act, even though the Department of Banking and Finance had questionable authority to regulate the particular activity involved.

Although as a practical matter, due to the financial constraints on this office and the limited staff of the Consumer Protection Division of this office, the regulation of loan brokers will be primarily left to the Department of Banking and Finance, there are situations imaginable where the ability of the Attorney General's Office to use civil investigative demands and to seek civil penalties, for which provision is made in the Consumer Protection Act, would be more effective in achieving the desired ends than would the investigatory and enforcement capabilities legislatively authorized for the Department of Banking and Finance under §§45-189 et seq.

If we can be of any further assistance, please advise.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Opinion No. 209

Dear Senator V. Johnson:

You have asked our opinion as to the constitutional validity of LB 665, which would permit a taxpayer entitled to a refund from the Tax Refund Fund, pursuant to Neb.Rev.Stat. §77-27,132 (Reissue 1976), to designate a portion of the refund to be paid as a contribution to the United States Olympic Committee. Section 3 of the bill provides that the Tax Commissioner shall annually transfer to the United States Olympic Committee the total of the amounts so designated.

There are several possible constitutional problems with the bill, but we believe it is necessary to explore only one, that of unreasonable class legislation. The bill would lend the assistance of the state to the fund-raising activities of one organization, and no others. Article III, Section 18 of the Nebraska Constitution prohibits special legislation, and specifically prohibits granting to any corporation, association, or individual any special or exclusive privileges, immunity or franchise. Quite obviously this bill would put the United States Olympic Committee in a special class, and facilitate and promote its fund-raising activities. Worthy as its goals may be, the United States Olympic Committee is not, in the eyes of the law, in a different class, so far as this type of legislation is concerned, from the multitude of other charitable organizations. We are of the opinion that the court would hold the bill invalid on that ground.

There is also a serious question as to whether having the State Treasurer and the Tax Commissioner collect contributions to a private organization, and hold them in trust in the state treasury, is a proper governmental function. If this were a general law, we would explore that question, but in view of the class legislation problem, we do not believe it is necessary to do so.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

March 2, 1982

Dear Senator DeCamp:

After receiving our Opinion No. 202, dated February 22, 1982, concerning the validity of LB 898, you again contacted us for clarification about our position on the bill.

LB 898 would extend the present provisions for the distribution of 70 million dollars in state aid to political subdivisions for another year, fiscal year 1982-83. In our Opinion No. 202 we expressed some qualms about this extention. However, this is not to say that we would bring an action challenging the constitutionality of the bill, as we did with respect to LB 882 and LB 284. We believe that a tenable argument can be made that LB 898 has a rational basis, and, if it is passed, and attacked by some taxpayer or political subdivision, we would expect to defend it. All we intended to say in our February 22 opinion was that the outcome of such a suit might be doubtful. This, of course, is true with respect to many lawsuits.

Very truly yours,

Attorney General

Standing Committee amendments to LB 686:
Req. #2746

1. Insert the following new sections:

"Sec. 10. That section 53-164.01, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1981, be amended to read as follows:

53-164.01. Payment of the tax provided for in section 53-160 on alcoholic liquors shall be paid by the manufacturer or distributor as herein provided. All aforesaid manufacturers or distributors, whether within or without this state, shall, on or before the twenty-fifth day of each calendar month commencing on the twenty-fifth day of the calendar month following the month in which the aforesaid shipments are made, make a report under oath to the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission upon forms to be furnished by the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission for the purpose of showing the exact total amount in gallons of alcoholic liquors or fractional parts thereof shipped by such aforesaid manufacturer or distributor whether within or without the State of Nebraska, during the preceding calendar month. Such report shall also contain a statement of the exact total amount in gallons, or fractional parts thereof, of alcoholic liquors, except beer, shipped to holders of retailer's licenses within this state. All reports submitted by such manufacturer or distributor, as required by the provisions of this section, shall contain such other information as the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission may require. The manufacturer or distributor shall, at the time of the filing of the report, pay to the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission the amount of the tax due on beer shipped to distributors within this state and on alcoholic liquors, except beer, shipped to holders of retailer's licenses within this state at the rate fixed in accordance with the provisions of section

53-160; said tax to be due on the date the aforesaid report is due, less a discount of one per cent of such tax on alcoholic liquors as defined by subdivision (6) of section 53-103, and which discount shall be deducted from the payment of such tax before remittance thereof to the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission, which discount shall be shown in such report to the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission as required in this section, and which discount shall be a commission for the making of such report, for the timely payment of such tax, but if such tax is not paid within the time provided herein, then such discount shall not be allowed and the same shall not be deducted from the payment of such tax.

A penalty of ten per cent of the amount of the tax shall be collected by the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission if the aforesaid report is not filed by the twenty-fifth day of the calendar month or if the tax is not paid to the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission by the twenty-fifth day of the calendar month and in addition thereto, interest on the tax shall be collected at the rate of one per cent per month, or fraction of a month, from the date the tax became due until paid.

No tax shall be levied or collected on alcoholic liquors manufactured within the State of Nebraska and shipped or transported outside the State of Nebraska for sale and consumption outside the State of Nebraska.

In order to insure the payment of all state taxes imposed by law on alcoholic liquors together with all interest and penalties thereon, all persons required to make reports and payment of such tax shall first enter into a surety bond with corporate surety, both such bond form and surety to be approved by the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission. In lieu of such corporate surety bond, there may be filed a personal bond in such form as the commission may prescribe and secured by the pledge of property having a net value over and above any encumbrance or encumbrances thereon at least double the amount of the bond required. Subject to the limitations hereinafter specified, the amount of such bond required of any taxpayer shall be fixed by the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission and may be increased or reduced by it at any time; Provided, that in fixing the amount, the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission shall require a bond in a total amount equal to the amount of the taxpayer's estimated maximum monthly excise tax, ascertained in such manner as the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission may deem proper; and provided further, nothing contained in this section shall be construed to prevent or prohibit the commission from accepting and approving bonds which run for a term longer than the license period. In any event, the amount of such bond required of any one taxpayer shall not be less than one thousand dollars. ~~nor more than three hundred thousand dollars.~~ These bonds shall be filed with the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission.

No person shall order or receive alcoholic liquors in this state which have been shipped directly to him or her from outside this state by any person other than a holder of a permit for a license year issued by the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission. The Nebraska Liquor Control Commission may issue such permits to manufacturers which shall allow the permittee to ship alcoholic liquors to and only to holders of a distributor's license issued under the provisions of this section. A fee of two hundred dollars shall be charged by the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission for each permit issued. The application for such permit and the permit shall be in such form as the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission shall prescribe. The application shall contain all such provisions as the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission shall deem proper and necessary to effectuate the purpose of any section of the Liquor Control Act and the rules and regulations of that commission that apply to manufacturers, and shall include, but without limitation by reason of this special mention, a provision that the permittee in consideration of the issuance of a permit, agrees:

(1) To comply with and be bound by the provisions of this section pertaining to the making and filing of a bond and making and filing of returns, the payment of taxes, penalties, interest, and the keeping of records;

RESOLUTIONS

Introduced by Schmit, 23rd District.

WHEREAS, Nebraska has responsibilities regarding management and disposal of low-level radioactive waste generated by nonfederal activities within its borders; and

WHEREAS, one of the major options under which low-level radioactive waste can be safely and efficiently managed and disposed of on a regional basis is through legislation relating to regional interstate compacts; and

WHEREAS, Nebraska representatives have met and negotiated with two groups of states in the development of such compact legislation which groups included the Mid-West Compact Group of Delaware, Maryland, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Virginia, and Wisconsin, and the Central Interstate Group of Arkansas, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Minnesota, Missouri, and Oklahoma; and

WHEREAS, the Low-Level Radioactive Waste Policy Act, P.L. 96-573, authorizes compact regions to restrict the use of disposal facilities to waste generated within the region by January 1, 1986; and

WHEREAS, in order for Nebraska to provide a facility for its generators of low-level radioactive waste, it is necessary that compact legislation be introduced by the next legislative session supporting one of the two groups of states Nebraska has been negotiating with; and

WHEREAS, Nebraska can more readily identify with the states comprising the Central Interstate Group because of similarities in geographic location and the volume of low-level waste generated by each central state; and

WHEREAS, Nebraska's eligibility to join the Central Interstate Group terminates on January 1, 1984.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-SEVENTH LEGISLATURE, SECOND SESSION:

WHEREAS, the Legislature wishes to make known its care and concern for the victims of crime who may remain unknown or be forgotten; and

WHEREAS, the efforts by the State of Nebraska to provide compensation for victims of crimes deserve recognition; and

WHEREAS, public attention has often been focused upon the criminal defendants, but not upon their innocent victims; and

WHEREAS, such a practice causes victims to feel antagonism and resentment against our American system of justice and causes society as a whole to view the serious problem of crimes in an emotionally charged atmosphere; and

WHEREAS, the criminal justice system needs to be resensitized to the plight of the victims of crime; and

WHEREAS, the Legislature wishes to encourage public awareness of the needs of victims of crime.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-SEVENTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, SECOND SESSION:

RESOLUTIONS

Introduced by Kremer, 34th District; Vickers, 38th District.

WHEREAS, the right to vote is among those most cherished by Americans in general and Nebraskans in particular, and

WHEREAS, Nebraska's system of public power relies on ratepayer's participation in existing governing boards for accountability, and

WHEREAS, in certain areas and situations ratepayers are prevented from participation due to service area boundary and voting area boundary differences, and

WHEREAS, in certain other areas and situations, non-ratepayers do participate in governing the power agency due to differences in voting area and service area boundaries;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-SEVENTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, SECOND SESSION:

1. That the Public Works Committee undertake an examination of the voting structure of public power systems in Nebraska in order to determine whether changes in state law or individual boundaries are needed in order to more fully involve ratepayers in control of the public power systems which service them.

Referred to the Executive Board.

Introduced by Fowler, 27th District; Beutler, 28th District; Burrows, 30th District.

WHEREAS, this decline in FY1981-82 revenues foreshadows lower-than-anticipated receipts for FY1982-83; and

WHEREAS, individual income tax refunds for FY1981-82 may be higher than projected, resulting in further erosion of the General Fund balance; and

WHEREAS, the General Fund balance at the end of February was $29.4 million, $37.8 million less than predicted in the November Report to the Board of Equalization; and

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-SEVENTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, SECOND SESSION:

1. That the Legislature urge Governor Thone to call an emergency meeting of the State Board of Equalization for the purpose of immediately adjusting tax rates to reflect the current fiscal situation and changes in federal tax law.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 210
February 26, 1982

Dear Senator Labedz:

By letter dated February 22, 1982, you requested an opinion from this office in connection with LB 138 and LB 531, each of which would amend the Nebraska Constitution with respect to salaries to be paid state legislators. Essentially, you ask whether the placing of the constitutional amendment encompassed by LB 531 before the voters in the 1982 general election can be conditioned on voter disapproval in the 1982 primary election of the amendment which is the subject of LB 138. Apparently, the condition would be contained in LB 531. We believe that the bill can be so conditioned for the following reasons.

The paramount authority with respect to the manner in which the Legislature may propose amendments to the State Constitution is the Constitution itself, principally Article XVI, Section 1. We note that said provision does not specify any particular method or manner of proposing and submitting constitutional amendments, but is specific only in requiring that three-fifths of the elected legislators approve a proposed amendment, that it be entered on the journal along with the vote, and that it be published in a certain manner prior to the popular vote. On the basis of this provision alone, our Supreme Court has held:

> It is not the duty of the court to suggest methods of submitting constitutional amendments to the vote of the people. The duty of devising and applying such methods is devolved upon the legislature, and unless the method adopted by the legislature is manifestly a violation of the constitution, and unless it clearly appears that the method adopted by the legislature will not make it practicable for the voters to express their judgment as to each amendment proposed, the courts are not at liberty to disregard the will of the legislature.

State v. Winnett, 78 Neb. 379, 394, 110 N.W. 1113 (1907). See, also, Weston v. Ryan, 70 Neb. 211, 97 N.W. 347 (1903).

Viewed in the above light, we believe that the bills in question need not manifest the normal requisites of validity which are required in the case of other legislative enactments. In fact, previous opinions from this office, the most recent of which is attached hereto, have pointed out that while it has been the practice of the Legislature of late to submit constitutional amendments by bill, such is not required. Resolutions were employed in past years.

If it is the will of the Legislature that the amendments contained in LB 531 not be proposed if those contained in LB 138 are first considered and approved by the voters, we find no prohibition in the Constitution against the inclusion of a condition to that effect in LB 531. We are not unmindful of the existence of Neb.Rev.Stat. §§49-201, et seq. (Reissue 1978), but inasmuch as those statutes seem to us to simply restate Article XVI, Section 1, at least with respect to this issue, they compel no different conclusion.

We hasten to point out that not all of the steps leading to proposal, voter approval, and implementation of constitutional amendments are discretionary matters. Not only does Article XVI, Section 1, provide a few specific requirements, but others are contained in Article III, Section 4, and our Supreme Court has held that these two provisions must be read together. Swanson v. State, 132 Neb. 82, 271 N.W. 264 (1937). Additionally, Article IV, Section 8 of the Constitution precludes the Legislature from considering a constitutional amendment during a special session unless that very matter was specified as an item of business in the gubernatorial proclamation calling for the session. State ex rel. Douglas v. State Board of Equalization and Assessment, 205 Neb. 130, 140-145, 286 N.W.2d 729 (1979). However, the dictates of these provisions do not bear on the method by which the Legislature proposes any particular constitutional amendment and have no application in resolving your inquiry.

Sincerely yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS

Section 1. That section 79-403, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended as follows:

79-403. (1) Any freeholder or freeholders, person in possession as vendee pursuant to a contract of sale of the fee, holder of a school land lease under section 72-232, or entrant upon government land who has not yet received a patent therefore may file a petition with the State Board of Education asking to have any tract or tracts of land described therein set off from a Class I, II, III, or VI district in which it is situated and attached to some other district in the petitioner's county of residence or a county adjoining thereto for the purpose of providing a better education for school children. The best educative interest of the petitioner or petitioners shall require a showing of significant differences in the class, accreditation, leadership, management, curricula and/or efficiency of the schools involved. The petition shall state the reasons for the proposed change and shall show with reference to the land of each petitioner: (a) That the land therein described is either owned by the petitioner or petitioners or that he, she, or they hold a school land lease under section 72-232, are in possession or constructive possession as vendee under a contract of sale of the fee simple interest, or have made an entry on government land but have not yet received a patent therefore and that such tract or tracts includes all such contiguous land owned or controlled by each such petitioner; (b) that the district to which the land is to be attached is located in the petitioner's county of residence or a county adjoining thereto; and (c) that the land proposed to be attached has children of school age who have resided thereon with their parents or guardians for not less than forty days prior to filing the petition; and (d) that such petition is approved by a majority of the members of the school board or board of education of the district to which such land is sought to be attached.

The State Board of Education may, after a public hearing on the petition, thereupon change the boundaries of the districts so as to set off the land described in the petition and attach it to such adjoining district as is called for in the petition whenever the State Board of Education deems it in the best educational interest of the children of the petitioner or petitioners so to do. Notice of the filing of the petition and hearing thereon before the State Board of Education shall be given at least ten days prior to the date of such hearing by one publication in a legal newspaper of general circulation in each district, which notice shall designate the territory to be transferred. When the tract or tracts of land attached is not contiguous to the receiving district, the transportation allowance provisions of section 79-490 shall not extend beyond the boundary line that existed prior to the attachment of such tract or tracts.

Appeals may be taken from the action of the State Board of Education to the district court of the county in which the real estate is located within twenty days after entry of such action on the records of the board. Transfer may be made from an accredited district to an accredited Class VI district which is served by a nonaccredited Class I district if any student or students the petition concerns attend the high school. (2) Any freeholder or freeholders, person in possession or constructive possession as vendee pursuant to a contract of sale of the fee, holder of a school land lease under section 72-232, or entrant upon government land who has not yet received a patent therefore may file a petition with a board consisting of the county superintendent, county clerk, and county treasurer, asking to have any tract or tracts of land described therein set off from a nonaccredited Class I, II, II, or VI district in which it is situated an attached to an accredited district in the county of the residence of the petitioner or an adjoining county thereto, and when such petition is for the transfer of land from a Class I district which is part of a Class VI district, the petitioner shall be allowed to have such land attached to an adjoining accredited Class II, III, IV or V district. The petition shall state the reasons for the proposed change and shall show with reference to the land of each petitioner: (a) That the land therein described is either owned by the petitioner or petitioners and that he, she, or they hold a school land lease under section 72-232, are in possession or constructive possession as vendee under a contract of sale of the fee simple interest, or have made an entry on government land but have not yet received a patent therefore and that such tract or tracts includes all such contiguous land owned or controlled by each such petitioner; (b) that the land proposed to be attached has children of school age who have resided thereon with their parents or guardians for not less than forty days prior to filing the petition; (c) that the land described therein is located in a Class I, II, III, or VI school district as provided in this subsection (2), and is to be attached to an accredited school district in the county of the residence of the petitioner or an adjoining county thereto; and (d) that such petition is approved by a majority of the members of the school board or boards of education of the district to which such land is sought to be attached. If the land sought to be transferred pursuant to this subsection is to be set off from a Class I, II, III, or VI district and attached to an accredited Class VI district, the land shall not be set off and attached to such

Class VI District unless the petition states that the land will be attached. Failure of such children to attend a public school in the district to which the land is attached shall invalidate the transfer from the date of approval. The petition shall be verified by the oath of the petitioner or petitioners. The board shall, after a public hearing on the petition, and a determination that all requirements of this subsection have been complied with thereupon change the boundaries of the districts so as to set off the land described in the petition and attach it to such adjoining district as is called for in the petition. Notice of the filing of the petition and hearing thereon before the board shall be given at least ten days prior to the date of such hearing, by one publication in a legal newspaper of general circulation in each district, and by posting a notice on the outer door of the schoolhouse in each district affected thereby, which notice shall designate the territory to be transferred. Petitions requesting transfers of property across county lines shall be addressed jointly to the county superintendents of the counties concerned, and the petitions shall be acted upon by the county superintendents, county clerks, and county treasurers of the counties involved as one board, with the county superintendent of the county from which the real estate is sought to be transferred acting as chairperson of the board. When the tract or tracts of land attached is not contiguous to the receiving district, the transportation allowance provisions of section 79-490 shall not extend beyond the boundary line that existed prior to the attachment of such tract or tracts. Appeals may be taken from the action of such board, or when such board fails to agree, to the district court of the county in which the real estate is located within twenty days after entry of such action on the records of the board by the county clerk of the county in which the real estate is located or within twenty days after March 15 if the board fails to act upon such petition as provided in section 79-1103.05, in the same manner as appeals are now taken from the action of the county board in the allowance or disallowance of claims against the county.

Section 2. That section 79-1108, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

79-1108. No transfer of property from an accredited school district to a nonaccredited school district of any class shall be permitted, except that as provided in section 79-403 transfers may be made from an accredited district to an accredited Class VI district which is served by a nonaccredited Class I district if any student or students the petition concerns attend the high school. The provision shall apply to all transfers made prior as well as subsequent to the effective date of this act.

Section 3. That original sections 79-403 and 79-1108, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943 are repealed.

Introduced by DeCamp, 40th District.

WHEREAS, recent published reports on bid-rigging of highways and airports have disclosed that Nebraska is one of ten states heavily involved over the past five years in substantial bid-rigging, and

WHEREAS, statements before the Public Works Committee in conjunction with statements from the Justice Department that "Rigged-Bids" means an increase of 6% to 10% average overcharge in the cost of construction projects thereby meaning that Nebraskans have probably paid, out of taxpayers funds, an additional minimum of $60 million to $150 million additional dollars to contractors in the last five years strictly as a result of "Rigged-bids," and

WHEREAS, additional facts as to the extent and depth and seriousness of the bid-rigging problem are still unknown or undisclosed including actual length of time the bid-rigging has been going on in all the states, actual time it has been going on in Nebraska, names and numbers of individuals involved in bid-rigging in Nebraska, involvement or possible participation of any public officials, elected officials, employees of the State, and

WHEREAS, Nebraska state laws with respect to state employees or officials being involved in bid-rigging have minimal or almost non-existent penalties and therefore, almost non-existent protections for the public against bid-rigging in Nebraska, and

WHEREAS, one of the major penalties for contractors involved in bid-rigging is to prevent companies involved in bid-rigging from participating for a period of time in new bids thereby, in a state like Nebraska, creating the additional problem of lack of competition in bidding and therefore, potentially higher costs in Nebraskans, and

WHEREAS, it may be possible for Nebraskans to recover part of the amounts already lost from bonding companies or insurance companies or directly from the companies themselves involved in the bid-rigging if an actual determination of individuals involved and the amounts involved can be established, and

WHEREAS, any changes in state legislation on the subject of bid-rigging, highway construction, and all related facets of this problem can only be intelligently written or prescribed once the full extent and nature of the problem is clearly identified.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-SEVENTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, SECOND SESSION:

1. That a special legislative investigative committee be established and hereby is established for the purposes of in-depth investigation and study of the entire area and spectrum of bid-rigging to include determination whether there was participation by any state employees or publicly elected officials at any level of government in the State of Nebraska and to determine whether there was a de-facto participation or allowance of the Nebraska bid-rigging by a lack of adequate supervision by any elected public official or state employee;
2. That the Legislature's Executive Board be instructed to provide to said investigative committee all assistance as deemed necessary and proper by a majority vote of said investigative committee as it pursues its work;
3. That this investigative committee be instructed to begin work immediately so as to be able, if at all possible, to report in detail to the 1983 Legislature as to what exactly occurred including all individuals involved and losses to the State and what proposals the committee has for preventing similar occurrences in the future through proper legislation and supervision;
4. That the investigative rules of the Nebraska Legislature as reflected in the Rules of the Legislature be deemed to apply to this special investigative committee and that the investigative committee should consist of the following members: Chairman of the Banking, Commerce and Insurance Committee, Chairman of the Agriculture and Environment Committee, Chairman of the Urban Affairs Committee, Chairman of the Public Works Committee and two (2) other members to be approved by the Committee, Chairman of the Judiciary Committee and one (1) other member to be approved by the Committee, Chairman of the Government, Military and Veterans Affairs Committee and one (1) other member to be approved by the Committee.

Laid over.

Upon the passage of this act all of the contributions made by an officer prior to the passage of this act will be transferred to the officer's retirement fund. Regular interest will begin to accrue on the contributions transferred into the fund. Such funds shall be invested in the manner prescribed in section 16 of this act.

Section 5. Each police officer participating in the retirement system established pursuant to this act shall contribute to the retirement system a sum equal to six per cent of his or her salary. Such payment shall be made by regular payroll deductions from his or her periodic salary and shall be credited to his or her employee account on a monthly basis. Each such account shall also be credited with regular interest.

In such case the retirement value of the officer's retirement account who died before the age of fifty-five years and sixty will be retained by the city.

Section 10. In case of death, while in the line of duty, of any police officer or in case death is caused by or is the result of injuries received while in line of duty, then the regular retirement pension of fifty per cent of the average pay for the five years preceeding the officer's death shall be paid to the widow, or upon her remarriage or death, to his minor child or children during said child or children's minority subject to deduction of the amounts paid under the Nebraska Workmen's Compensation Act on account of death, as provided in Section 13.

Notwithstanding any prior provisions of this act, no police officer shall be entitled during any period of temporary disability to receive in full both his or her salary and his or her benefits under the Nebraska Workmen's Compensation Act. All Nebraska Workmen's Compensation Act benefits shall be payable in full to such police officer as provided in such act, but all amounts paid by the city or its insurer under this act to any disabled police officer entitled to receive a salary during such disability shall be considered as payments on account of such salary and shall be credited thereon. The remaining balance of such salary, if any, shall be payable as otherwise provided in this act.

Section 13. Such election may be made by the officer anytime prior to the payment of the pension benefits. The retirement value shall consist of the accumulated value at the time of payment of the employee account together with a vested percentage of the employer account.

Section 14. A retirement committee shall be established to supervise the general operation of the retirement system established pursuant to this act. The governing body of the city shall continue to be responsible for the general administration of such retirement system unless specific functions or all functions with regard to the administration of the retirement system are delegated, by ordinance, to the retirement committee.

Section 15. Each retirement committee established pursuant to section 14 of this act shall consist of members from both the police force and designees of the city council. The committee shall consist of six members of which four members shall be selected by the officers from the police force of the city. Two members shall be designated by the city council. Section 17. It shall be the duty of the retirement committee to;

(1) Provide each employee a summary of plan eligibility requirements and benefit provisions;

(2) Provide, within thirty days after a request is made by a participant, a statement describing the amount of benefits such participant is eligible to receive;

"Sec. 2. That section 29-2219, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

29-2219. (1) A municipal court may suspend sentence, place a defendant on probation and determine the conditions and period of probation, which period shall not exceed, in the case of any defendant convicted of an offense less than a felony, two years for the first offense and five years for a second or subsequent offense.

(2) Except as provided in subsection (5) of this section, the conditions of probation, as referred to in subsection (1) of this section, shall be such as the court shall in its discretion prescribe. Such probationary conditions may include, among other conditions, any or several of the following: That the probationer shall: (a) Indulge in no unlawful, disorderly, injurious, or vicious habits; (b) avoid places or persons of disreputable or harmful character; (c) report to the probation officer as directed by the court or probation officer; (d) permit the probation officer to visit him or her in a reasonable manner at his or her place of abode or elsewhere; (e) answer any reasonable inquiries on the part of the probation officer concerning his or her conduct or condition; (f) work faithfully at suitable employment; (g) remain or reside within a specified place or locality; (h) abstain from the use of alcoholic beverages if the use of the same contributed to his or her offense; (i) pay in one or several sums a fine imposed at the time of being placed on probation; (j) make reparation or restitution to the aggrieved parties for actual damage or losses caused by his or her offense; and (k) support his or her ~~wife~~ spouse or children.

(3) The court or a magistrate thereof may (a) modify the conditions and the period of probation referred to in subsections (1) and (2) of this section, (b) in case of the violation of such probationary conditions, upon motion and showing by affidavit of the prosecuting attorney, issue a warrant for the arrest of the probationer, (c) at any time discharge the probationer, and (d) in case of the violation of such probationary conditions, impose any penalty which it might have imposed before placing the defendant on probation; Provided, if committed, he or she be committed to an institution authorized by law to receive commitments.

(4) If a probationer without permission disappears, or departs from the jurisdiction of the court, the time during which he or she keeps his or her whereabouts hidden or remains away from the jurisdiction of the court may be added to the original period of probation provided for by subsection (1) of this section.

(5) In all cases in which the offender is guilty of assault or battery and the victim is the offender's spouse, a condition of probation shall be mandatory counseling as provided by sections 42-901 to 42-927.

Sec. 3. That section 29-2260, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

29-2260. (1) Whenever a person is adjudicated delinquent or in need of special supervision as defined in section 43-201, his or her disposition shall be governed by the provisions of Chapter 43, article 2.

(2) Whenever a court considers sentence for an offender convicted of either a misdemeanor or a felony for which mandatory imprisonment is not specifically required, the court may withhold sentence of imprisonment unless, having regard to the nature and circumstances of the crime and the history, character and condition of the offender, the court finds that imprisonment of the offender is necessary for protection of the public because:

(a) The risk is substantial that during the period of probation the offender will engage in additional criminal conduct;

(b) The offender is in need of correctional treatment that can be provided most effectively by commitment to a correctional facility; or

(c) A lesser sentence will depreciate the seriousness of the offender's crime or promote disrespect for law.

(3) The following grounds, while not controlling the discretion of the court, shall be accorded weight in favor of withholding sentence of imprisonment:

(a) The crime neither caused nor threatened serious harm;

(b) The offender did not contemplate that his or her crime would cause or threaten serious harm;

(c) The offender acted under strong provocation;

(d) Substantial grounds were present tending to excuse or justify the crime, though failing to establish a defense;

(e) The victim of the crime induced or facilitated commission of the crime;

(f) The offender has compensated or will compensate the victim of his or her crime for the damage or injury the victim sustained;

(g) The offender has no history of prior delinquency or criminal activity and has led a law-abiding life for a substantial period of time before the commission of the crime;

(h) The crime was the result of circumstances unlikely to recur;

(i) The character and attitudes of the offender indicate that he or she is unlikely to commit another crime;

(j) The offender is likely to respond affirmatively to probationary treatment; and

(k) Imprisonment of the offender would entail excessive hardship to his or her dependents.

(4) When an offender who has been convicted of a crime is not sentenced to imprisonment, the court may sentence him or her to probation.".

2. On page 6, line 6, and page 12, line 19,

WHEREAS, a letter of 2 March 1982 from State Tax Commissioner, Donald S. Leuenberger to Senator John DeCamp stated as follows: ''In direct answer to your question, I see no possibility at this time that the Governor's original budget recommendations or the Budget Resolution recently adopted by your body can be funded at current income tax rates.'', and

WHEREAS, many members of the Legislature have supported the target figure of $758 million amended to $763 million as outlined in LR 215 on the premise that the resolution figure of $763 million could be totally funded without an increase in tax rates as indicated by the Governor and the Tax Commissioner repeatedly during the special session of the Legislature and subsequent to that time, and

WHEREAS, the only option open to the Legislature if tax rates are to be maintained at current levels is to dramatically reduce expenditures of state government to live within the funds available from an economy in a near depression condition, and

WHEREAS, a hold-the-line budget or zero budget increase are probably the only methods of maintaining current tax rates and preventing a tax rate increase, and

WHEREAS, the proposed budget figures of the Governor would result in major increases in budgets for some entities such as the University of Nebraska and State Employees Salaries, and major cuts and no increases in other parts, such as funds provided for property tax relief and funding of elementary and secondary education, of the budget, and

WHEREAS, all segments involved in the budget should, to the degree possible, share in budget cuts or denial of budget increases in their respective budgets.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-SEVENTH LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, SECOND SESSION:

1. That the Legislature hereby indicates that its new decreased target figure for a no increase budget is hereby targeted at $736 million which is an approximate decrease of $27 million from the target figure established in LR 215.
2. That this Legislature hereby indicates that if it determines to depart from the zero funds increase budget that it will attempt to give equal and fair treatment to other major segments of the budget so as not to cause increases in property taxes.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT - Print in Journal

Mr. DeCamp asked unanimous consent to print the following letter from the Nebraska Department of Revenue in the Journal. No objections. So ordered.

March 2, 1982

Dear Senator DeCamp:

In direct answer to your question, I see no possibility at this time that the Governor's original budget recommendations or the Budget Resolution recently adopted by your body can be funded at current income tax rates. I emphasize rates since, as is well known, the recent and future scheduled federal individual income tax rate reductions proportionately reduce revenue derived from the current state income tax rate as well. As I have testified, we can expect to lose approximately $40 million in otherwise anticipated General Fund revenues from the July 1, 1982 federal income tax reduction alone. An increase in the state individual income tax rate from 15 percent to 16 percent will produce approximately $19 million—less than one-half of the projected loss. Even at 16 percent, a substantial reduction in the state income tax otherwise due will occur for individual state income taxpayers.

Either the budget targets must be reduced or the income tax rate must be increased—both options assume passage of the corporate and cigarette tax legislation as presented by the Revenue Committee. I testified in detail to the same on February 16, 1982, to the joint Revenue and Appropriations Committees. It is my understanding that Governor Thone has requested Budget Director Larry Bare to review all possible areas for reduction to the General Fund Budget.

In my remarks to the Revenue and Appropriations Committees, I outlined the current economic outlook as it then existed including the larger than projected national decline in the fourth quarter of 1981, unprecedented high real interest rates, a volatile money supply, a drop in real net farm income unseen in the postwar era, and the effects of the significant changes in tax structure occasioned by the Economic Recovery Tax Act. All of these factors led me to reduce estimated ending unobligated General Fund balances by $10 to $16 million for fiscal year 1981-82. The ending balance for fiscal year 1981-82 is at the same time the beginning balance for fiscal year 1982-83.

I hope I have answered your question forthrightly. If you should desire additional comment, please don't hesitate to ask.

Sincerely,
(Signed) Donald S. Leuenberger
State Tax Commissioner

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

Opinion No. 211

Dear Senator Wesely:

In your letter of February 26, 1982, you indicated that there seemed to be some confusion regarding the responsibilities of state agencies for the collection of state severance tax, oil and gas conservation assessments, and royalty payments from school and public lands. You ask for our opinion on these matters, because they relate to three legislative proposals currently before the Legislature, and you are considering an amendment to some of those bills to address problems related to the collection of these taxes and royalties, if such an amendment is necessary. We have detected no confusion, so far as the statutes are concerned, and all we can do is set forth the statutory provisions involved.

The oil and gas severance tax is provided for by Neb.Rev.Stat. §§57-701 to 57-714 (Reissue 1978), as amended. Section 57-704 provides for the filing of monthly reports or returns with the Tax Commissioner. Neb.Rev.Stat. §57-705 (Supp. 1981) provides that all severance taxes shall be paid to the Tax Commissioner. Section 57-709 authorizes the Tax Commissioner to bring actions for the collection of due and delinquent taxes. Section 57-712 makes it his duty to supervise and enforce the collection of all taxes due under §§57-701 to 57-714. Section 57-714 permits the Attorney General or the county attorney of any county where the natural resources are located to bring an action to enjoin the severance of oil products while there is a delinquency in any report or the payment of any tax, penalty, or cost required by §§57-701 to 57-714.

Neb.Rev.Stat. §57-919(2) (Supp. 1981) makes provision for an assessment on the value at the well of oil and gas produced, saved, and sold or transported from premises in Nebraska where produced, the sums collected to be credited to the Oil and Gas Conservation Fund. The Oil and Gas Conservation Commission fixes the amount of the assessment, and formerly was charged by §57-919 with the duty of collecting it. However, that section was amended in 1980, and now provides that it shall be the duty of the Tax Commissioner to make collection of such assessments.

Neb.Rev.Stat. §57-218 (Reissue 1978) provides:

> The governing board of all lands of the State of Nebraska, except the Board of Educational Lands and Funds, and the governing board of all cities, town, counties, public power districts, school districts and all other governmental subdivisions of the State of Nebraska are respectively authorized and empowered to lease lands under their control for oil and gas exploration and development.

We find no statutory provision for anyone else to collect the royalties from leases entered into pursuant to that section, so presumably they should be collected by the lessors.

Neb.Rev.Stat. §72-901 (Reissue 1976) authorizes the Board of Educational Lands and Funds to lease "any school and public lands belonging to the state and under its control" for oil and gas exploration. Again, we find no provision for anyone other than the Board to collect the royalties, and it would appear to be its responsibility.

Very truly yours,
PAUL L. DOUGLAS
Attorney General

(2) Any person, firm, or corporation, their agents, employees, or servants who shall violate the provisions of sections 66-445 to 66-466, or who shall violate any rule or regulation adopted and promulgated under such sections, for which a penalty is not ~~elsewhere~~ provided in another section, shall be deemed guilty of a Class II misdemeanor. As part of the judgment of conviction, the trial judge may order that the license or permit of the person so convicted shall be revoked, and in such case the court shall forthwith transmit to the administrator a certified copy of such judgment of conviction. Upon receipt of the certified copy of the judgment of conviction, the administrator shall cancel the license for the period of time that the court directs in the judgment. When the administrator cancels any distributor's license in the manner this section directs, then all books containing invoices of credit held by such distributor shall be accounted for and surrendered to the administrator. Upon conviction in any court within the state of operating upon the public highways thereof any motor vehicle by using therein tax credit gasoline, the trial judge shall suspend the operator's driver's license of such convicted person for a period of time not less than twelve months.

Sec. 5. That section 66-624, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

66-624. If any special fuel dealer, whether or not he or she is licensed as such, fails, neglects, or refuses to file a special fuel tax return when due, the motor fuel tax administrator shall, on the basis of information available to him or her, determine the tax liability of the special fuel dealer for the period during which no return was filed. He or she shall add to the tax, to be determined by the motor fuel tax administrator, an administrative penalty of one thousand dollars ~~the penalty~~ and interest provided in section ~~66-621~~ 45-104.01 as such rate may from time to time be adjusted by the Legislature, except that such penalty may be waived or reduced at the discretion of the Tax Commissioner. An assessment made by the administrator, pursuant to this section or to section 66-623, shall be presumed to be correct, and in any case ~~where~~ when the validity of the assessment is questioned, the burden shall be on the person who challenges the assessment to establish by a preponderance of the evidence that it is erroneous or excessive, as the case may be.

Sec. 6. Any person who owns or operates one or more motor vehicles which are not used for commercial purposes and which are propelled by special fuels may elect to receive a special fuels tax prepaid user permit and prepay an annual in lieu of special fuels tax fee for the special fuels delivered into such vehicles.

Sec. 7. Any person who desires to make the election pursuant to section 6 of this act shall file a notice of such election with the Department of Revenue. Such election shall not become effective until the department is satisfied that he or she has complied with all of the conditions of sections 6 to 9 of this act and all rules and regulations adopted and promulgated under sections 6 to 9 of this act. Such election when made shall continue in force and effect for the calendar year for which the permit is issued. The department shall prescribe the contents and form of such notice of election and such other rules and regulations as may be necessary for the proper administration of sections 6 to 10 of this act.

Sec. 8. Any person making the election under section 6 of this act to receive a special fuels tax prepaid user permit shall pay the in lieu of special fuels tax fee in the amount prescribed in Column B for each motor vehicle based on the annual mileage of the motor vehicle appearing in Column A.

Column A	Column B
Less then 10,000	$60
10,001 through 15,000	$90
15,001 through 20,000	$120

The fee shall be increased by thirty dollars for each additional five thousand miles, or portion thereof, for which the motor vehicle was driven annually. Each applicant shall, when making application, report the current odometer reading of the motor vehicle and estimate the mileage for the motor vehicle for the calendar year covered by the permit. If at the end of the calendar year for which the permit was issued the actual mileage of the motor vehicle is less than or greater than the estimated mileage reported for that period and the difference affects the amount of the fee provided by this section, the difference shall be credited on the application for renewal of the permit for the succeeding calendar year or paid to the Department of Revenue within thirty days after the calendar year for which the permit was issued or after the vehicle is sold. Any person failing to pay such amount shall be guilty of a Class II misdemeanor.

All receipts from the in lieu of special fuels tax fee shall be deposited in the Highway Trust Fund.

Sec. 9. Upon payment of the required fee under section 8 of this act, the person making the election provided under section 6 of this act shall be issued a permit by the Department of Revenue to have special fuels delivered tax free into the motor vehicle for which the permit was issued. Such permit shall be in the form of a gummed sticker prepared and distributed by the department and shall be placed in the lower left hand corner of the windshield of the motor vehicle for which it was issued. The sticker shall provide a space upon which shall be printed the license number of the motor vehicle for which such sticker was issued, the calendar year for which the permit was issued, and the expiration date of the permit. All permits issued under sections 6 to 8 of this act shall be nontransferable between persons or motor vehicles. In the event the motor vehicle is sold or otherwise not operated upon the highways of this state by the applicant for the remainder of the calendar year for which the permit was issued, such applicant may apply for a refund with the department. The amount of the refund shall be determined by prorating the original fee paid when such permit was issued over the number of months for which the permit was in force. The applicant for the refund shall state the actual number of miles which the motor vehicle was driven and the amount of refund shall be adjusted by any difference in the fee for the actual mileage driven and the original fee paid.

Sec. 10. Any person who is not licensed pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 66, article 4 or 6, who has unlawfully failed to pay any tax levied under such articles for fuels purchased or consumed prior to the effective date of this act, and who pays the tax prior to January 1, 1983, shall not be subject to any interest or penalty for failure to properly pay such tax. This section shall not apply to any person who has received a notice of audit from the Department of Revenue or the Internal Revenue Service of the United States for the period or periods during which such tax was required to be paid.

Sec. 11. That original sections 60-312, 66-434, and 66-624, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, section 66-466, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1980, and section 60-302, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1981, and also section 66-439, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, are repealed.".

RESOLUTION

Introduced by Cullan, 49th District; Koch, 12th District.

WHEREAS, it is essential that this and future generations of youth be given the fullest opportunity to learn and develop their intellectual and mental capacities and skills; and

WHEREAS, that to achieve these ends it is of the utmost importance that students attending institutions of higher education in Nebraska have reasonable alternatives to enhance their financial access to such institutions; and

WHEREAS, that proposed cuts in student aid and student loan programs at the federal level threaten to limit access to institutions of higher education to only those individuals who can afford it; and

WHEREAS, a study of financial assistance available to students attending institutions of higher education in Nebraska should include an investigation of the proposed changes in federal student aid programs and the impact of these changes on the students of Nebraska, and a determination as to the feasibility of establishing a program at the state level to supplement federal guaranteed higher education loan programs, other student loan programs, and grant or scholarship programs. This study would examine the funding, administration, organization, and authority of such a program as it would affect the access of students to sources of educational assistance.

The White House
Washington

February 26, 1982

I am delighted to join the people of Nebraska as you celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of your State Capitol Building.

This golden anniversary is symbolic of the important role Nebraska has played in our national history. The Capitol building represents a people whose past as pioneers, homesteaders, and participants in the westward movement has made them forever a part of our heritage.

The "Tower of the Plains" stands as an inspiring monument to the history, aspirations, and character of the people of Nebraska. The Capitol is a building of singular beauty that houses a unique institution, our country's only unicameral legislature.

Fifty years ago, Nebraska dedicated this outstanding building to the memory of Nebraskans who sacrificed their lives to defend the nation and preserve freedom during World War I. All Americans take great pride in the commitment and spirit of the patriotic Nebraskans memorialized within the Capitol walls.

It is most fitting that you commemorate this significant hallmark in the history of you State. Congratulations on this festive occasion and may the values represented by the Nebraska Capitol always be a part of our American life.
